From the Editor

John Green

Welcome to the 30th issue of ReSolution® in which we draw on the experience and expertise of leading experts in the field to bring you commentary, articles and reviews on topical matters relating to domestic and international dispute resolution.

In this issue we take a closer look at the enforcement of foreign arbitration awards in Australia following a failed contract agreement between Energy City Qatar Holding Company and Hub Street Equipment. We also look at a case where, on a rare occasion, the English Court was willing to rectify an insurance policy to recognise an arbitration clause agreed pre-contract.

In Resolution in Brief, Jackie Li takes us through the recent decision of Selevision Saudi Co v BelN Media Group [2021] EWHC 2802 (Comm) in which the English High Court held that there is no jurisdiction to permit a counterclaim in proceedings to enforce a New York convention award pursuant to the English Arbitration Act given the "streamline" proceedings. Hannah Aziz's article explores what a model clause is, how it operates and why it is vital for parties, ensuring easy access to efficient and effective dispute resolution processes.

As always, I wish to take this opportunity to thank all our contributors. We are most grateful for the support we receive from dispute resolution professionals, law firms, and publishers, locally and overseas, that allows us to share with you papers and articles of a world class standard, and to bring you a broad perspective on the law and evolving trends in the delivery and practice of domestic and international dispute resolution.

Contributions of articles, papers, and commentary for future issues of ReSolution® are always welcome. I do hope you find this issue interesting and useful. Please feel free to distribute ReSolution® to your friends and colleagues – they are most welcome to contact us if they wish to receive our publications directly.

-Editor

Warmest regards,

John Green Editor

