Government Bill

As reported from the Māori Affairs Committee

Commentary

Recommendation

The Māori Affairs Committee has examined the Maraeroa A and B Blocks Claims Settlement Bill and the Maraeroa A and B Blocks Incorporation Bill, and recommends that they be passed with the amendments shown.

Background

The Maraeroa A and B Blocks Incorporation Bill is a private bill, to implement parts of the deed of settlement relating to the post-settlement governance arrangements for the management of the Maraeroa A and B Blocks, which would be given effect by the Maraeroa A and B Blocks Claims Settlement Bill.

For brevity, our report to the House comments on the two bills together.

Introduction

The Maraeroa A and B Blocks Claims Settlement Bill would give effect to the deed of settlement entered into by the Crown and the descendants of the original owners of Maraeroa A and B Blocks on 12 March 2011 for the final settlement of historical claims for breaches of the Treaty of Waitangi. The bill also records the apology of the Crown to the descendants of the original owners of Maraeroa A and B Blocks. The Maraeroa A and B Blocks Claims Settlement Bill includes only those elements of redress in the settlement package for which legislative authority is required. The deed of settlement sets out in full the redress provided to the descendants of the original owners of the Maraeroa A and B Blocks.

The Maraeroa A and B Blocks are located south-west of Te Kuiti. The descendants of the original owners of Maraeroa A and B Blocks are affiliated to a number of iwi, including Ngāti Rereahu, Ngāti Tūwharetoa, Maniapoto, and Raukawa.

The Maraeroa A and B Blocks Incorporation Bill is a private bill, which would establish the Maraeroa A and B Blocks Incorporation and apply specific provisions of Part 13 of Te Ture Whenua Maori Act 1993 to the incorporation.

Definition of the settling group

Clause 11 of the Maraeroa A and B Blocks Claims Settlement Bill defines the settling group. We consider that the current definition in the bill is not sufficiently clear to identify the settling group with legal certainty. We therefore recommend amending the clause to include citations of the dates and minute book references for the relevant judgments and orders made by the Native Land Court.

Calculation of Crown forest licence rental proceeds

Clause 72(3) of the Maraeroa A and B Blocks Claims Settlement Bill provides for the calculation of rental proceeds from the Crown Forestry Rental Trust. The trustees of the Maraeroa A and B Settlement Trust are confirmed beneficiaries in relation to licensed land within the Pureora North Crown forest. The calculation of rental proceeds is already provided for in the Crown Forestry Rental Trust deed, so we recommend deleting clause 72(3) as superfluous.

Comprehensive settlement of Maniapoto claims

The Maniapoto Māori Trust Board expressed support for the settlement bill on the basis of its understanding that it will not affect the quantum of the Maniapoto comprehensive claims. We are assured that this bill relates only to the settlement of claims relating to the Maraeroa A and B Blocks and will not affect the quantum of any future settlement of Maniapoto's historical claims for breaches of the Treaty of Waitangi.

Maraeroa A and B Blocks Incorporation Bill

Pursuant to the Standing Orders we have considered the preamble of the Maraeroa A and B Blocks Incorporation Bill, and consider the statements in it have been proved to our satisfaction subject to the correction noted below. We acknowledge that the proposals set out in the bill could not be achieved other than by legislation.

Amendment to preamble

Recital (2) of the preamble of the Maraeroa A and B Blocks Incorporation Bill as introduced incorrectly refers to "attachment 4 to the documents schedule". We recommend an amendment to the preamble to refer to "part 4 of the attachments to the deed of settlement".

Constitution and operation of the Incorporation

We have considered the constitution and operation of the Maraeroa A and B Incorporation, which would be established by this private bill. Specific provisions of Part 13 of Te Ture Whenua Maori Act 1993, concerning the constitution, powers, and operations of Māori incorporations, would apply to the incorporation. We note, however, that the existing legislative mechanism is inappropriate as some of the provisions of Part 13 are inconsistent with the post-settlement governance structure contemplated by the deed of settlement.

We note that the trustees sought a governance structure on a similar model to that of the management committee for the Maraeroa C Block. The Māori incorporation established by the bill would have one share held by the trustees on behalf of the settling group. The constitution of the incorporation is provided through the deed of settlement.

Committee process

The Maraeroa A and B Blocks Claims Settlement Bill and the Maraeroa A and B Blocks Incorporation Bill were referred to the committee on 8 March 2012. The closing date for submissions was 18 April 2012. We received and considered one submission from an interested group.

We received advice from the Office of Treaty Settlements.

	Maraeroa A and B Blocks Claims Settlement Bill Preamble
	Schedule 2 57 Overlay site
	Schedule 3 58 Cultural redress properties
	Preamble
	Background
(1)	The Treaty of Waitangi was signed in 1840. The terms of the Treaty of Waitangi in English and Māori are set out in Schedule 1 of the Treaty of Waitangi Act 1975:
(2)	Recitals (3) to (27) of this Preamble present, in summary form, the background to the Maraeroa A and B blocks historical claim and the historical account that are set out in the deed of settlement:
	Maraeroa A and B blocks	10
(3)	The Maraeroa A and B blocks were part of the Maraeroa block, a subdivision of the Taupōnuiatia West block, which was part of Te Rohe Pōtae district:
(4)	The people of the Maraeroa A and B blocks comprise hapū affiliating to Ngāti Rereahu, Ngāti Maniapoto, Ngāti Tūwharetoa, Raukawa, and others. Maraeroa is the location of significant wāhi tapu for some of these iwi. The land upon which the people of the Maraeroa A and B blocks settled and exercised kaitiakitanga was an area regarded as a kono kai (food basket) that provided a wide range of foods and resources for all of the iwi of the surrounding district. The area was shared with many iwi, who were able to come and go harvesting food:	20
(5)	The people of the Maraeroa A and B blocks held their land under customary tenure and it was occupied by whānau and hapū in a system of overlapping use rights. Along with other Māori within Te Rohe Pōtae, the people of the Maraeroa A and B blocks had only limited involvement with the Crown until the second half of the nineteenth century:	25
(6)	Te Rohe Pōtae From 1862, Māori land was subject to native land legislation, which established the Native I and Court to determine	30

- the owners of Māori land "according to Native Custom" and to convert customary title into title derived from the Crown:
- (7) In 1883, as part of their efforts to control land alienation, Māori with claims to the Maraeroa A and B blocks were among Te Rohe Pōtae Māori who petitioned the Government to replace the Native Land Court with a system of land administration to give Māori more control. The Government refused to abolish the Native Land Court but passed the Native Committees Act 1883, providing elected Māori committees with the opportunity to make recommendations to the Native Land Court on matters of customary title:
- (8) Māori from Te Rohe Pōtae district favoured leasing their land. However, the Crown favoured purchasing over leasing and the Native Land Alienation Restriction Act 1884 (and later legislation) gave the Crown a monopoly right of purchasing land in Te Rohe Pōtae. The Crown's sole right to acquire land in Te Rohe Pōtae area, including the Maraeroa A and B blocks, appears to have been in place until 1909 except for a brief period in 1888 and 1889:

Complex title investigations

- (9) Maraeroa was within Taupōnuiatia, the first of the large Te Rohe Pōtae blocks to come before the Native Land Court. The application for the Taupōnuiatia block was made in October 1885 by Ngāti Tūwharetoa. In February 1887, the court made an initial title determination for Maraeroa, which was finalised in September 1887 as part of the wider Taupōnuiatia title determination. The court awarded Maraeroa, estimated to be 41 245 acres, to hapū who claimed through the tupuna Tia and Tūwharetoa:
- (10) The court's decision in 1887 caused disaffection amongst 30 some hapū. Applications for a rehearing were declined by the court and some Māori petitioned Parliament for a rehearing. A key issue for these Māori was the location of the boundary between the Maraeroa and Pouakani blocks. On 9 July 1889, the Government appointed the Taupōnuiatia Royal Commission to inquire into, among other matters, the boundary between the Maraeroa and Pouakani blocks. The commission completed its report on 17 August 1889 and its findings were embodied in the Native Land Court Acts Amendment

Act 1889, which, in returning Maraeroa to Māori customary land, determined a new location for the eastern boundary of Maraeroa:

(11) The court re-investigated the Maraeroa block in August 1891 and subsequently ordered the subdivision of Maraeroa into 7 blocks that were to be awarded to different combinations of claimants from different hapū. These blocks were the Maraeroa A, A1, B, B1, C (Pukemako), Ketemaringi, and Hurakia blocks. Maraeroa A and A1 were approximately 19 900 acres and Maraeroa B and B1 approximately 13 000 acres. Since none of the Maraeroa subdivisions had been surveyed at the time of the award and the court did not specify the area of all the subdivisions, the lengthy ownership lists for Maraeroa took several years to finalise. During the 1890s, at the request of Māori, the list of the owners of the Maraeroa A and B blocks was amended several times with new names added and others removed:

Discrepancies in surveys and survey costs

- (12) When the court began investigating title for Maraeroa in 1886, surveys of the block were still incomplete and only sketch plans were available. The external boundary of Maraeroa was subsequently completed whilst the court was hearing evidence relating to the Taupōnuiatia West blocks. The absence of proper surveys produced discrepancies between the areas for Maraeroa as recorded in various sketch plans and final surveys. Sketch plans of the internal boundaries of Maraeroa in 1891 and 1894, and surveys of blocks adjacent to Maraeroa in 1892 and 1895, resulted in several adjustments between the estimated areas:
- (13) Some of the descendants of the original owners of the 30 Maraeroa A and B blocks today consider that the boundary markers at Taporaroa and Ngā Turi o Hinetū, as fixed after the 1891 court hearing, are located north-west of where they finally were surveyed, which would significantly increase the area of Maraeroa. Some of the people of the Maraeroa A and B blocks consider that the headwaters of the Waipā commence at Taporaroa. Surveys, however, excluded the headwaters from the Maraeroa block. Additionally, since the

- early twentieth century, the boundary marker for Ngā Turi o Hinetū has been mislabelled as Te Arero Pā:
- (14) In 1996, the Māori Land Court reconsidered the boundary between Maraeroa and Poukani. It confirmed the boundary established by the Native Land Court Acts Amendment Act 5 1889, which added 4 200 acres to the historical boundary of Pouakani block. This decision is a source of grievance for some descendants of the original owners of the Maraeroa A and B blocks:
- Owners were liable for the 1886 survey and for the costs of surveys required for the 1891 rehearing and its subdivisions, and as boundaries were revised following Crown purchasing or when owners sought to have their interests partitioned out. Owners of Maraeroa also incurred costs associated with participation in the Taupōnuiatia Royal Commission and in legal matters preceding the commission:

Crown purchasing

(16) The Crown began land purchase negotiations for Maraeroa in the early 1890s once the court had determined title for Maraeroa. The Crown completed its acquisition of the entire Maraeroa A1 and B1 blocks in 1895, parts of A2 and B2 in 1901, and parts of A3 and B3 in 1908. Approximately 90% of the Maraeroa A and B blocks was permanently alienated between 1895 and 1908:

20

- (17) The interests the Crown purchased included the shares of over 20 minors with interests in Maraeroa A2 and an unknown number of shares of minors with interests in B2:
- for the Crown as well as awarding the Crown a further 856 30 acres to cover unpaid survey liens owed by the non-sellers. By 1908, the Crown had purchased 33 125 acres in the Maraeroa A and B blocks; however, a survey carried out in 1908 reduced this area to 28 802 acres after adjustments were made once the boundary between those blocks and Maraeroa C block had 35 been surveyed:

15

Alienation	of ron	naindar	of Margar	00.1	and R	blo	cks
Анепапоп	oi ren	ıaınaer	oi Maraer	oa A i	ana B	nio	cks

- (19) The Native Land Act 1909 introduced further reform of Māori land tenure. In particular, decisions over Māori land alienation were to be made at publicly notified meetings of owners and confirmed by regional land boards. The Act also removed 5 most restrictions on the alienation of Māori land that were created by the Native Land Court:
- (20) Between 1916 and 1958, the remaining Māori-owned areas of the Maraeroa A and B blocks were alienated, largely to private timber companies. The permanent alienations of these lands were approved at meetings of assembled owners, though some owners later complained that they were not aware of these meetings, and some who did attend meetings voted against the sales. Owners holding a majority of shares in the land could approve alienations:
- (21) Only 7.2 hectares from the Maraeroa A and B blocks remains in Māori ownership today. This land, sited in the Maraeroa B2 block, had been alienated to the Crown, but was returned to 7 owners in 1947 in exchange for 6 acres of the Maraeroa C block that the State Forest Service sought as an accessway to Crown land in Maraeroa C:

Minimal benefit from timber

- (22) The Maraeroa A and B blocks contained valuable indigenous timber, which from the late 1890s the Crown and private entrepreneurs expressed interest in milling. The price the Crown paid for Maraeroa A and B land in the 1890s was unlikely to have accounted for the value of the timber on the land. Milling commenced on some of the Maraeroa A and B blocks in the 1920s when land was leased and later sold to private parties:
- (23) Between the 1920s and the late 1950s, some owners of the Maraeroa subdivisions expressed concerns about the valuation of timber on their lands prior to the land being sold to private timber companies. On one block, the State Forest Service claimed that timber was significantly undervalued when owners agreed to sell the land to private parties. The valuer was not specifically asked to value the timber and did not include it in his valuation:

- (24) Some of the land purchased by the Crown within the Maraeroa A and B blocks became part of the Pureora Forest, which produced significant amounts of timber in the second part of the twentieth century. In 1960, almost half (27 325 cubic metres) of the 63 118 cubic metres of indigenous timber milled in New Zealand came from the Pureora indigenous forest. In 1977, 46 000 cubic metres of indigenous timber was removed from the Pureora area:
- (25) By the late 1970s, the Crown began exploring options for Pureora Forest because logging its indigenous trees was not sustainable beyond the following decade. The Crown decided to halt the logging of indigenous forest at Pureora in 1978 and created the Pureora State Forest Park. According to the descendants of the original owners of the Maraeroa A and B blocks, the decision to halt the logging created significant unemployment in the area, made some small local towns unviable, and forced families to leave the district in search of work:
- (26) The Crown and private parties also established exotic timber forestry in the Pureora Forest. The first exotic trees were planted in 1949 and the exotic forests at Pureora continue to 20 be milled at the commencement date:
- (27) The descendants of the original owners of the Maraeroa A and B blocks consider that they received comparatively minimal benefit from the sale of the forests, the milling of indigenous timber, and the development of exotic forests on their former 25 land, and as a result lost significant economic opportunities when they lost ownership of this land:

The Parliament of New Zealand therefore enacts as follows:

1 Title

This Act is the Maraeroa A and B Blocks Claims Settlement 30 Act 2012.

2 Commencement

This Act comes into force on the date on which it receives the Royal assent.

The Crown's acknowledgements and apology

6	Acknowledgements	and	apology
---	------------------	-----	---------

- (1) Sections 7 and 8 record the acknowledgements of, and the apology offered to descendants of the original owners of Maraeroa A and B blocks by, the Crown in the deed of 5 settlement.
- (2) The acknowledgements and apology are to be read in conjunction with the account of the historical relations between the settling group and the Crown, recorded in part 2 of the deed of settlement and summarised in the Preamble of this Act. 10

7 The Crown's acknowledgements

- (1) The Crown acknowledges that—
  - (a) in 1862 native land legislation was imposed on Māori landowners without consulting them; and
  - (b) the native land laws facilitated Crown and private pur- 15 chasing of Māori land; and
  - (c) in 1887 the Native Land Court awarded Maraeroa to 149 individuals and that this decision was overturned, and when the block's title was reheard in 1891 it was awarded to just over 450 individuals; and
  - (d) some of the descendants of the original owners of the Maraeroa A and B blocks today consider that the boundary markers at Taporaroa and Ngā Turi o Hinetū, as fixed after the 1891 Native Land Court hearing, do not align with their traditional understanding of their locations and significantly decreased the size of Maraeroa.

(2) The Crown acknowledges that—

- (a) the operation and impact of the native land laws, in particular the awarding of the Maraeroa A and B blocks to individuals, and enabling individuals to deal with that land without reference to iwi or hapū, made those lands more susceptible to partition, fragmentation, and alienation. This undermined traditional tribal structures of the iwi who resided on the Maraeroa A and B blocks that were based on collective tribal and hapū custodianship of the land; and
- (b) its failure to protect those collective tribal structures had a prejudicial effect on the owners of the Maraeroa A and

B blocks and this was a breach of the Treaty of Waitan	gi
and its principles.

		and its principles.
(3)	The Crown acknowledges that—
, ,	(a)	from 1884 to 1908 the Crown had a monopoly over purchasing from the Maraeroa A and B blocks; and	5
	(b)	between 1895 and 1908 the Crown purchased the individual interests of most of the owners of the Maraeroa
		A and B blocks, totalling 90% of the 2 blocks, including the shares of over 20 minors; and
	(c)	the surveys of Maraeroa became a charge upon the land,	10 and some owners of the Maraeroa A and B blocks who did not wish to sell their lands had areas of land taken for payment for survey liens; and
	(d)	surveys of the internal boundaries of the Maraeroa A and B blocks were not carried out in a timely manner,	15 which would have limited the owners' ability to use the land.
(4)	The Crown acknowledges that—
	(a)	the Maraeroa A and B blocks contained significant areas of indigenous forest; and	20
	(b)	the prices paid by the Crown for the Maraeroa A and B blocks did not appear to include the value of the indi( )	genous timber on the land; and
	(c)	the Crown and private parties benefited from the milling	25
		of the indigenous forests on the Maraeroa A and B	25
	(4)	blocks during the twentieth century; and
	(d)	the milling of indigenous forest removed the habitat of indigenous species.
(5)	The
(5)	The Crown acknowledges that the alienation of the Maraeroa A and B blocks—
	(a)	separated the descendants of the original owners of the	30
	(a)	Maraeroa A and B blocks from their wāhi tapu; and
	(b)	undermined their cultural connection to the land; and
	(c)	deprived them of the ability to access ngā wāhi kohinga
	(0)	kai, cultural resources, and materials for construction	35
		(such as raupo for building whare).

8 The Crown's apology

- (1) The Crown profoundly regrets and unreservedly apologises to the descendants of the original owners of the Maraeroa A and B blocks for the impact of the native land laws, which led to the alienation of the majority of the Maraeroa A and B blocks. The loss of these lands undermined the social and traditional tribal structures of the people of the Maraeroa A and B blocks, their autonomy and ability to exercise customary rights and responsibilities, and their access to ngā wāhi kohinga kai, customary resources, and wāhi tapu.
- (2) The Crown seeks to atone for these wrongs and to begin the process of healing. The Crown hopes that this apology will mark the beginning of a new relationship with the descendants of the original owners of the Maraeroa A and B blocks that is based on mutual trust and co-operation.
