

Taranaki Iwi Claims Settlement Bill

Government Bill

Explanatory note

General policy statement

This Bill—

- records the acknowledgements and apology given by the Crown to Taranaki Iwi in the deed of settlement (the deed) dated 5 September 2015 between the Crown and Taranaki Iwi; and
- gives effect to the deed, in which the Crown and Taranaki Iwi agree to a final settlement of all Taranaki Iwi's historical Treaty of Waitangi claims.

Scope of settlement

Taranaki Iwi is one of 8 iwi of the Taranaki region, with a population recorded in the 2013 Census of 6 087 members. The Taranaki Iwi area of interest stretches from Ōnukutaipari on the northern coast to the Ōuri Stream in the south and encompasses Mount Taranaki and the Egmont National Park. Clause 13 of this Bill defines Taranaki Iwi.

The settlement settles all of the historical claims of Taranaki Iwi. Those claims include all claims that—

- are, or are founded on, a right arising—
 - from the Treaty of Waitangi or its principles; or
 - under legislation; or
 - at common law (including aboriginal title or customary law); or
 - from a fiduciary duty; or
 - otherwise; and
- arise from, or relate to, acts or omissions before 21 September 1992—
 - by or on behalf of the Crown; or

- by or under legislation.

The Crown is released and discharged from all obligations and liabilities in respect of those claims.

History of claim

The first Taranaki claim in the Waitangi Tribunal (the Tribunal) was brought by the Taranaki Māori Trust Board in 1987. As a result of the inquiry, the Tribunal released an interim report called The Taranaki Report—Kaupapa Tuatahi on 11 June 1996. The report dealt with 21 claims investigated by the Tribunal between 1990 and 1995 concerning the Taranaki rohe, including the Crown's purchase of land, the Taranaki land wars, and the confiscation of land under the New Zealand Settlements Act 1863.

In 2000, hapū of Taranaki Iwi participated in the Tribunal's urgent inquiry into the petroleum claim (Wai 796). The claim asserted that in the 19th century, and up to 1937, Taranaki Māori lost ownership of much of their traditional lands, often as a result of Crown acts and policies that have since been found to have been inconsistent with the principles of the Treaty of Waitangi. The claim also asserted that the same Crown breaches resulted in the loss of petroleum resources located within that land. The Tribunal issued The Petroleum Report in 2003 and found that, prior to 1937, Māori had legal title to the petroleum in their land and a Treaty interest was created in favour of Māori for the loss of legal title to petroleum.

Negotiations and deed of settlement

Taranaki Iwi gave Taranaki Iwi Trust (the Trust) a mandate to negotiate a deed of settlement with the Crown by way of mandating hui, and on 26 February 2010 the Crown recognised the mandate. The Trust and the Crown signed terms of negotiation on 17 March 2010 that agreed the scope, objectives, and general procedures for the negotiations. A letter of agreement signed on 22 December 2012 by Taranaki Iwi and the Crown agreed a basis for a deed in principle. In June 2014, negotiations were paused due to a lack of agreement on how the Crown could address Taranaki Iwi's aspirations relating to Parihaka. In December 2014, negotiations recommenced following the establishment by the Crown, Taranaki Iwi, and Parihaka of Kawe Tutaki, a working group established to advise on how the Crown can support Parihaka to achieve its aspirations. After Taranaki Iwi advised the Office of Treaty Settlements on 20 May 2015 that the Trust had agreed to initial the deed given the progress made by Kawe Tutaki, the Crown and Taranaki Iwi initialled the deed on 7 July 2015. Taranaki Iwi held a ballot to ratify the deed. Of the total eligible voting population, 25% participated in the ballot. Of those who voted, 99% supported the deed, which was signed on 5 September 2015.

Governance entity

Taranaki Iwi ratified their post-settlement governance entity (PSGE) between May and June 2013. Of the total eligible voting population, 32.5% participated in the ratification process. Of those who voted, 93.25% supported the establishment of Te Kāhui o Taranaki Trust as the PSGE. The PSGE was subsequently established on 24 June 2013. On settlement, the trustees of the PSGE will manage the settlement assets.

Summary of settlement

The deed will be the final settlement of all Taranaki Iwi's historical Treaty of Waitangi claims resulting from acts or omissions by the Crown before 21 September 1992. This Bill contains provisions related to those aspects of the settlement redress that require legislation for their implementation. Other aspects of the settlement are provided for only in the deed (because they do not require legislative authority).

This Bill contains the typical features of a Treaty settlement Bill as set out in the clause by clause analysis. Some of the more distinctive aspects of the Bill include—

- provision for iwi representation on the Taranaki Regional Council's Policy and Planning Committee and the Consents and Regulatory Committee to allow the iwi of Taranaki to contribute to the Council's decision-making processes;
- provision for the transfer of mandated iwi organisation (MIO) status from Taranaki Iwi's existing MIO to its PSGE through the Bill (rather than through the Maori Fisheries Act 2004);
- the joint vesting (with Te Atiawa) of Ngā Motu/Sugar Loaf Islands, with the Department of Conservation continuing to manage the islands and public access being maintained.

Key aspects of redress provided for in the deed that do not appear in this Bill include—

- a relationship agreement with the Ministry of Business, Innovation, and Employment (in relation to minerals, including petroleum); and
- financial redress of $70 million and a cultural fund of $55,633.

The benefits of the settlement will be available to all members of Taranaki Iwi, wherever they live.

Removal of courts' jurisdiction and of resumptive memorials

Taranaki Iwi and the Crown have agreed to the removal of the jurisdiction of the courts and the Tribunal in respect of the Taranaki Iwi historical claims, the deed, the settlement redress, and this Bill (but not in respect of the interpretation or implementation of the deed or the Bill) and to the removal of resumptive memorials from computer registers in relation to land within the right of first refusal (RFR) areas.

Departmental disclosure statement

The Ministry of Justice is required to prepare a disclosure statement to assist with the scrutiny of this Bill. It provides access to information about the policy development of the Bill and identifies any significant or unusual legislative features of the Bill.

A copy of the statement can be found at <http://legislation.govt.nz/disclosure.aspx?type=bill&subtype=government&year=2015&no=115>

Clause by clause analysis

Clause 1 is the Title clause.

Clause 2 provides that the Bill comes into force on the day after it receives the Royal assent.

Part 1

Preliminary matters, acknowledgements and apology, and settlement of historical claims

Clauses 3, 4, and 5 respectively set out the purpose of this Bill, state that provisions take effect on the settlement date, and provide for the Bill to bind the Crown.

Clause 6 outlines the contents of the Bill.

Summary of historical account, acknowledgements, and apology of the Crown

Clauses 7 to 10 provide for and set out the summary of the historical account given in the deed of settlement, and the Crown's acknowledgements and apology.

Interpretation provisions

Clause 11 states the general interpretation provision and clause 12 defines key terms used in the Bill.

Clause 13 defines Taranaki Iwi.

Clause 14 defines the historical claims that are settled by the Bill.

Historical claims settled and jurisdiction of courts, etc, removed

Clause 15 settles the historical claims and removes the jurisdiction of courts, tribunals, and other judicial bodies over the historical claims, the deed of settlement, the Bill, and the settlement redress, other than as to the interpretation or implementation of the deed and Bill.

Amendment to Treaty of Waitangi Act 1975

Clause 16 amends the Treaty of Waitangi Act 1975 to remove the jurisdiction of the Waitangi Tribunal.

Resumptive memorials no longer to apply

Clauses 17 and 18 provide that certain enactments do not apply to land to be vested or transferred under the Bill.

Miscellaneous matters

Clause 19 provides an exception to the rule against perpetuities.

Clause 20 makes provision for the deed of settlement to be made publicly available by the chief executive of the Ministry of Justice.

Clause 21 provides that if a provision in this Bill has the same effect as a provision in another Bill, the provisions are to be given effect to only once, as if they were the same provision. This clause anticipates the requirement for certain redress to be shared in another Taranaki Bill.

Part 2

Cultural redress

Subpart 1—Protocols

Clauses 22 to 28 make provision for 3 protocols, a conservation protocol, a fisheries protocol, and a taonga tūturu protocol.

Subpart 2—Statutory acknowledgement and deeds of recognition

Clause 29 sets out the definitions applying in this subpart. Clauses 30 to 41 provide for a statutory acknowledgement to apply over the specified statutory areas. Clause 38 provides for deeds of recognition over specified statutory areas, and clauses 39 to 41 set out further provisions applying in relation to statutory acknowledgements. Clause 42 amends Schedule 11 of the Resource Management Act 1991 to include the name of the Bill.

Subpart 3—Official geographic names

Clauses 43 to 45 provide for certain place names to be official geographical names within the Taranaki Iwi area of interest.

Subpart 4—Vesting of cultural redress properties

Clause 46 defines the cultural redress properties.

Properties vested in fee simple

Clauses 47 to 60 provide for the vesting in fee simple of 14 properties in the trustees. Of the 14 properties, 12 vest outright, 1 vests subject to a lease, and 1 vests subject to an easement.

Properties vested in fee simple to be administered as reserves

Clauses 61 to 75 provide for the vesting in fee simple of 15 properties in the trustees. Each property is declared a reserve and classified as a particular kind of reserve subject to the Reserves Act 1977. Two of the reserves vest subject to easements.

Ngā Motu: properties held jointly in fee simple

Clauses 76 to 79 provide for the transfer of an undivided half share of the 3 clusters of islands comprising Ngā Motu, also known as the Sugar Loaf Islands. The share of each cluster that is held on trust for the trustees of Te Kāhui o Taranaki by the trustees of Te Kotahitanga o Te Atiawa is deemed to be transferred to the trustees of Te Kāhui o Taranaki.

General provisions applying to vesting of cultural redress properties (other than Ngā Motu)

Clauses 80 to 86 set out the technical provisions required to facilitate the vesting of the cultural redress properties.

Further provisions applying to reserve properties

Clauses 87 to 92 set out the technical provisions required in relation to properties which, after being vested in the trustees, are declared to be reserves and classified, thus becoming subject to the Reserves Act 1977.

General provisions applying to transfer of Ngā Motu

Clauses 93 and 94 set out the technical provisions required to facilitate the deemed transfer of the undivided half share in the Ngā Motu properties to the trustees of Te Kāhui o Taranaki.

Rua Taranaki title

Clauses 95 and 96 provide for properties that are registered or registrable in the name of the trustees to be registered in the name of Rua Taranaki instead.

Subpart 5—Regional council representation

Clauses 97 to 101 provide a mechanism for all of the iwi of Taranaki (as listed in clause 97) to participate in the decision-making processes of 2 of the committees of the Taranaki Regional Council. Power is conferred on those iwi to nominate representatives to those committees. Those representatives will have the same status as members of the committees appointed under the Local Government Act 2002.

Subpart 6—Post-settlement redress properties

Clauses 102 to 107 apply if the trustees enter into an agreement to purchase any post-settlement redress property from the South Taranaki District Council within 5 years of the settlement date. The clauses set out the technical provisions required to facilitate the transfer of property.

Part 3

Commercial redress

Clause 108 sets out definitions applying in this Part.

Subpart 1—Transfer of deferred selection properties

Clauses 109 to 117 empower the transfer of deferred selection properties to the trustees, and provide the machinery provisions for registration.

Subpart 2—Right of first refusal over RFR land

Subpart 2 (clauses 118 to 147) sets out the requirements for the right of first refusal (RFR) applying for the benefit of the trustees, and involves the trustees in arrangements for RFR land that is shared with Te Atiawa and Ngāruahine.

Part 4

Governance reorganisation and taxation provisions

Clause 148 sets out the definitions applying in this Part.

Subpart 1—Governance reorganisation

Taranaki Iwi Trust

Clauses 149 and 150 provide that, on the commencement of the Bill (the commencement date), the Taranaki Iwi Trust is dissolved and the assets and liabilities of the trustees of that trust vest in the post-settlement governance entity, the trustees of Te Kāhui o Taranaki, freed of all charitable trusts (but subject to the trusts expressed in the trust deed of Te Kāhui o Taranaki and any other trusts affecting an asset or a liability).

Taranaki Iwi Fisheries Limited

Clause 151 provides that if Taranaki Iwi Fisheries Limited, which is defined as the relevant subsidiary, is a tax charity for the purposes of the Inland Revenue Acts on the commencement date, that status ceases on that date and its assets and liabilities are freed of all charitable trusts (but remain subject to other trusts, covenants, or conditions). The provision clarifies that this entity retains its identity for the purposes of the Inland Revenue Acts, that it continues to hold its assets and liabilities as of the commencement date, and that its income derived up to the point when it ceases to be a registered charitable entity is exempt income.

Te Kāhui o Taranaki becomes mandated iwi organisation

Clauses 152 to 154 provide for the transfer of mandated iwi organisation status from the Taranaki Iwi Trust to Te Kāhui o Taranaki.

General matters relating to reorganisation

Clauses 155 to 166 clarify the transitional arrangements for the trust that is dissolved.

Final report

Clause 167 provides for the final report of the Taranaki Iwi Trust to be prepared and presented at the first general meeting of Te Kāhui o Taranaki that is held after the report has been prepared.

Subpart 2—Taxation provisions

Clause 168 clarifies that the taxation arrangements in this subpart are contingent on the governance reorganisation provided for in subpart 1.

Taranaki Iwi Trust

Clause 169 ensures the taxation neutrality of the transfer of the assets and liabilities of the trustees of the Taranaki Iwi Trust to the trustees of Te Kāhui o Taranaki. Clause 170 makes provision for the taxation of the entity if the trustees elect to become a Māori authority.

Relevant subsidiary

Clause 171 sets out the taxation implications of the relevant subsidiary no longer being a registered charitable entity. Clause 172 makes provision for the entity if it elects to become a Māori authority.

Schedules

There are 3 schedules, as follows:

- Schedule 1 sets out the areas subject only to a statutory acknowledgement and the areas subject to both a statutory acknowledgement and a deed of recognition;
- Schedule 2 provides the legal descriptions for the cultural redress properties;
- Schedule 3 sets out the requirements for notices relating to the RFR land.

*Summary of historical account, acknowledgements, and apology of the Crown7 Summary of historical account, acknowledgements, and apology

- (1) Section 8 summarises the historical account in the deed of settlement, setting out the basis for the acknowledgements and apology.
- (2) Sections 9 and 10 record the text of the acknowledgements and apology given by the Crown to Taranaki Iwi in the deed of settlement. 5

8 Summary of historical account

- (1) Prior to 1860, Taranaki Iwi were participating successfully in the trading economy and retained control over much of their customary land. In 1860, the Crown's purchase of land at Waitara, despite strong opposition from the significant rangatira Wiremu Kingi te Rangitaake, led to war between Taranaki Māori and the Crown. During the war, Crown forces shelled coastal Taranaki Iwi settlements and employed "scorched earth" tactics which destroyed Taranaki Iwi kainga, cultivations, and food-stores. When peace was negotiated in 1861, Crown forces remained in occupation of the disputed block, while Taranaki Iwi occupied the Ōmata and Tataraimaka blocks, sold by members of Taranaki Iwi in 1847. 10
- (2) In early 1863, Crown troops reoccupied Tataraimaka and Ōmata. In May 1863, some Taranaki Māori attacked soldiers moving between the blocks, killing 9. War resumed, and in the following 3 years Crown forces again destroyed Taranaki Iwi settlements and cultivations. Taranaki Iwi people suffered severe distress and hardship, and many lost their lives. 20
- (3) In 1865, the Crown proclaimed 1.2 million acres of Taranaki land confiscated, including all of the Taranaki Iwi rohe not already purchased. The confiscations were indiscriminate, depriving both "loyal" and "rebel" Māori of their lands. A process to compensate "loyal" Māori for the confiscation of their land was established, but when the Compensation Court began its hearings in June 1866, the Crown had already allocated large tracts of Taranaki Iwi lands to military settlers. The Crown then failed to implement most of the Court's recommendations and out-of-court agreements for more than 15 years. Almost all the land eventually returned was granted under individualised title, extinguishing customary tenure. 25
- (4) In 1866, Te Whiti o Rongomai and Tohu Kākahi established a settlement at Parihaka in the heart of the Taranaki Iwi rohe, where they began to develop a community which adopted and employed non-violent measures to resist further land loss and promote Māori independence. The Crown came to view this community and its approach as a challenge to its authority. In 1878, tensions increased after Hiroki, a fugitive from the law who was later hanged in New Plymouth gaol, took refuge at Parihaka, and after surveyors failed to mark out reserves promised to Māori in southern Taranaki. In March 1879, Te Whiti ordered the surveyors to be peacefully evicted. 35 40

- (5) In May 1879, followers of Te Whiti and Tohu began to plough land across Taranaki, as an assertion of their rights to the land. By the end of July, 182 ploughmen had been arrested. Only 46 received a trial, but all were detained in harsh conditions in South Island prisons for at least 14 months, and some for 2 years. In June 1880, Crown forces began to construct a road through cultivations near Parihaka. Between July and September 1880, 223 more Māori were arrested for placing fences across the road in an attempt to protect the cultivations. Only 59 fencers received a trial, but again all were sent to South Island prisons. Over this period, Parliament passed legislation to enable the continuing detention of those prisoners who had not been tried. 5 10
- (6) In July 1881, people from Parihaka and surrounding Taranaki Iwi settlements erected fences around traditional cultivation sites that the Crown had sold to settlers. On 5 November 1881, more than 1 500 Crown troops, led by the Native Minister, invaded Parihaka and then dismantled the settlement and forcibly removed many of its inhabitants. Te Whiti and Tohu were arrested and held without trial for 16 months. 15
- (7) In 1881, the West Coast Commission found that the Crown had failed to fulfil promises about Māori reserves, and recommended that some reserves be granted. However, reserves were not returned to Māori outright, but were placed under the administration of the Public Trustee, who then sold or leased in perpetuity large areas to European farmers. Through the 20th century, a number of legislative acts further undermined the ability of Taranaki Iwi people to retain or control their remaining lands. Today, less than 5 percent of the reserved lands are in Māori freehold ownership, and approximately 50 000 acres remain leased in perpetuity. The massive loss of land has limited the ability of Taranaki Iwi to participate in society on equal terms with many other New Zealanders. 20 25

9 Acknowledgements

- (1) The Crown acknowledges that recognition of the historical grievances of Taranaki Iwi is long overdue. The Crown hereby recognises the legitimacy of the historical grievances of Taranaki Iwi and makes the following acknowledgements. 30
- (2) The Crown acknowledges that prior to 1860, Taranaki Iwi were participating successfully in the trading economy and retained control over the majority of their customary lands and resources while engaging with te ao hou (the new world). 35
- (3) The Crown acknowledges that—
- (a) the cumulative effect of the Crown's actions in purchasing land in Taranaki created tensions that led to the outbreak of war between the Crown and Māori in 1860; and 40
- (b) Taranaki Iwi suffered the destruction of their homes, property, and cultivations as a result of Crown actions during the wars, which included the

- shelling of a number of coastal Taranaki Iwi kainga and the use of “scorched earth” tactics in the Taranaki Iwi rohe during the second Taranaki War; and
- (c) the Crown built military fortifications on Taranaki Iwi land; and
- (d) Taranaki Iwi suffered loss of life and severe hardship during the Taranaki wars; and 5
- (e) the Taranaki wars constituted an injustice and were in breach of the Treaty of Waitangi and its principles.
- (4) The Crown acknowledges that in 1866 it forced Taranaki Iwi rangatira including Wiremu Kingi Matakatea and Te Ua Haumene to swear oaths of allegiance to the Crown, and then detained Te Ua for 4 months in an attempt to undermine his mana and reduce the influence of the Paimārire movement. 10
- (5) The Crown acknowledges that—
- (a) Taranaki Iwi as a whole were not in rebellion, and the Crown unfairly treated them as being in rebellion when it proclaimed all of their land confiscated in 1865; and 15
- (b) the confiscations had a devastating effect on the mana, welfare, economy, culture, and social development of Taranaki Iwi; and
- (c) as a result of the confiscations, many Taranaki Iwi were displaced and deprived of access to their wāhi tapu and sites of ancestral significance, traditional sources of food, and other resources on that land; and 20
- (d) the confiscations were indiscriminate in extent and application, wrongful and unjust, and were in breach of the Treaty of Waitangi and its principles.
- (6) The Crown acknowledges that the prejudicial effects of the war and confiscations were compounded by the inadequacies in the compensation process, including— 25
- (a) the allocation of confiscated land to military settlers in the Taranaki Iwi rohe before the Compensation Court began its hearings; and
- (b) the Compensation Court making its awards to Taranaki Iwi individuals rather than to iwi or hapū, which was not consistent with customary land tenure. This system was imposed on Taranaki Iwi and their views were not sought; and 30
- (c) the failure to fulfil promises to return land to Taranaki Iwi for over 15 years. 35
- (7) The Crown acknowledges that—
- (a) its failure to return lands in a timely manner caused uncertainty and distress for Taranaki Iwi about where they were to live; and

- (b) it compounded this confusion by making takoha payments to Taranaki Māori which involved no proper investigation of Māori customary rights, and no clear definition of the land supposedly being secured.
- (8) The Crown acknowledges that—
- (a) the residents and leaders of Parihaka sought to establish and maintain an autonomous community on their own land, while promoting peaceful engagement between Taranaki Māori and Pākehā; and 5
- (b) it came to view the influence of Parihaka and its leaders as a challenge to the authority of the Crown, and its ability to extend European settlement in Taranaki. 10
- (9) The Crown acknowledges that—
- (a) it imprisoned members of Taranaki Iwi and other Māori of Taranaki for their participation in the peaceful resistance campaign initiated at Parihaka in 1879 and 1880; and
- (b) legislation was enacted which “suspended the ordinary course of law”, and as a result most prisoners, including many Taranaki Iwi people, were detained without trial; and 15
- (c) the detention of those prisoners without trial for an unreasonably lengthy period assumed the character of indefinite detention; and
- (d) the imprisonment of 405 men of Taranaki Iwi and other iwi in South Island gaols for political reasons inflicted unwarranted hardships on them and on members of their whānau and hapū, including the women who sustained Parihaka in their absence; and 20
- (e) the treatment of these political prisoners—
- (i) was wrongful, a breach of natural justice, and deprived them of basic human rights; and 25
- (ii) was a breach of the Treaty of Waitangi and its principles.
- (10) The Crown acknowledges that—
- (a) it inflicted serious damage on Parihaka and assaulted the human rights of the people residing there during its invasion and subsequent occupation of the settlement; and 30
- (b) it forcibly removed many inhabitants, destroyed and desecrated their homes and sacred buildings, stole heirlooms, and systematically destroyed large cultivations and livestock; and
- (c) it arrested and detained Te Whiti o Rongomai and Tohu Kākahi without trial for 16 months in the South Island; and 35
- (d) it imposed a system of passes to regulate entry into Parihaka; and
- (e) its actions were a complete denial of the Māori right to develop and sustain autonomous communities in a peaceful manner, and had a devastat-

- ing and enduring effect on the mana, social structure, and well-being of Taranaki Iwi; and
- (f) its treatment of Taranaki Iwi people at Parihaka was unconscionable and unjust, and that these actions constituted a breach of the Treaty of Waitangi and its principles. 5
- (11) The Crown acknowledges that—
- (a) the West Coast Commissions were inadequate in their scope and therefore did not fully address the injustices perpetrated by the confiscations; and
- (b) the reserves created for Taranaki Iwi by the second West Coast Commission in the 1880s were— 10
- (i) virtually all returned under non-customary individualised title; and
- (ii) in some cases smaller than those areas promised by the Crown to Taranaki Iwi in the 1860s; and 15
- (c) the Crown’s actions with respect to the West Coast Settlement Reserves, considered cumulatively, (including the imposition of a regime of perpetually renewable leases and the sale of large quantities of Taranaki Iwi land by the Public and Māori Trustee)—
- (i) ultimately deprived Taranaki Iwi of the control and ownership of the lands reserved for them in Taranaki; and 20
- (ii) contributed to the impoverishment of Taranaki Iwi; and
- (iii) were in breach of the Treaty of Waitangi and its principles.
- (12) The Crown recognises the efforts and struggles of Taranaki Iwi in pursuit of their claims for redress and compensation against the Crown for 140 years. The Crown further acknowledges that,— 25
- (a) despite numerous petitions and protests about the confiscations, it was not until 1926 that a commission (the Sim Commission) was established to investigate the confiscations; and
- (b) the Sim Commission could not consider the lawfulness of the confiscations or assess them in terms of the Treaty of Waitangi; and 30
- (c) the payments made under the Taranaki Maori Claims Settlement Act 1944 did not sufficiently address the grievances of Taranaki Iwi.
- (13) The Crown acknowledges that its efforts to deal with the grievances of Taranaki Iwi in the twentieth century failed to do so in an appropriate way. 35
- (14) The Crown acknowledges that the lands and other resources confiscated from Taranaki Iwi have made a significant contribution to the wealth and development of New Zealand.
- (15) The Crown acknowledges that its breaches of the Treaty of Waitangi and its principles during the nineteenth and twentieth centuries have together signifi- 40

cantly undermined the traditional systems of authority and economic capacity of Taranaki Iwi, and the physical, cultural, and spiritual well-being of its people. The Crown acknowledges that it has failed to protect the rangatiratanga of Taranaki Iwi, in breach of its obligations under Article 2 of the Treaty of Waitangi.

10 Apology

The text of the apology offered by the Crown to the tūpuna, to ngā uri o Taranaki Iwi, to the hapū and the whānau of Taranaki Iwi, as set out in the deed of settlement, is as follows:

- “(a) The Crown unreservedly apologises for its failure to honour its obligations to Taranaki Iwi under Te Tiriti o Waitangi/the Treaty of Waitangi, and for failing to give appropriate respect to the mana and rangatiratanga of Taranaki Iwi. 10
- (b) The Crown deeply regrets its actions that led to the outbreak of war in Taranaki, and the lasting impact those wars have had on its relationship with Taranaki Iwi. The Crown unreservedly apologises for the many injustices carried out against Taranaki Iwi during those wars, including the shelling of settlements and the use of scorched earth tactics, and for the severe distress, hardship and death that those actions caused. 15
- (c) The Crown is deeply sorry for the immense prejudice it caused by confiscating the land that had supported Taranaki Iwi for centuries. The raupatu was indiscriminate, unjust, and unconscionable. The Crown deeply regrets the serious damage that the raupatu and its subsequent actions with respect to your remaining lands has caused to the social structure, economy, welfare, and development of Taranaki Iwi. The Crown deeply regrets the actions it took to suspend the ordinary course of law and imprison Taranaki Iwi people without trial for participating in campaigns of non-violent resistance. The Crown sincerely apologises to those tūpuna who it imprisoned far from their homes for political reasons, to the whānau who grieved and struggled to survive in the absence of their loved ones, to their uri, and to Taranaki Iwi. 20
30
- (d) The Crown unreservedly apologises to Taranaki Iwi, and to the Taranaki Iwi people of Parihaka past and present, for its unconscionable actions at Parihaka; for invading their settlement, for systematically dismantling their community, for destroying their ability to sustain themselves, and for assaulting their human rights. The Crown deeply regrets the immense and enduring harm that these actions caused to Parihaka and its people. Over several generations, the Crown’s breaches of Te Tiriti o Waitangi/the Treaty of Waitangi have undermined your leadership and your communities, your ability to exercise long-held rights and responsibilities, and your ability to maintain your cultural and spiritual heritage, your language, and your Taranakitanga. 35 40

- (e) Through this settlement and this apology, the Crown hopes to ease the heavy burden of grievance and sorrow that Taranaki Iwi has carried for so many years, and to assist Taranaki Iwi in its pursuit of a better future. To this end, the Crown looks forward to building a relationship with Taranaki Iwi based on mutual trust, co-operation, and respect for the Te Tiriti o Waitangi/the Treaty of Waitangi and its principles.” 5

164 Continuity of employment

For the purposes of any enactment, rule of law, determination, contract, or agreement relating to the employment of a transferred employee, the transfer of the person's employment from the trustees of the Taranaki Iwi Trust to the trustees of Te Kāhui o Taranaki does not, of itself, break the employment of that person, and the period of his or her employment by the trustees of the Taranaki Iwi Trust is to be regarded as having been a period of service with the trustees of Te Kāhui o Taranaki. 30
35

165 No compensation for technical redundancy

- (2) Income derived or expenditure incurred by the trustees of the Taranaki Iwi Trust before the assets and liabilities vest in the trustees of Te Kāhui o Taranaki does not become income derived or expenditure incurred by those trustees just because the assets and liabilities vest in those trustees under section 150(1). 15
- (3) Subsection (4) applies if income of the trustees of the Taranaki Iwi Trust—
- (a) is derived from a financial arrangement, trading stock, revenue account property, or depreciable property; and 20

- (4) The trustees of Te Kāhui o Taranaki must be treated as having acquired the financial arrangement, trading stock, revenue account property, or depreciable property— 25
- (a) on the day that it becomes the property of those trustees; and
- (b) for a consideration that is its market value.
- (5) The trustees of Te Kāhui o Taranaki must identify the undistributed charitable amount, using the following formula: 30
- $$x - y$$
- where—
- x is the total of the amounts derived by the trustees of the Taranaki Iwi Trust that, but for the application of sections CW 41 and CW 42 of the Income Tax Act 2007, would have been taxable income derived by those trustees before the commencement of this Act 35
- y is the total of the amounts described in variable x that have been distributed before the commencement of this Act.

- (6) The undistributed charitable amount is excluded from the corpus of the trustees of Te Kāhui o Taranaki for the purposes of the Income Tax Act 2007, to the extent to which it is otherwise included but for this subsection.
- (7) If the trustees of Te Kāhui o Taranaki distribute any of the undistributed charitable amount to a person, that amount is treated as beneficiary income for the purposes of the Income Tax Act 2007, unless subsection (8) applies. 5

- (1) If the trustees of Te Kāhui o Taranaki make an election under section HF 11 of the Income Tax Act 2007 to become a Māori authority, to the extent that the undistributed charitable amount is distributed in an income year, that distribution will be—
- (a) exempt income if the distribution is applied for a charitable purpose; or 15
- (b) a taxable Māori authority distribution.
