Part 1

Preliminary provisions

2 Object of Act

The object of this Act is to—

- (a) minimise and manage risks to human or animal health arising from the production and processing of animal material and products by instituting measures that ensure so far as is practicable that all traded animal products are fit for their intended purpose; and
- (b) facilitate the entry of animal material and products into overseas markets by providing the controls and mechanisms needed to give and to safeguard official assurances for entry into those markets.

3 General scheme of Act

- (1) In general terms, this Act seeks to achieve its objects by the following means:

(a) Individual risk management programmes

Part 2 generally requires all primary processors of animal material and products, and certain secondary processors of animal products for human or animal consumption, to operate under registered and independently verified risk management programmes suitable to their own particular animal material, products, and operations, unless and to the extent that such a programme is deemed unnecessary by reason of—

- (i) the negligible degree of risk associated with the relevant animal material, product, operations, or intended product use; or
- (ii) the fact that the animal material or product and operations concerned are covered by another legislative regime.

Provision is also made for other persons involved with animal material or products to operate under risk management programmes where the risk factors involved, or the requirements of overseas markets, justify such a requirement:

(b) Regulated control schemes

Part 3 makes provision for the imposition of regulated control schemes in the case of animal material or products or matters for which individually tailored risk management programmes are impracticable or inappropriate. These schemes may be an alternative or a supplement to individual risk management programmes:

(c) Animal product standards

Part 4 provides for the setting of animal product standards that set criteria that must be met for particular animal products to be treated as fit for their intended purpose (whether or not those products are also produced under an individual risk management programme or a regulated control scheme):

(d) Exports of animal material and products

Part 5 makes special provision in relation to the export of animal material and products from New Zealand, by—

- (i) requiring the registration of all exporters of animal material and products intended for human or animal consumption, and certain other animal products (subject to exemptions); and
- (ii) where appropriate in the light of the requirements of foreign governments, specifying requirements which may be additional to domestic New Zealand requirements for certain products; and
- (iii) where appropriate, providing for the giving of official assurances to overseas authorities in relation to animal material or products exported from New Zealand:

- (e) Homekill and recreational catch
- Part 6 makes special provision for the treatment of animals that are homekill or recreational catch, by—
- (i) allowing for homekill or recreational catch to be processed either by the person whose homekill or recreational catch it is, or by a listed homekill or recreational catch service provider who operates outside the normal risk management and regulatory system contained in Parts 2 to 4; and
 - (ii) imposing restrictions to ensure that homekill and recreational catch products cannot be traded or exported, or mingled with animal material or products that are for trade or export.
- (2) The other provisions of this Act provide the mechanisms necessary to underpin the general scheme of the Act, and in particular include offence provisions imposing significant penalties for offences such as trading in animal products that have not been processed in compliance with the Act.
- (3) The Ministry, under the Minister, is the regulatory agency responsible for the administration of this Act, with the following main functions:
- (a) establishing the New Zealand standards relating to animal products that determine fitness for intended purpose:
 - (b) establishing and implementing regulated control schemes:
 - (c) providing official assurances:
 - (d) monitoring and auditing the risk management system:
 - (e) addressing non-compliance.

Section 3(1)(a): amended, on 26 September 2002, by section 4 of the Animal Products Amendment Act 2002 (2002 No 29).

Section 3(1)(a): amended, on 26 September 2002, by section 5(10) of the Animal Products Amendment Act 2002 (2002 No 29).

Part 2Risk management programmes*11 Object of this Part

The object of this Part is to provide, as the main means for ensuring that animal products are fit for their intended purpose, for the production and processing of certain animal materials and products to occur under 1 or more registered risk management programmes that are subject to independent verification.

12 What is a risk management programme

- (1) A risk management programme is a programme designed to both—
 - (a) identify; and
 - (b) control, manage, and eliminate or minimise—hazards and other risk factors in relation to the production and processing of animal material and animal products in order to ensure that the resulting animal product is fit for intended purpose.

- (2) Risk factors may relate to the nature of the animal material or product concerned, or to the production, processing, preparation, distribution, trade, or intended use of the animal material or product.
- (3) Risk management programmes are to be individually tailored for each animal product business, having regard to—
 - (a) each type of animal material and animal product that the business produces or processes; and
 - (b) each type of process or operation that is applied to the animal material or product; and
 - (c) each set of premises or place in which the animal material or product is produced or processed.
- (3A) Nothing in subsection (3) prevents a risk management programme for a particular business or part of a business from being based on a template, a model, or a code of practice, if in the view of the Director-General the template, model, or code of practice is valid and appropriate for businesses of that kind.
- (4) A risk management programme for each type of animal material or product, each type of process or operation, and each set of premises or place may be formulated as a single stand-alone programme, or may form part of a larger risk management programme that applies to 1 or more materials, products, processes, operations, places, or premises within the same business or operation.
- (4A) A risk management programme may also apply to 1 or more comparable animal product businesses or parts of businesses in cases where the Director-General has given approval under section 17A.
- (5) A food control plan may be registered as a risk management programme in accordance with section 34.

Relationship between Food Act regime and risk management programmes

31 Object of sections 32 to 34A

The object of sections 32 to 34A is to recognise the general equivalence of food control plans and risk management programmes, and to minimise the problems of overlap of 2 separate legislative regimes, by—

- (a) allowing, in section 32, a secondary processor of an animal product which is a food to elect to operate solely under a risk management programme and this Act, rather than under the equivalent Food Act regime (particularly where the food is for export, and may require official assurances); and
- (b) providing, in section 34, for the registration of food control plans as risk management programmes, and allowing switching between plans and programmes in the case of persons who wish to operate principally under one regime, but may also need or wish to operate from time to time under the other regime in respect of all or part of their operations.

Section 31 heading: amended, on 2 March 2018, by section 84(1) of the Food Safety Law Reform Act 2018 (2018 No 3).

Section 31: amended, on 2 March 2018, by section 84(2) of the Food Safety Law Reform Act 2018 (2018 No 3).

Section 31: amended, on 1 March 2016, by section 447 of the Food Act 2014 (2014 No 32).

Section 31: amended, on 26 September 2002, by section 21 of the Animal Products Amendment Act 2002 (2002 No 29).

Section 31(b): amended, on 1 March 2016, by section 447 of the Food Act 2014 (2014 No 32).

32 Secondary processors of animal products which are food may elect to operate under risk management programme

- (1) A secondary processor of an animal product which is a food within the meaning of the Food Act 2014 may elect under this section to operate under a registered risk management programme rather than under the applicable risk-based measure under the Food Act 2014 in respect of that product.
- (2) An election under this section—
 - (a) is made by notifying it to the Director-General, whether at the time the secondary processor applies for registration of a risk management programme or in such other manner as the Director-General may approve; and
 - (b) takes effect when the risk management programme of the secondary processor is registered, or is notified in the register as taking effect.
- (3) Sections 20 to 23 apply in relation to the application for registration of a risk management programme of any person making an election under this section.
- (4) Where an election is made under this section,—
 - (a) for the purposes of this Act, the secondary processor is to be treated as a person who is required to have a risk management programme in respect of the animal product concerned; and
 - (b) the Food Act regime does not apply to the matters covered by the registered risk management programme.
- (5) An election under this section is to be treated as revoked if the secondary processor surrenders the risk management programme under section 29, and subsection (4) of this section ceases to apply on and from the date stated in the register.
- (6) When the Director-General has registered a secondary processor's risk management programme following an election of the processor under this section, the Director-General must—
 - (a) notify the chief executive of the agency for the time being responsible for the administration of the Food Act 2014 and any relevant territorial authority (as defined in section 8(1) of the Food Act 2014) of the election; and

- (b) note the election on the register of risk management programmes in accordance with section 19.
- (7) Where an election is treated as revoked by subsection (5), the Director-General must similarly notify the chief executive and relevant territorial authority referred to in subsection (6)(a), and must note the revocation on the register.
Section 32(1): amended, on 1 March 2016, by section 447 of the Food Act 2014 (2014 No 32).
Section 32(6)(a): amended, on 1 March 2016, by section 447 of the Food Act 2014 (2014 No 32).

33 Implications of failure to elect in case of animal product which is food whose export requires an official assurance

- (1) Where a secondary processor operates under the Food Act regime rather than under a risk management programme in relation to any animal product that is for export, and any export requirements apply to that product,—
 - (a) the product must meet the requirements imposed by or under this Act for the giving of official assurances, if any official assurance is to be given under this Act in relation to the product; and
 - (b) if it does not, it cannot be the subject of an official assurance under this Act.
- (2) For the purposes of subsection (1)(a), the secondary processor must operate under either a registered risk management programme or a food control plan that is registered as a risk management programme in accordance with section 34, and meet any export requirements.

Section 33(1): amended, on 2 March 2018, by section 85(1) of the Food Safety Law Reform Act 2018 (2018 No 3).

Section 33(2): amended, on 2 March 2018, by section 85(2) of the Food Safety Law Reform Act 2018 (2018 No 3).

Section 33(2): amended, on 1 March 2016, by section 447 of the Food Act 2014 (2014 No 32).

Section 33(2): amended, on 26 September 2002, by section 22 of the Animal Products Amendment Act 2002 (2002 No 29).

34 Alternate or intermittent use of risk management programmes and food control plans

- (1) A secondary processor who wishes to have a food control plan recognised as a risk management programme to be operated on an intermittent basis may apply to the Director-General for registration of the plan as a risk management programme.
- (2) Sections 20(2) to (4) and 21 to 23 apply to the application as if it were an application under section 20(1).
- (3) Where a food control plan is registered as a risk management programme,—
 - (a) its operator may operate under it only at the times and in the manner, and on the giving of such notification, as may be specified in conditions (if any) imposed under section 22; and

- (b) during or in respect of matters occurring during any period when the operator operates under the plan as a risk management programme, unless the regulations or any supplementary notice provides otherwise,—
 - (i) the operator is to be treated as a person who is required to have a risk management programme in respect of those operations; and
 - (ii) the Food Act regime does not apply to those operations; and
 - (c) during or in respect of matters occurring during any period when the operator does not so operate, unless the regulations or any supplementary notice provides otherwise,—
 - (i) the operator is to be treated as subject to the Food Act regime; and
 - (ii) this Part does not apply in relation to that period or matters occurring during it; and
 - (d) despite anything in this Act or the Food Act 2014, the risk management programme is subject to whichever audit or verification regime is specified by the Director-General under subsection (4).
- (4) In imposing conditions on registration under section 22(3), the Director-General—
- (a) must specify whether and to what extent the plan is to be subject to the verification requirements of this Act or the Food Act 2014; and
 - (b) [Repealed]
 - (c) may impose such other conditions as are reasonable in light of the operator's proposed use of the plan.
- (4A) In imposing a condition under subsection (4)(a), the Director-General must have regard to—
- (a) the desirability of continuity in verification services, functions, or requirements; and
 - (b) any export requirements; and
 - (c) any requirements set out in the regulations or any supplementary notice for determining whether all or any classes of registered food control plans are to be subject to the verification regime of this Act or the Food Act 2014.
- (5) Before registering a food control plan as a risk management programme, the Director-General must advise the applicant of the conditions of the proposed registration and give the applicant the opportunity to withdraw the application.
- (6) On registering a plan, the Director-General must as soon as practicable notify the fact and the conditions of the registration to—
- (a) the applicant; and

- (b) the chief executive of the agency for the time being responsible for the administration of the Food Act 2014, or the relevant territorial authority; and
- (c) the applicant's verifying agency (if applicable); and
- (d) the applicant's verifier or verification agency under the Food Act 2014.

34A Regulations may grant or provide for exemptions from this Act or Food Act 2014

- (1) The Governor-General may, by Order in Council made on the recommendation of the Minister, make regulations exempting, or providing for the exemption of, persons from specified requirements imposed by or under this Act or the Food Act 2014.
- (2) The Minister may not recommend the making under subsection (1) of regulations that grant an exemption unless satisfied that—

- (a) granting the exemption is necessary or desirable in the interests of avoiding unnecessary or undesirable duplication of equivalent duties or matters under this Act and the Food Act 2014; and
 - (b) the extent of the exemption is not broader than is reasonably necessary for that purpose.
- (3) The Minister may not recommend the making under subsection (1) of regulations that provide for exemptions to be granted unless satisfied that the regulations permit an exemption to be granted only if—

Part 3 Regulated control schemes

37 Object of this Part

The object of this Part is to provide for regulated control schemes which are special regulatory regimes to provide for cases where—

- (a) it is inappropriate or impracticable to manage risk factors under risk management programmes; or
- (b) risk factors may need to be addressed in relation to the production of animal material or the processing of animal product that is not required by this Act to be covered by a registered risk management programme; or
- (c) special provision is required for the purposes of overseas market access requirements.

Section 37(a): amended, on 26 September 2002, by section 5(10) of the Animal Products Amendment Act 2002 (2002 No 29).

Section 37(b): amended, on 26 September 2002, by section 5(10) of the Animal Products Amendment Act 2002 (2002 No 29).

38 Nature of regulated control schemes

- (1) The object of a regulated control scheme is to impose risk management measures in circumstances where—
 - (a) it is not feasible or practicable for the relevant risk factors to be managed by individual animal product business operators within individual risk management programmes (whether or not those operators would normally be required to have a risk management programme); or
 - (b) having regard to considerations of economic efficiency, or to legal considerations that may require the exercise of statutory authority for the successful management of risk factors, it is necessary or appropriate that the measures be imposed generally rather than being dealt with by way of individual risk management programmes; or
 - (c) the measures are additional to those normally required to meet New Zealand animal product standards, and are necessary to meet any export requirements.
- (2) A regulated control scheme may be imposed—
 - (a) by regulations made under section 40, which may be supplemented by supplementary notices; or
 - (b) by the Director-General by notice under section 167(1) if—
 - (i) export requirements have been specified under section 60; and
 - (ii) the Director-General is satisfied that the risk management measures imposed by the scheme are necessary or desirable to meet those export requirements.

39 Scope of regulated control scheme

- (1) A regulated control scheme must set out—
 - (a) its prime purpose; and
 - (b) the risk management measures that are imposed by the scheme.
- (2) The risk management measures may include (without limitation) requirements relating to the monitoring and testing (including surveying, monitoring, data collection, disease surveillance, sampling, testing, and analysis) of any or all of the following:

 - (c) anything in the environment that may affect the fitness for intended purpose of animal material or animal products.
- (3) A regulated control scheme may also include (without limitation) requirements that could be prescribed by regulations made—
- (a) under section 77C in relation to tracing and recalling animal material and animal products:
 - (b) under section 77F in relation to verification of the scheme:
 - (c) under section 77H in relation to record-keeping and reporting.
- (4) Section 166A(1)(a)(i), (d), and (e) applies in relation to a notice referred to in section 38(2)(b) as if it were regulations.

Section 39: replaced, on 2 March 2018, by section 91 of the Food Safety Law Reform Act 2018 (2018 No 3).

40 Regulations about regulated control schemes

- (1) The Governor-General may, by Order in Council made on the recommendation of the Minister, make regulations imposing regulated control schemes.
- (2) The Minister may not recommend the making of regulations under subsection (1) unless the Minister is satisfied that at least 1 of the circumstances set out in section 38(1) exists.
- (3) In determining whether to recommend the making of regulations under subsection (1), the Minister must have regard to the following:
- (a) the need to protect the health of consumers and users of animal products:
 - (b) the most effective way of handling the relevant risk factors:
 - (c) the desirability of facilitating market access:
 - (d) the desirability of maintaining consistency between New Zealand animal product standards and any relevant standards, requirements, or recommended practices that apply or are accepted internationally:

 - (f) whether the scheme option proposed or selected is the most cost-effective way of achieving its prime purpose:
 - (g) any other matters the Minister considers relevant.
- (4) Regulations under this section are secondary legislation (see Part 3 of the Legislation Act 2019 for publication requirements).

Part 6 Homekill and recreational catch

66 Object of this Part

- (1) The principal objects of this Part are—
 - (a) to allow for owners of animals and recreational hunters and fishers to kill and process their own animals and recreational catch, or have it done for them by certain identified persons, outside the normal regulatory requirements of this Act, provided that the animal or recreational catch is for their own use or consumption and is not traded;
 - (b) to ensure that homekill and recreational catch is treated entirely separate from, and cannot be mingled with or traded as, regulated animal products.
- (2) In particular, this Part provides for—
 - (a) the listing of persons who may undertake homekill or recreational catch services on behalf of animal owners or recreational hunters and fishers:

- (b) a prohibition on any person undertaking such services at any premises or place where regulated animal products are processed, except in the case of retail butchers who also list as homekill or recreational catch service providers;
- (c) dual operator butchers to operate under a risk management programme that specifically recognises and takes account of the risk factors involved in carrying out dual operations at the same premises or place.

Section 66(2)(c): amended, on 26 September 2002, by section 5(10) of the Animal Products Amendment Act 2002 (2002 No 29).

67 Homekill allowed

- (1) Nothing in this Act prevents an animal owner from—
 - (a) killing or processing the animal himself or herself on his or her own property; or
 - (b) in the case of an animal owner who has been actively engaged in the day-to-day maintenance of the animal, or of other animals of the same kind, for a period of at least 28 days immediately preceding the killing of the animal, having the animal killed or processed, otherwise than in accordance with Parts 2 to 4, by a listed homekill or recreational catch service provider on the service provider's premises or place or the animal owner's own property,— so long as the resulting homekill product is for the use or consumption of the animal owner (including his or her family or household), and not for trade; and Parts 2 to 4 do not apply to any such homekill.

- (2) For the purposes of subsection (1), homekill product will be treated as being for the use or consumption of the owner, and not for trade, if—
 - (a) in the case of an animal belonging to a farmer, the farmer supplies the homekill product to an employee of the farmer who is employed in an ongoing manner in the farmer's daily farming operations, for the use or consumption of that employee (including his or her family or household); or
 - (b) the edible part of the homekill product is for the use or consumption of the owner (or the owner's family, household, or farm employee), and the only parts of the homekill product that are traded—
 - (i) are not for human or animal consumption; or
 - (ii) are sold or disposed of to a renderer in accordance with any conditions imposed by the Director-General by notice under section 167(1).
- (3) Despite subsection (1), animal product from an animal that is killed at a location other than the animal owner's own property or a listed service provider's premises or place, or by a person other than the owner or a listed service provider, may nevertheless be treated as homekill product if—

- (a) humane reasons necessitated the killing of the animal at that other location or by that other person; and
 - (b) the other requirements of this section are otherwise met in relation to the animal and material derived from the animal (except to the extent that any immediately associated processing is required at the location of the killing).
- (4) In this section, own property, in relation to an animal owner, means land which the owner—
- (a) owns or leases; or
 - (b) has a legal right to occupy or use, and does in fact occupy, or use to conduct farming or similar operations.

 - (b) having the animal killed or processed, otherwise than in accordance with Parts 2 to 4, by a listed homekill or recreational catch service provider, on the service provider's premises or place or on the catcher's property or at or near the place where the animal was hunted or harvested,—
- so long as the recreational catch product is for the use or consumption of the catcher (including members of the catcher's party or family or household), and not for trade; and Parts 2 to 4 do not apply to any such recreational catch.
- (2) For the purposes of subsection (1), recreational catch product will be treated as being for the use or consumption of the catcher, and not for trade, if—
- (a) the edible part of the product is for the use or consumption of the catcher (or members of the catcher's party or family or household); and
 - (b) the only parts of the recreational catch product that are traded—
 - (i) are not for human or animal consumption; or
 - (ii) are sold or disposed of to a renderer in accordance with any conditions imposed by the Director-General by notice under section 167(1).

- (3) For the purposes of this Act, customary catch that is duly authorised under the Fisheries Act 1996 is to be treated as recreational catch that complies with the requirements of this section, so long as it is used for the purposes for which such catch is authorised.

- (1) Despite anything in this Act, but subject to section 70, the following persons may kill or process for reward, for the owner or hunter or harvester of the animal, any animal or animal material that is homekill or recreational catch without needing to have or comply with a risk management programme, or to comply with any other requirement imposed by or under Parts 2 to 4:
- (a) persons listed as homekill or recreational catch service providers under section 76:
 - (b) persons who are in the business of providing meals and who prepare and serve recreational catch as a meal to its catcher and members of the catcher's party:
 - (c) any other class of persons specified for the purposes of this section by the regulations or any supplementary notice.
- (2) Except as provided in section 70, a person listed as a homekill or recreational catch service provider under this Part is exempt from the requirement to operate under a risk management programme in respect of the processing of animal material or products that are homekill or recreational catch; and nothing in Parts 2 to 4 applies in respect of such operations.
- (3) Nothing in section 131(2)(c) prevents a person referred to in paragraphs (a) to (c) of subsection (1) from trading or otherwise disposing of animal material derived from the processing of homekill or recreational catch if the animal material—
- (a) is skins, hides, horns, antlers, or other material that is not for human or animal consumption; or

- (1) Except as provided in subsection (2), no person may carry out at the same premises or place both—

 - (b) the processing of, or trade in, any regulated animal product for human or animal consumption.
- (2) Subsection (1) does not apply to—
- (a) retail butchers acting in accordance with section 71; or
 - (b) persons who are in the business of providing meals containing or consisting of regulated animal product, to the extent only that those persons also prepare and serve recreational catch as a meal to its catcher and members of the catcher's party; or
 - (c) game estate operators who are in the business of providing meals containing or consisting of regulated product to client hunters and their parties, to the extent that they also prepare and serve a client hunter's recreational catch as a meal to the client hunter and members of the client hunter's party; or
 - (d) listed game estate operators who are also listed homekill or recreational catch service providers, to the extent that they perform homekill or recreational catch services—
 - (i) to client hunters in respect of animals taken by the client hunters; or
 - (ii) in respect of animals owned by the game estate operator that are to be processed and consumed by the game estate operator (including the operator's family, household, or employees).

71 Requirements for dual operator butchers

- (a) the retail butcher must be listed as a homekill or recreational catch service provider:
 - (b) no animal that is homekill or recreational catch may be killed on or at any premises or place where regulated animal product is processed or traded:
 - (ba) regulated animal product must be processed and stored separately from any homekill or recreational catch animal material or product:

- (c) the dual operator butcher must operate under a risk management programme in respect of all regulated animal products at the premises or place (and accordingly is deemed to have made an election under section 32 in respect of those animal products):
- (d) in addition to any other matters required under Part 2, the risk management programme of the dual operator butcher must identify and specify the following matters:
 - (i) the unique risk factors inherent in having homekill or recreational catch processed in a place or premises where regulated animal products are also processed or traded:
 - (ii) the measures to be taken to ensure that homekill and recreational catch products are not confused with regulated animal products, and do not enter the dual operator's normal retail butcher trade or other trade in regulated animal products for human or animal consumption:
 - (iii) the measures to be taken to ensure that no product from the business, whether homekill, recreational catch, or regulated animal product for human or animal consumption, is exported, whether by the service provider or any other person (otherwise than as specifically provided by section 50 in the case of the person whose homekill or recreational catch it was).
- (2) For the avoidance of doubt, homekill or recreational catch product may not be treated as regulated animal product merely because it is processed at any premises or place subject to a risk management programme as required by subsection (1)(c) and (d).
- (3) For the avoidance of doubt, subsection (1)(c) does not prevent a person from operating under the Food Act regime in respect of food that is not animal product.

- (1) If a homekill or recreational catch service provider processes any animal product sourced from operations subject to a registered risk management programme or a regulated control scheme or the Food Act regime (or from premises licensed under the Meat Act 1981), then, unless subsection (2) applies, that product ceases to be regulated animal product, and cannot be traded.

- (2) Subsection (1) does not apply to the processing of animal product by a dual operator butcher at the dual operator butcher's premises or place under the dual operator butcher's registered risk management programme for regulated animal products, and in this case the animal product remains regulated animal product that can be traded.

Section 72(1): amended, on 2 March 2018, by section 119 of the Food Safety Law Reform Act 2018 (2018 No 3).

Part 9

Cost recovery

113 Principles of cost recovery

- (1) The Minister and the Director-General are to take all reasonable steps to ensure that so many of the direct and indirect costs of administering this Act as are not provided for by money appropriated by Parliament for the purpose are recovered under this Part, whether by way of fees, levies, or otherwise.
- (2) In determining the most appropriate method of cost recovery under section 114, and its level, in any particular case or class of cases of animal material or product, animal product business, person, or other matter, the Minister and Director-General are to have regard, as far as is reasonably practicable, to the following criteria:
 - (a) equity, in that funding for a particular function, power, or service, or a particular class of functions, powers, or services, should generally, and to the extent practicable, be sourced from the users or beneficiaries of the relevant function, power, or service at a level commensurate with their use or benefit from the function, power, or service;
 - (b) efficiency, in that costs should generally be allocated and recovered in order to ensure that maximum benefits are delivered at minimum cost;
 - (c) justifiability, in that costs should be collected only to meet the reasonable costs (including indirect costs) for the provision or exercise of the relevant function, power, or service:

- (d) transparency, in that costs should be identified and allocated as closely as practicable in relation to tangible service provision for the recovery period in which the service is provided.
- (3) Costs should not be recovered under this Part unless there has been consultation with affected parties in accordance with section 163, and the parties involved have been given sufficient time and information to make an informed contribution.
- (4) Nothing in subsection (3) or section 163 requires consultation in relation to specific fees or charges, or the specific levels of fees or charges, so long as the fees or charges set are reasonably within the purview of any general consultation or any consultation carried out for the purposes of section 116, and a failure to comply with subsection (3) does not affect the validity of any regulations made for the purposes of this Part.
- (5) Nothing in this section requires a strict apportionment of the costs to be recovered for a particular function or service based on usage, and, without limiting the way in which fees or charges may be set, a fee or charge may be set at a level or in a way that—
 - (a) is determined by calculations that involve an averaging of costs or potential costs:
 - (b) takes into account costs or potential costs of services that are not directly to be provided to the person who pays the fee or charge but which are an indirect or potential cost arising from the delivery of the service in question to a class of persons or all persons who use the service.

Section 113(3): amended, on 2 March 2018, by section 142 of the Food Safety Law Reform Act 2018 (2018 No 3).

114 Methods of cost recovery

The methods by which costs may be recovered under this Part are as follows:

- (a) fixed fees or charges:
- (b) fees or charges based on a scale or formula or at a rate determined on an hourly or other unit basis:
- (c) the recovery by way of fee or charge of actual and reasonable costs expended in or associated with the performance of a service or function:
- (d) estimated fees or charges, or fees or charges based on estimated costs, paid before the provision of the service or function, followed by reconciliation and an appropriate further payment or refund after provision of the service or function:
- (e) refundable or non-refundable deposits paid before provision of the service or performance of the function:
- (f) fees or charges imposed on users of services or third parties:
- (g) levies:

(h) any combination of the above.

Section 114(b): amended, on 26 September 2002, by section 39 of the Animal Products Amendment Act 2002 (2002 No 29).

115 Cost recovery to relate generally to a financial year

- (1) Except as provided in subsection (2), any regulations that set a fee, charge, or levy that applies in any financial year—
 - (a) must have been made before the start of that financial year; but
 - (b) except as the regulations may otherwise provide, apply in that year and all subsequent years until revoked or replaced.
- (2) Subsection (1) does not prevent the alteration or setting during any financial year of a fee, charge, or levy payable in that year if either the fee, charge, or levy is reduced or removed (or restated without substantive alteration) or, in the case of an increase or a new fee, charge, or levy,—
 - (a) appropriate consultation has been carried out with persons or representatives of persons substantially affected by the alteration or setting; and
 - (b) the Minister is satisfied that those persons, or their representatives, agree or substantially agree with the alteration or setting.
- (3) Subsection (1) does not prevent the amendment of any regulation setting a fee, charge, or levy if any substantive alteration effected by the amendment is for the purpose of correcting an error.
- (4) Recovery may be made in any financial year of any shortfall in cost recovery for any of the preceding 4 financial years and allowance may be made for any over-recovery of costs in those years (including any estimated shortfall or over-recovery for the immediately preceding financial year).

Section 115(1): amended, on 2 March 2018, by section 143 of the Food Safety Law Reform Act 2018 (2018 No 3).

Section 115(2): amended, on 26 September 2002, by section 40 of the Animal Products Amendment Act 2002 (2002 No 29).

116 Three-yearly review of cost recovery

- (1) The Minister must cause to be reviewed, at least once in every 3-year period occurring since the original setting of, or latest change to, the levels and methods of cost recovery in relation to any class of animal material or product, animal product business, person, or other matter, the levels and methods of cost recovery in the relevant area that are likely to be appropriate for the following financial year or years.

- (2) The Minister must ensure that appropriate consultation takes place in relation to any such review.
- (3) A review may make provision for recovery in any relevant financial year of any shortfall in cost recovery for any of the preceding 4 financial years, or make allowance for any over-recovery of costs in those years (including any estimated shortfall or over-recovery for the immediately preceding financial year).
- (4) Subsection (1) does not require all areas of cost recovery to be reviewed at the same time, and nor does it impose any time limit on the making of regulations to implement the results of a review.

- (1) The Governor-General may, by Order in Council made on the recommendation of the Minister, make regulations prescribing fees and charges for the purposes of this Act, including fees or charges—

- (3) Different fees and charges, or different rates or types of fee or charge, may be prescribed in respect of different classes or descriptions of animal material, animal products, persons or businesses, operations, or other matters, or any combination of them.
- (4) Without limiting subsection (3), the fees and charges prescribed may—
 - (a) differ depending on whether or not a special or urgent service is provided:
 - (b) include more than 1 level of fee or charge for the same service provided in different ways, or provided in or in respect of different places:
 - (c) differ for otherwise similar services provided in different ways:
 - (d) differ for otherwise similar services provided to different categories of person:
 - (e) differ depending on the amount of service required or the components of the service required for the particular person or class of person.
- (4A) Where regulations prescribe a formula for determining a fee or charge, the formula may specify the value of 1 or more of its components as being an amount or amounts notified for those components by the Director-General by notice under section 167(1).

- (5) The Minister may not recommend the making of regulations under this section unless satisfied that, to the extent appropriate in the circumstances, the requirements of sections 113 and 115 have been met.
