132B Presumption of imprisonment for repeat offenders

(1) This section applies only to an offender who—

(a) has been convicted of and is to be sentenced in respect of a specified publications offence committed after the commencement of this section (the repeat offence); and

- (b) before the repeat offence was committed and the conviction for it was entered, had both committed and been convicted of 1 or more specified publications offences committed before or after that commencement.
- (2) An offence is a specified publications offence for the purposes of subsection (1) only if—
 - (a) the offence is one against a provision specified in section 132A(1)(a) to (e); and
 - (b) the publication that was the subject of the offence does (to any extent) any or all of the things specified in section 132A(2)(a) to (c).
- (3) In deciding for the purposes of subsection (2)(b) whether a publication is objectionable because it does (to any extent) any or all of the things specified in section 132A(2)(a) to (c), the court must have regard,—
 - (a) if there is a subsisting decision of the Classification Office, or of the Board, to the reasons for the decision given by the Classification Office, under section 38, or by the Board, under section 55; and
 - (b) if the publication has been referred to the Classification Office under section 29(1) or section 41(3), to the report provided by the Classification Office to the court under section 30.
- (4) The offender must be sentenced for the repeat offence to a sentence of imprisonment (within the meaning of the Sentencing Act 2002) unless the court considers that the offender should not be so sentenced, having regard to—
 - (a) the particular circumstances of the repeat offence; and
 - (b) the particular circumstances of the offender (including, without limitation, his or her age if he or she is under 20 years of age).
- (5) This section overrides, as they apply to the repeat offence, all inconsistent provisions in the Sentencing Act 2002.
