4 What this Act is about

- provides when New Zealand law applies to personal property that is subject to a security interest.

7 Part 3 (Principles relating to enforceability of security interests)

Part 3 sets out the key concepts on which the Act is based. It deals with—

- the effectiveness of a security agreement between the parties to the agreement:
- when a security agreement is enforceable against the parties to the security agreement and third parties (persons who are not parties to the security agreement):
- the concept of attachment of a security interest (when a security interest comes into existence). Attachment occurs when the secured party gives value for the loan, the debtor has rights in the personal property that is used as security for the loan, and, in the case of third parties, the security agreement is enforceable against third parties:
- the perfection of security interests. Perfection involves the concept of attachment together with 1 of the methods of achieving perfection, such as registration of a financing statement or the secured party taking possession of the collateral (personal property that is subject to a security interest). Perfection is relevant to giving a secured party priority over a third party.

12 Part 9 (Enforcement of security interests)

Section 28(1): amended, on 15 April 2004, by section 10 of the Personal Property Securities Amendment Act 2004 (2004 No 30).

30 Validity, perfection, etc, of security interests in intangibles, movable equipment, etc

The validity, perfection, and effect of perfection or non-perfection of a security interest is governed by the law, including the conflict of laws rules, of the jurisdiction where the debtor is located when the security interest attaches, if the security interest is—

- (a) a security interest in an intangible:
- (b) a security interest in goods that are of a kind that are normally used in more than 1 jurisdiction, if the goods are equipment or inventory leased or held for lease by a debtor to others:

If a debtor relocates to another jurisdiction or transfers an interest in the collateral to a person located in another jurisdiction, a security interest perfected in accordance with the law applicable, as provided in section 30, continues to be perfected in New Zealand if it is perfected in the other jurisdiction by the earliest of the following:

Compare: Personal Property Security Act 1993 s 7(3) (Saskatchewan)

32 Position where no public record, etc, of perfection of security interest

- (1) If the law governing the perfection of a security interest referred to in section 30 or section 31 does not provide for public registration or recording of the security interest or a notice relating to it, and the collateral is not in the possession of the secured party, the security interest is subordinate to—

- (a) an interest in an account receivable that is payable in New Zealand; or
- (b) an interest in goods, an investment security, a negotiable instrument, a negotiable document of title, money, or chattel paper, acquired when the collateral was situated in New Zealand.

- (2) Subsection (1) does not apply if the security interest is perfected under this Act before the interest referred to in paragraph (a) of that subsection or paragraph (b) of that subsection arises.
- (3) A security interest to which subsection (1) applies may be perfected under this Act.

Compare: Personal Property Security Act 1993 s 7(4), (5) (Saskatchewan)

Part 3

Principles relating to enforceability of security interests

Purpose of Part

34 Purpose of this Part

The purpose of this Part is to outline the main principles that are relevant—

- (a) to determining the enforceability of a security interest against the debtor and third parties:
- (b) to determining the priority between security interests in the same personal property:
- (c) to determining the priority between a security interest in personal property and other interests in the same property (for example, the interest of a buyer of goods).

Effectiveness of security agreement

35 Effectiveness of security agreement

Except as otherwise provided by this Act or any other Act or rule of law or equity, a security agreement is effective according to its terms.

Compare: Personal Property Security Act 1993 s 9(1) (Saskatchewan)

Enforceability of security agreements against third parties

36 Enforceability of security agreements against third parties

- (1) A security agreement is enforceable against a third party in respect of particular collateral only if—
 - (a) the collateral is in the possession of the secured party; or
 - (b) the debtor has signed, or has assented to by letter, telegram, cable, telex message, facsimile, electronic mail, or other similar means of communication, a security agreement that contains—
 - (i) an adequate description of the collateral by item or kind that enables the collateral to be identified; or

- (ii) a statement that a security interest is taken in all of the debtor's present and after-acquired property; or
 - (iii) a statement that a security interest is taken in all of the debtor's present and after-acquired property except for specified items or kinds of personal property.
- (2) To avoid doubt, a security agreement may be enforceable against a third party in respect of particular collateral even though the security agreement is not enforceable against a third party in respect of other collateral to which the security agreement relates.

Example

Person A sells a motor to person B.

The invoice relating to the sale of the motor contains contractual terms, including a retention of title clause.

Person B has not signed the invoice.

Person A has a security interest in the motor which is enforceable against person B, but is not enforceable against anyone else.

Compare: Personal Property Security Act 1993 s 10(1), (2) (Saskatchewan)

37 Description of collateral as consumer goods or equipment inadequate

A description is inadequate for the purposes of section 36(1)(b)(i) if it describes the collateral as consumer goods or equipment without further reference to the item or kind of collateral.

Compare: Personal Property Security Act 1993 s 10(3) (Saskatchewan)

38 What constitutes adequate description of collateral held as inventory

Despite section 36(1)(b)(i), a description of collateral as inventory is adequate only while it is held by the debtor as inventory.

Compare: Personal Property Security Act 1993 s 10(4) (Saskatchewan)

39 Description of proceeds not required for enforceability against third parties

Except as otherwise provided in this Act, a security interest in proceeds is enforceable against a third party whether or not the security agreement contains a description of the proceeds.

Compare: Personal Property Security Act 1993 s 10(5) (Saskatchewan)

Attachment of security interests generally

40 Attachment of security interests generally

- (1) A security interest attaches to collateral when—
- (a) value is given by the secured party; and
 - (b) the debtor has rights in the collateral; and

- (c) except for the purpose of enforcing rights between the parties to the security agreement, the security agreement is enforceable against third parties within the meaning of section 36.
- (2) Subsection (1) does not apply if the parties to a security agreement have agreed that a security interest attaches at a later time, in which case the security interest attaches at the time specified in the agreement.
- (3) For the purposes of subsection (1)(b), a debtor has rights in goods that are leased to the debtor, consigned to the debtor, or sold to the debtor under a conditional sale agreement (including an agreement to sell subject to retention of title) no later than when the debtor obtains possession of the goods.
- (4) To avoid doubt, a reference in a security agreement to a floating charge is not an agreement that the security interest created by the floating charge attaches at a later time than the time specified in subsection (1).

Example

Person A advances $5,000 to person B in return for a security interest in person B's car and person B has signed a written security agreement in respect of that car.

Compare: Personal Property Security Act 1993 s 12(1), (2) (Saskatchewan)

Perfection of security interests generally

41 When security interest perfected

- (1) Except as otherwise provided in this Act, a security interest is perfected when—
 - (a) the security interest has attached; and
 - (b) either—
 - (i) a financing statement has been registered in respect of the security interest; or

Example

Person A registers a financing statement in respect of person B's car. Subsequently, person A's security interest in person B's car attaches. Person A's security interest is perfected.

- (ii) the secured party, or another person on the secured party's behalf, has possession of the collateral (except where possession is a result of seizure or repossession).

Example

Person A's security interest in person B's hire purchase agreement (chattel paper) has attached.

Person A takes possession of the hire purchase agreement.

Person A's security interest is perfected.

- (2) Subsection (1) applies regardless of the order in which attachment and either of the steps referred to in paragraph (b) of that subsection occur.

Compare: Personal Property Security Act 1993 ss 19, 24(1), 25 (Saskatchewan)

42 Continuity of perfection where perfected security interest subsequently perfected in another way

A security interest is continuously perfected for the purposes of this Act, if—

- (a) the security interest is perfected under this Act; and
- (b) the security interest is subsequently perfected in another way under this Act; and
- (c) there is no intervening period during which the security interest is unperfected.

Example

Person A has perfected its security interest in person B's shares by taking possession of person B's share certificates.

Person A releases the share certificates to person B so that person B can sell the shares.

Person A's security interest in person B's shares, which remains perfected for 10 working days after the share certificates were delivered to person B, is continuously perfected from the time that person A took possession of the share certificates.

Compare: Personal Property Security Act 1993 s 23(1) (Saskatchewan)

Part 4

Attachment and perfection of security interests in particular kinds of personal property

After-acquired property

43 Security interests in after-acquired property

A security agreement may provide for security interests in after-acquired property.

44 Attachment of security interests in after-acquired property

- (1) A security interest in after-acquired property attaches without specific appropriation by the debtor, unless the after-acquired property is consumer goods where—
- (a) those consumer goods are not an accession or do not replace the collateral described in the security agreement; or

- (b) the security interest in those consumer goods is not a purchase money security interest.
- (2) However, in relation to an appropriation of after-acquired property that is consumer goods, such appropriation—
 - (a) must be made by the debtor, either personally or by the debtor’s agent; and
 - (b) cannot be made by the creditor acting as the debtor’s attorney or agent.

Example

Person A and person B have entered into a security agreement, which provides that person A has a security interest in all of person B’s present and after-acquired property.

After the security agreement has been entered into, person B purchases a computer for the office.

Person A’s security interest in person B’s computer attaches when person B buys the computer.

Compare: Personal Property Security Act 1993 s 13(1) (Saskatchewan)

Section 44(2): inserted, on 7 June 2014, by section 82 of the Credit Contracts and Consumer Finance Amendment Act 2014 (2014 No 33).

Proceeds

45 Continuation of security interests in proceeds

- (1) Except as otherwise provided in this Act, a security interest in collateral that is dealt with or otherwise gives rise to proceeds—
 - (a) continues in the collateral, unless the secured party expressly or impliedly authorised the dealing; and
 - (b) extends to the proceeds.

Example

Person A has a security interest in person B’s car.

Person B sells the car without person A’s consent.

Person A has a security interest in the car and in the money received by person B from the sale of the car.

- (2) The amount secured by a security interest in collateral and the proceeds is limited to the value of the collateral at the date of the dealing that gave rise to the proceeds, if the secured party enforces the security interest against both the collateral and the proceeds.

Example

Person A has a perfected security interest in person B’s car.

The car had a value of $6,000 at the date that person A advanced $4,000 to person B.

Two years later, without person A's consent, person B sells the car for $3,500, which is the value of the car at that time.

Person A enforces its security interest in the car and the proceeds.

Person A can recover only $3,500 as the amount secured by person A's security interest.

Compare: Personal Property Security Act 1993 s 28(1) (Saskatchewan)

46 When security interest in proceeds is continuously perfected

A security interest in proceeds is a continuously perfected security interest in proceeds if the security interest in the original collateral is perfected by registration of a financing statement that—

- (a) contains a description of the proceeds that would be sufficient to perfect a security interest in original collateral of the same kind; or
- (b) contains a description of the original collateral, if—
 - (i) the proceeds are of a kind that are within the description of the original collateral; or
 - (ii) the proceeds are cash proceeds; or
 - (iii) the proceeds consist of a payment made in total or partial discharge or redemption of an intangible, a negotiable instrument, an investment security, or chattel paper; or
 - (iv) the proceeds consist of a right to an insurance payment or any other payment as indemnity or compensation for loss or damage to the collateral or proceeds.

Example

Person A has registered a financing statement in respect of person B's (a car dealer's) inventory (cars).

Person A's security interest in the cash proceeds received from the sale of those cars is continuously perfected.

Compare: Personal Property Security Act 1993 s 28(2) (Saskatchewan)

47 Temporary perfection of security interests in proceeds in other cases

A security interest in proceeds is temporarily perfected until the expiration of 10 working days after the security interest in the original collateral attached to the proceeds, if—

- (a) the security interest in the original collateral is perfected; and
- (b) the security interest in the proceeds is not continuously perfected under section 46.

Example

Person A has registered a financing statement in respect of person B's (a car dealer's) inventory (cars).

Person B sells the cars under hire purchase agreements (chattel paper).

Person A has a security interest in the hire purchase agreements as proceeds.

Person A's security interest in the hire purchase agreements is temporarily perfected for 10 working days after person A's security interest in the inventory attached to each agreement as proceeds.

Compare: Personal Property Security Act 1993 s 28(3) (Saskatchewan)

Collateral returned to debtor

48 Temporary perfection of security interest in negotiable instrument or investment security returned to debtor

A security interest in a negotiable instrument or an investment security is temporarily perfected until the expiration of 10 working days after the secured party made the negotiable instrument or investment security available to the debtor, if—

- (a) the security interest was perfected by possession; and
- (b) the secured party gave possession of the negotiable instrument or investment security to the debtor for sale, exchange, presentation, collection, renewal, or registration of a transfer.

Example

Person A has perfected its security interest in person B's shares by taking possession of person B's share certificates.

Person A releases the share certificates so that person B can sell the shares.

Person A's security interest in person B's shares is temporarily perfected for 10 working days after the share certificates were made available to person B.

- (a) the security interest was perfected by possession; and
- (b) the secured party delivered the negotiable document of title or goods for the purposes of sale, exchange, loading, unloading, storing, shipping, manufacturing, processing, packaging, or otherwise dealing with the goods in preparation for their sale or exchange.

Example

Person A has a security interest in person B's fruit, which is being held in cool storage on behalf of person A.

Person A authorises the release of the fruit to person B for the purposes of sale.

Person A's security interest in person B's fruit is temporarily perfected for 10 working days after the fruit comes under the control of person B.

 - (ii) holds the goods on behalf of the secured party under section 41.

Part 7

Priority between security interests

Priority of security interests generally

66 Priority of security interests in same collateral when Act provides no other way of determining priority

If this Act provides no other way of determining priority between security interests in the same collateral,—

- (a) a perfected security interest has priority over an unperfected security interest in the same collateral:

Example

Person A's security interest in person B's car has been perfected by registering a financing statement.

Person C's security interest in person B's car has not been perfected.

Person A's perfected security interest in person B's car has priority over person C's unperfected security interest in person B's car.

- (b) priority between perfected security interests in the same collateral (where perfection has been continuous) is to be determined by the order of whichever of the following first occurs in relation to a particular security interest:
- (i) the registration of a financing statement:
- (ii) the secured party, or another person on the secured party's behalf, taking possession of the collateral (except where possession is a result of seizure or repossession):
- (iii) the temporary perfection of the security interest in accordance with this Act:

Example

Person A registers a financing statement in respect of person B's present and after-acquired property before person C registers a financing statement in respect of the same collateral.

Person A's perfected security interest has priority over person C's perfected security interest in the same collateral.

- (c) priority between unperfected security interests in the same collateral is to be determined by the order of attachment of the security interests.

Example

Person A and person C have not perfected their respective security interests in person B's car.

Person A's security interest in person B's car was the first to attach.

Person A's security interest has priority over person C's security interest in person B's car.

Compare: Personal Property Security Act 1993 s 35(1) (Saskatchewan)

67 Original method of perfection applies to continuously perfected security interest

For the purposes of section 66, a continuously perfected security interest is to be treated at all times as perfected by the method by which it was originally perfected.

Compare: Personal Property Security Act 1993 s 35(2) (Saskatchewan)

68 Time of registration, etc, of original collateral is also time of registration, etc, of proceeds

For the purposes of section 66, the time of registration, possession, or perfection of a security interest in original collateral is also the time of registration, possession, or perfection of its proceeds.

Compare: Personal Property Security Act 1993 s 35(3) (Saskatchewan)

69 Transfer of security interests does not affect priority

A security interest that is transferred has the same priority as it had at the time of the transfer.

Compare: Personal Property Security Act 1993 s 23(2) (Saskatchewan)

70 Voluntary subordination of security interests

- (1) A secured party may, in a security agreement or otherwise, subordinate the secured party's security interest to any other interest.
- (2) An agreement to subordinate a security interest is effective according to its terms between the parties and may be enforced by a third party if the third party is the person, or 1 of a class of persons, for whose benefit the agreement is intended.
- (3) A security interest is not created only by an agreement or undertaking to postpone or subordinate the following:
 - (a) the right of a person to performance of all or any part of an obligation to the right of another person to the performance of all or any part of another obligation of the same debtor:
 - (b) all or any part of the rights of a secured party under a security agreement to all or any part of the rights of another secured party under another security agreement with the same debtor.

Compare: Personal Property Security Act 1993 s 40(1) (Saskatchewan)

Priority of advances

71 Security agreement may provide for future advances

A security agreement may provide for future advances.

Section 71: substituted, on 1 May 2002, by section 7 of the Personal Property Securities Amendment Act 2001 (2001 No 23).

72 Priority of security interest applies to all advances

A security interest has the same priority in respect of all advances, including future advances.

Compare: Personal Property Security Act 1993 s 35(5) (Saskatchewan)

Priority of purchase money security interests

73 Priority of purchase money security interest in collateral or its proceeds, other than inventory or intangibles

- (1) A purchase money security interest in collateral or its proceeds, other than inventory or intangibles, has priority over a non-purchase money security interest in the same collateral given by the same debtor if the purchase money security interest in the collateral or its proceeds is perfected not later than 10 working days after the day on which the debtor, or another person at the request of the debtor, obtained possession of the collateral, whichever is earlier.

Example

Person A has a perfected security interest in all of person B's present and after-acquired property.

Person B buys a car on hire purchase from person C.

Person C registers a financing statement in respect of person B's car 5 working days after person B took possession of the new car.

Person C's security interest in person B's car has priority over person A's security interest in person B's car.

- (2) However, section 103A overrides this section.

Compare: Personal Property Security Act 1993 s 34(2)(a) (Saskatchewan)

Section 73(2): added, on 24 November 2009, by section 21 of the Reserve Bank of New Zealand Amendment Act 2009 (2009 No 53).

74 Priority of purchase money security interest in inventory or its proceeds

A purchase money security interest in inventory or its proceeds has priority over a non-purchase money security interest in the same collateral given by the same debtor if the purchase money security interest in the inventory or its proceeds is perfected at the time the debtor, or another person at the request of the debtor, obtains possession of the collateral, whichever is earlier.

Example

Person A makes a loan to person B (a car dealer) for the purchase of inventory (cars).

Person A registers a financing statement in respect of person B's inventory before person B obtains possession of the cars.

Before person A registered its financing statement in respect of person B's inventory, person C had registered a financing statement in respect of person B's inventory.

Person A's purchase money security interest in person B's inventory has priority over person C's security interest in person B's inventory.

Compare: Personal Property Security Act 1993 s 34(3) (Saskatchewan)

75 Priority of purchase money security interest in intangible or its proceeds

A purchase money security interest in an intangible or its proceeds has priority over a non-purchase money security interest in the same collateral given by the same debtor if the purchase money security interest in the intangible or its proceeds is perfected not later than 10 working days after the day on which the security interest in the intangible attached.

Example

Person A has a security interest in all of person B's present and after-acquired property.

Person C makes a loan to person B for the purchase of a patent.

Person C registers a financing statement in respect of the patent 5 working days after person C's purchase money security interest attached to the patent.

Person C's purchase money security interest in person B's patent has priority over person A's security interest in person B's patent.

Compare: Personal Property Security Act 1993 s 34(2)(b) (Saskatchewan)

75A Non-proceeds security interest in accounts receivable

- (1) A non-proceeds security interest in accounts receivable that is given for new value has priority over a purchase money security interest in the accounts receivable as proceeds of inventory if a financing statement relating to the security interest in the accounts receivable is registered before the purchase money security interest is perfected or a financing statement relating to it is registered.
- (2) In this section, non-proceeds security interest means a security interest in original collateral.
- (3) Sections 73 to 75 are subject to this section.

Compare: Personal Property Security Act 1993, s 34(6), (7) (Saskatchewan)

Section 75A: inserted, on 15 April 2004, by section 15 of the Personal Property Securities Amendment Act 2004 (2004 No 30).

76 Priority between purchase money security interests in goods or their proceeds taken by seller, etc

A purchase money security interest in goods or their proceeds taken by a seller, lessor, or consignor of the collateral, has priority over any other purchase money security interest in the same collateral given by the same debtor if the first-mentioned purchase money security interest in the goods or their proceeds is perfected,—

- (a) in the case of inventory, at the time the debtor, or another person at the request of the debtor, obtained possession of the collateral, whichever is earlier; or
- (b) in the case of collateral, other than inventory, not later than 10 working days after the day on which the debtor, or another person at the request of the debtor, obtained possession of the collateral, whichever is earlier.

Example

Person A (a bank) loans person B the deposit for the purchase of a car.

Person B pays the deposit to person C (a car dealer) for the purchase of a new car and the balance of the car's purchase price is payable to person C under a hire purchase agreement.

Person C registers a financing statement in respect of person B's new car 5 working days after the debtor takes delivery of the car.

Person C's perfected purchase money security interest in person B's new car has priority over person A's purchase money security interest in person B's new car.

Compare: Personal Property Security Act 1993 s 34(5) (Saskatchewan)

77 Priority between purchase money security interests in same goods or their proceeds not taken by seller, etc

Priority between purchase money security interests in the same goods or their proceeds that have not been taken by a seller, lessor, or consignor, and that have been given by the same debtor are to be determined in accordance with section 66.

Example

Person A (a bank) loans money to person B for the purchase of a new car.

Person A registers a financing statement in respect of person B's new car.

Person C (another bank) loans money to person B for the purchase of the same car.

Person C registers a financing statement in respect of person B's new car after person A has registered its financing statement in respect of the same car.

Person A's perfected purchase money security interest in person B's new car has priority over person C's perfected purchase money security interest in person B's new car.

*Priority of security interests in accessions78 Security interests in accessions

A security interest in goods that become an accession continues in the accession.

Example

A security interest in a motor continues in the motor even after its installation in a car.

79 Priority of security interest in goods before they become accessions

Except as otherwise provided in this Act, a security interest in goods that is attached at the time when the goods become an accession has priority over a claim to the goods as an accession made by a person with an interest in the whole.

Example

Person A has a security interest in person B's car.

Person C sells a replacement motor to person B under a retention of title agreement.

The motor is subsequently installed in person B's car.

Person C's security interest in the motor has priority over a claim to the motor made by person A.

Compare: Personal Property Security Act 1993 s 38(2) (Saskatchewan)

80 Certain interests in whole have priority over security interests in goods before they become accessions

The interest of any of the following persons has priority over a security interest in goods that is attached at the time when the goods become an accession:

- (a) a person who acquires for value an interest in the whole after the goods become an accession, but before the security interest in the accession is perfected:
- (b) an assignee for value of a person with an interest in the whole at the time when the goods become an accession, but before the security interest in the accession is perfected:
- (c) a person with a perfected security interest in the whole who makes an advance under the security agreement relating to the security interest after the goods become an accession, but before the security interest in the accession is perfected, and only to the extent of the advance:
- (d) a person with a perfected security interest in the whole who acquires the right to retain the whole in satisfaction of the obligation secured after the goods become an accession, but before the security interest in the accession is perfected.

Example

Person A sells a motor to person B under a retention of title agreement.

The motor is installed in person B's car.

Person C takes a security interest in person B's car (including the motor) and perfects its security interest by registering a financing statement.

Person C's perfected security interest in person B's car, including the motor, has priority over person A's security interest in the motor.

Compare: Personal Property Security Act 1993 s 38(3) (Saskatchewan)

81 Certain interests have priority over security interests in goods that are not attached when goods become accession

A security interest in goods that attaches after the goods become an accession is subordinate to the interest of—

- (a) a person who has an interest in the other goods at the time when the goods become an accession and who—
 - (i) has not consented to the security interest in the accession; and
 - (ii) has not disclaimed an interest in the accession; and
 - (iii) has not entered into an agreement under which another person is entitled to remove the accession; and
 - (iv) is otherwise entitled to prevent the debtor from removing the accession; or
- (b) a person who acquires an interest in the whole after the goods become an accession, but before the security interest in the accession is perfected.

Example

Person A sells a motor to person B under a retention of title agreement.

The motor is installed in person B's car before the retention of title agreement has been signed.

Person C takes a security interest in person B's car (including the motor), before person A registers a financing statement in respect of person B's motor.

Subsequently, person C registers a financing statement in respect of person B's car (including the motor).

Person C's perfected security interest in person B's car (including the motor) has priority over person A's perfected security interest in the motor.

Compare: Personal Property Security Act 1993 s 38(4) (Saskatchewan)

Priority of security interests in processed or commingled goods

82 Continuation of security interests in goods that become part of processed or commingled goods

A security interest in goods that subsequently become part of a product or mass continues in the product or mass if the goods are so manufactured, processed, assembled, or commingled that their identity is lost in the product or mass.

Example

Person A has registered a financing statement in respect of all of person B's sugar. Person B's sugar is subsequently combined with other ingredients to become ice cream.

Person A's perfected security interest continues in the ice cream.

Compare: Personal Property Security Act 1993 s 39(1) (Saskatchewan)

83 Original method of perfection of goods applies to goods that become part of processed or commingled goods

For the purposes of section 66, perfection of a security interest in goods that subsequently become part of a product or mass is to be treated as perfection of the security interest in the product or the mass.

Compare: Personal Property Security Act 1993 s 39(3) (Saskatchewan)

84 Limit on value of priority of goods that become part of processed or commingled goods

Any priority that a security interest continuing in the product or mass has over another security interest in the product or mass is limited to the value of the goods on the day on which they became part of the product or mass.

Compare: Personal Property Security Act 1993 s 39(5) (Saskatchewan)

85 Priority where more than 1 security interest continues in processed or commingled goods

- (1) A perfected security interest continuing in the product or mass has priority over an unperfected security interest continuing in the same product or mass.
- (2) If more than 1 perfected security interest continues in the same product or mass, each perfected security interest is entitled to share in the product or mass according to the ratio that the obligation secured by the perfected security interest bears to the sum of the obligations secured by all perfected security interests in the same product or mass.
- (3) If more than 1 unperfected security interest continues in the same product or mass, each unperfected security interest is entitled to share in the product or mass according to the ratio that the obligation secured by the unperfected security interest bears to the sum of the obligations secured by all unperfected security interests in the same product or mass.

- (4) For the purposes of this section, the obligation secured by a security interest does not exceed the value of the goods on the day on which the goods became part of the product or mass.

Example

Person A manufactures ice cream from sugar and cream.

Person B loans person A the full purchase price of the sugar, which is $1,000.

Person C loans person A the full purchase price of the cream, which is $2,000.

Person B and person C have registered financing statements.

Person A manufactures a batch of ice cream, which sells for $2,000.

Person B and person C divide the proceeds in a proportion of 1-to-2.

Person B would get one-third of $2,000 and person C would get two-third of $2,000.

Compare: Personal Property Security Act 1993 s 39(2), (4) (Saskatchewan)

86 Priority of purchase money security interest in goods that continues in processed or commingled goods

Despite section 85, a perfected purchase money security interest in goods that continues in the product or mass has priority over—

- (a) a non-purchase money security interest in the goods that continues in the product or mass; and
- (b) a non-purchase money security interest in the product or mass given by the same debtor.

Example

Person A has a perfected security interest in person B's sugar, which is to be manufactured into ice cream by person B.

Person C loans person B the purchase price of the sugar that is to be used in the manufacture of person B's ice cream.

Person C registers a financing statement in respect of person B's sugar.

The sugar is manufactured into ice cream.

Person C's perfected purchase money security interest in person B's sugar, which continues in person B's ice cream, has priority over person A's security interest in person B's sugar, which also continues in person B's ice cream.

Compare: Personal Property Security Act 1993 s 39(6) (Saskatchewan)

Priority of security interests in transferred collateral

87 Rights of debtor may be transferred

- (1) The rights of a debtor in collateral may be transferred consensually or by operation of law despite a provision in the security agreement prohibiting transfer or declaring a transfer to be a default.

- (2) A transfer by the debtor does not prejudice the rights of the secured party under the agreement or otherwise, including the right to treat a prohibited transfer as an act of default.
- (3) In this section, transfer includes a sale, the creation of a security interest, or a transfer under judgment enforcement proceedings.

Compare: Personal Property Security Act 1993 s 33 (New Brunswick)

88 General priority of security interest in transferred collateral over security interests granted by transferee

- (1) If a debtor transfers an interest in collateral that, at the time of the transfer, is subject to a perfected security interest, that security interest has priority over any other security interest granted by the transferee, except to the extent that the security interest granted by the transferee secures advances made or contracted for—
 - (a) after the expiration of 15 days from the date that the secured party who holds the security interest in the transferred collateral had knowledge of the information required to register a financing change statement disclosing the transferee as the new debtor; and
 - (b) before the secured party referred to in paragraph (a) took possession of the collateral or registered a financing change statement disclosing the transferee as the new debtor.
- (2) Subsection (1) does not apply if the transferee acquires the debtor's interest free of the security interest granted by the debtor.

Compare: Personal Property Security Act 1993 s 35(8), (9) (New Brunswick)

89 Transfer of debtor's interest in collateral with prior consent of secured party

Despite section 88, if a security interest is perfected by registration and the debtor transfers all or part of the debtor's interest in the collateral with the prior consent of the secured party, the security interest in the transferred collateral is subordinate to—

- (a) an interest, other than a security interest in the transferred collateral, arising during the period commencing on the expiration of the 15th day after the transfer to the time the secured party amended the registration to disclose the name of the transferee of the interest in the collateral as the new debtor or took possession of the collateral; and
- (b) a perfected security interest in the transferred collateral that is registered or perfected during the period referred to in paragraph (a); and
- (c) a perfected security interest in the transferred collateral that is registered or perfected after the transfer and before the expiration of the 15th day after the transfer if, before the expiration of the 15 days,—

- (i) the registration of the security interest first referred to in this section is not amended to disclose the transferee of the interest in the collateral as the new debtor; or
- (ii) the secured party does not take possession of the collateral.

Compare: Personal Property Security Act 1993 s 51(1) (New Brunswick)

90 Transfer of debtor's interest in collateral where secured party has knowledge of certain information

- (1) Despite section 88, subsection (2) applies where a security interest is perfected by registration and the secured party has knowledge of—
 - (a) information required to register a financing change statement disclosing the transferee as the new debtor, where all or part of the debtor's interest in the collateral is transferred; or
 - (b) the new name of the debtor, if there has been a change in the debtor's name.
- (2) The security interest, in the transferred collateral where subsection (1)(a) applies, and in the collateral where subsection (1)(b) applies, is subordinate to—
 - (a) an interest, other than a security interest, in that collateral, arising during the period commencing on the expiration of the 15th day after the secured party has knowledge of the information referred to in subsection (1)(a) or the new name of the debtor to the time the secured party amends the registration to disclose the name of the transferee as the debtor, or to disclose the new name of the debtor, or takes possession of the collateral; and
 - (b) a perfected security interest in the collateral that is registered or perfected in the period referred to in paragraph (a); and
 - (c) a perfected security interest in the collateral that is registered or perfected after the secured party had knowledge of the information referred to in subsection (1)(a) or the new name of the debtor and before the expiration of the 15th day referred to in paragraph (a), if, before the expiration of the 15 days,—
 - (i) the registration of the security interest first referred to in this subsection is not amended to disclose the transferee of the collateral as the new debtor or to disclose the new name of the debtor; or
 - (ii) the secured party does not take possession of the collateral.

Compare: Personal Property Security Act 1993 s 51(2) (New Brunswick)

91 Transfer of debtor's interest in collateral without secured party's consent

- (1) If the debtor's interest in part or all of the collateral is transferred by the debtor without the consent of the secured party and there are 1 or more subsequent transfers of the collateral without the consent of the secured party before the secured party acquires knowledge of the name of the most recent transferee of the collateral, the secured party is deemed to have complied with section 90 if the secured party registers a financing statement not later than 15 days after acquiring knowledge of—

- (a) the name of the most recent transferee of the collateral; and
 - (b) the information required to register a financing change statement.

Part 12 Transitional provisions

193 Interpretation

In this Part, unless the context otherwise requires,— existing secured party means a holder of a prior security interest

prior law means the law that existed immediately before the commencement of this Act

prior registration law means the Chattels Transfer Act 1924, the Industrial and Provident Societies Amendment Act 1952, the Motor Vehicle Securities Act 1989, and the Companies (Registration of Charges) Act 1993, as in force immediately before the commencement of this Act

prior security interest—

- (a) means a security interest created or provided for by a security agreement or other transaction that was made or entered into before the commencement of this Act and that had not been terminated before that commencement date; but

- (b) does not include a security interest that is renewed or extended by a security agreement or other transaction made or entered into on or after the commencement of this Act

prior third party interest means a third party interest that arose before the commencement of this Act transitional period means the period of 6 months commencing on the commencement of this Act.

Enforceability of prior security interest against third parties

194 Prior security interests continue to be enforceable against third parties during transitional period

A prior security interest that was enforceable against third parties under the prior law continues, during the transitional period, to be enforceable against third parties under this Act.

Perfection of prior security interests

195 Prior registered security interests deemed to be perfected by registration during transitional period

A prior security interest that, immediately before the commencement of this Act, was registered under prior registration law is, during the transitional period, deemed to be perfected by registration under this Act.

Example

Instruments by way of security registered under the Chattels Transfer Act 1924, company charges registered in accordance with the Companies (Registration of Charges) Act 1993, security interests registered under the Motor Vehicles Securities Act 1989.

196 Certain other prior security interests deemed to be perfected during transitional period

A prior security interest (other than a prior security interest to which section 195 applies) is, during the transitional period, deemed to be perfected by registration under this Act if the prior security interest had (under the prior law and without the collateral relating to that prior security interest being taken into possession by the secured party) priority over every other prior security interest (if any).

Example

A retention of title clause.

Section 196: amended, on 15 April 2004, by section 27 of the Personal Property Securities Amendment Act 2004 (2004 No 30).

197 Prior security interests to be perfected during transitional period

An existing secured party may, before the end of the transitional period, perfect that secured party's prior security interest under this Act.

198 Consequences of not perfecting certain security interests

- (1) A prior security interest that is deemed to be a perfected security interest under section 195 or section 196 and that is not perfected under this Act within the transitional period is deemed to be an unperfected security interest on the close of the transitional period.
- (2) If a prior security interest that is deemed to be an unperfected security interest under subsection (1) is perfected after the close of the transitional period, that perfection is only effective from the time of that perfection.

Section 198(2): added, on 15 April 2004, by section 28 of the Personal Property Securities Amendment Act 2004 (2004 No 30).

199 Time of registration of certain prior security interests

For the purposes of this Act, the time of registration of a prior security interest that is deemed to be perfected by registration under this Act is—

- (a) the date that, under the relevant prior registration law, determined the priority of the security interest (where the prior security interest is deemed to be perfected by registration under section 195);
- (b) the date that the security interest was created (where the prior security interest is deemed to be perfected by registration under section 196).

Section 199: substituted, on 1 May 2002, by section 12 of the Personal Property Securities Amendment Act 2001 (2001 No 23).

Section 199(a): amended, on 15 April 2004, by section 29 of the Personal Property Securities Amendment Act 2004 (2004 No 30).

Section 199(b): amended, on 15 April 2004, by section 29 of the Personal Property Securities Amendment Act 2004 (2004 No 30).

Priority of prior security interests

200 Priority of prior security interests during transitional period

- (1) During the transitional period,—
 - (a) priority between prior security interests will be determined by the prior law:

Example

During the transitional period, priority between 2 company charges that were in existence before the commencement of this Act will be determined in accordance with the law that was in force before that commencement.

- (b) priority between a prior security interest that is deemed to be perfected by registration under section 195 or section 196 and a security interest perfected in accordance with this Act will be determined by this Act:

Example

During the transitional period, priority between a company charge registered in accordance with the Companies (Registration of Charges) Act 1993 and a security interest perfected under this Act will be determined in accordance with this Act.

- (c) priority between an unperfected prior security interest and another unperfected security interest will be determined by the order in which attachment occurred.

Example

During the transitional period, priority between a company charge that was not registered in accordance with the Companies (Registration of Charges) Act 1993 before the commencement of this Act and a security interest that has not been perfected under this Act is to be determined according to the order in which attachment occurred.

- (2) During the transitional period, prior security interests deemed to be perfected under section 195 or section 196 and security interests perfected in accordance with this Act will have priority over any unperfected security interests.

Example

During the transitional period, a floating charge that was registered in accordance with the Companies (Registration of Charges) Act 1993 has priority over a security interest that has not been perfected in accordance with this Act.

201 Priority of third party interests during transitional period

During the transitional period,—

- (a) priority between a prior security interest and a prior third party interest will be determined by the prior law:
- (b) priority between a prior security interest and a third party interest that arose on or after the commencement of this Act will be determined by this Act:
- (c) priority between a security interest that is not a prior security interest and a prior third party interest will be determined by this Act.
