Order

1 Title

This order is the Customs and Excise (Specified RCEP Parties—Indonesia) Amendment Order 2022.

2 Commencement

This order comes into force on 2 January 2023.

3 Principal order

This order amends the Customs and Excise (Specified RCEP Parties) Order 2021.

4 Schedule amended

In the Schedule, after the item relating to China, insert:

Indonesia (2 January 2023)

Rachel Hayward,
Clerk of the Executive Council.

Explanatory note

This note is not part of the order, but is intended to indicate its general effect.

This order, which comes into force on 2 January 2023, amends the Customs and Excise (Specified RCEP Parties) Order 2021 (the principal order). It declares Indonesia to be a specified party to the Regional Comprehensive Economic Partnership (the RCEP) for the purposes of the Customs and Excise Act 2018. The RCEP is a free trade agreement done at Hanoi, Vietnam, on 15 November 2020.

This order inserts Indonesia into the list of specified RCEP parties in the Schedule of the principal order with the date of 2 January 2023 next to it. That means that, on and from that date,—

- Indonesia will be a specified RCEP party (see clause 3(3) of the principal order); and
- authorised certification bodies will be able to issue New Zealand certificates of origin in respect of goods for export to Indonesia.

Indonesia will also be a specified party for the purposes of the Tariff Act 1988, under the Tariff (Specified RCEP Parties) Order 2021, on and from 2 January 2023.

Regulatory impact statement

The Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Trade produced an extended national interest analysis (that took the place of a regulatory impact statement) on 22 October 2020 to help inform the decisions taken by the Government relating to the RCEP.
