Explanatory note

This note is not part of the regulations but is intended to indicate their general effect.

These regulations, which come into force on 1 July 2024, amend the Employment Court Regulations 2000. These regulations increase the fees relating to proceedings in the Employment Court by 10%. The fees are exclusive of goods and services tax.

The new fees have been calculated so that they are rounded to the nearest dollar once goods and services tax has been added. This ensures that, in practice, fees can be set at a dollar amount.
