Proceedings, etc, that originated under previous rules

435 Transitional provision

- (1) In this rule, previous rules, in relation to proceedings in the court, means the rules that, immediately before the commencement of these rules, applied to the proceedings.
- (2) Except as provided in subclauses (4) and (5), the things specified in subclause (3) enure for the purposes of these rules as if they had originated under the corresponding provisions of these rules, and accordingly must, where necessary, be treated as if they had originated under these rules.
- (3) The things referred to in subclause (2) are all appointments, records, accounts, books, seals, certificates, summonses, applications, notices, documents, warrants, judgments, orders, decisions, directions, appeals and generally all acts of authority that originated under any previous rules and are subsisting or in force at the commencement of these rules.
- (4) All proceedings in the court commenced before and pending or in progress on the commencement of these rules may be continued, completed, and enforced under these rules, and accordingly these rules, so far as practicable, apply to those proceedings. However, in so far as it is not practicable for any provision of these rules to be applied to any such proceedings, the previous rules, to such extent as may be necessary, continue to apply to those proceedings.
- (5) If in any proceedings to which subclause (4) applies a question arises as to the application of any of these rules or of the previous rules, the court or a Registrar may, either on the application of a party to the proceedings or on its or his or her own initiative, determine the question and make any order on the question as it or he or she thinks fit.

Statement of rights and obligations of person served in Australia with subpoena under Evidence Act 2006

Important: This statement is important. Please read the statement and the attached document carefully. If you are in any doubt about this statement or the attached documents, you should get legal advice immediately.

Attached to this statement is a subpoena issued by the Family Court at [place] in New Zealand. A subpoena is a summons to a witness to give evidence or produce documents. The subpoena attached to this statement requires you to [specify whether witness is required to attend the Family Court or some other place to give evidence, give evidence and produce documents and things, or only produce documents].

The subpoena may be served in Australia under section 156 of the Evidence Act 2006 of New Zealand.

This statement sets out your rights and obligations relating to the subpoena.

Your rights

- 1 At the time you are served with this subpoena, or at some other reasonable time before the hearing, you are entitled to be paid allowances and travelling expenses, or given vouchers in respect of those allowances and expenses, that cover your reasonable expenses in complying with this subpoena.
- 2 You are not required to comply with this subpoena unless those allowances and travelling expenses or vouchers are tendered to you.
- 3 You are also entitled to be paid for your reasonable expenses in complying with the subpoena in addition to any payment or vouchers tendered to you. You may apply to the Family Court at [place] in New Zealand for an order specifying that amount.
- 4 You may apply to the Family Court at [place] in New Zealand to have the subpoena set aside. If you want to have the subpoena set aside, you should get legal advice as soon as possible.
- 5 An application to set the subpoena aside can be made and determined without having to go to New Zealand. You are entitled to have Australian solicitors act for you.
- 6 The Family Court at [place] in New Zealand may determine the application without a hearing if neither you nor the party who requested the issue of the subpoena requires a hearing. The court may hold a hearing by audio link or audiovisual link if the court thinks fit. If a party applies to the court for a direction to hear the application by audio link or audiovisual link, the court is required to hear it by audio link or audiovisual link.

Note: See “setting subpoena aside” for details of the grounds on which a subpoena may be set aside and the procedure that must be followed.

Your obligations

- 7 If the subpoena is not set aside, you must comply with it if—
- (a) when you were served with the subpoena, or at some reasonable time before the time specified for you to comply, you have been paid or tendered allowances and travelling expenses, or offered vouchers in respect of those allowances and expenses, that are sufficient to cover reasonable expenses incurred in complying with this subpoena; and
  - (b) a copy of the order of the Judge of the Family Court at [place] in New Zealand granting leave to serve the subpoena was served on you with the subpoena; and
  - (c) you were served with the subpoena not later than the date specified by the Judge of the Family Court who granted leave to serve the subpoena; and
  - (d) any other conditions relating to the service of the subpoena have been complied with; and
  - (e) you are 18 years of age or older.
- 8 If the subpoena only requires you to produce documents or things, you may comply with the subpoena by producing the documents or things at any registry of an Australian court that is authorised by the law of the Commonwealth of Australia to receive them, not later than 10 days before the date specified in the subpoena for producing them in the Family Court at [place] in New Zealand. If you produce the documents or things at a registry of an Australian court, you will be required to produce the subpoena and to pay the cost of sending the documents or things to the Family Court. You are entitled to have the costs of producing the documents or things, and of sending them to the Family Court, paid or tendered to you before you are required to comply with the subpoena.

Failure to comply with subpoena

- 9 Failure to comply with the subpoena constitutes contempt of the Federal Court of Australia and is punishable unless you establish that the failure to comply should be excused.

Setting subpoena aside

- 10 You may apply to the Family Court at [place] in New Zealand to have this subpoena set aside under section 160 of the Evidence Act 2006 of New Zealand. Section 160 provides that the Family Court must set the subpoena aside if—
- (a) the subpoena requires the witness to attend at a sitting of a court and the Family Court is satisfied that—

- (i) the witness does not have, and cannot by the exercise of reasonable diligence within the time required for compliance obtain, the necessary travel documents; or
    - (ii) the witness is liable to be detained in New Zealand for the purpose of serving a sentence; or
    - (iii) the witness is liable to prosecution for an offence, or is being prosecuted for an offence, in New Zealand; or
    - (iv) the witness is liable to the imposition of a civil penalty in civil proceedings in New Zealand, not being proceedings for a pecuniary penalty under the Commerce Act 1986; or
  - (b) the witness is subject to a restriction on his or her movements, imposed by law or by order of a court, that would prevent the witness complying with the subpoena.
- 11 Section 160 further provides that the Family Court may set a subpoena aside if it is satisfied that—
- (a) the evidence of the witness could be obtained satisfactorily without significantly greater expense by other means; or
  - (b) compliance with the subpoena would cause hardship or serious inconvenience to the witness; or
  - (c) in the case of a subpoena that requires a witness to produce documents or things, whether or not it also requires the witness to give oral evidence,—
    - (i) the documents or things should not be taken out of Australia; and
    - (ii) satisfactory evidence of the contents of the documents or evidence of the things can be given by other means.
- 12 An application to set the subpoena aside must be filed in the registry of the Family Court at [place] in New Zealand, together with any affidavit setting out the facts on which you rely.
- 13 The application and the affidavit may be sent by fax or email. The fax number and email address of the registry of the court are [fax number and email address].
- 14 The application must contain an address for service in New Zealand or Australia and may also state a fax number in New Zealand or Australia or email address to which documents relating to the application may be sent.
- 15 The Registrar of the Family Court at [place] in New Zealand will arrange for service of the application and any affidavit.
- 16 The Family Court at [place] in New Zealand can decide the application without a hearing if neither you (for example, in the application) nor the party who requested the issue of the subpoena (for example, in a document filed in response to the application) states that a hearing is required. If there is to be a hearing, the hearing may, if the court thinks fit, be by audio link or audiovisual link. You may, however, either in your application to set the subpoena aside or within a reasonable time after filing the application, request that the court direct that the hearing be by audio link or audiovisual link. If you make such a request, the court will direct that the hearing be by audio link or audiovisual link.

However, if the child is adopted by the mother or by the mother and her spouse, the adoption does not prevent the making of any paternity order or maintenance order that could previously have been made or prevent the mother from making an application for a paternity order or a maintenance order:
- (e) the domicile of the child is changed to that of the adoptive parents, but the child's race and nationality are not affected:
- (f) the child must be treated as a New Zealand citizen by birth if at least one of the adoptive parents is a New Zealand citizen.

Certificate by witness

I certify that, before [full name(s)] signed the consent set out above, I fully explained to him (or her or them) the effect of the making of an adoption order as set out in the Adoption Act 1955, and that he (or she or they) appeared to fully understand that effect.

Notice of interim order

r 250(a)

(Heading—Form A 2)

To [full name], of [address], *and [full name], his (or her) spouse.

*Delete if inapplicable.

On [date], the court made an order in relation to your application to adopt a child. The order was an interim order only, as required by the Adoption Act 1955, and while it remains in force the following conditions apply:

- (a) you have the role of providing day-to-day care for the child *on the following terms:
- (b) any social worker may, at all reasonable times, visit and enter the residence in which the child is living:
- (c) the child must not be taken out of New Zealand without leave of the court:
- (d) you must give to a social worker at least 7 days' notice before changing your residence. However, if an emergency makes any immediate change necessary, it will be sufficient if you give notice within 48 hours after leaving your previous residence.

The interim order is not an adoption order. An adoption order cannot be obtained until a further application has been made to the court after an interval of [specify period]. The application to the court for the issue of the adoption order may be made after [date] *if the child has then been continuously in your care for not less than [specify period] since the date on which the interim order was made or since the earlier date (if any) when the placing or receiving or keeping of the child in your home for the purpose of adoption was approved by a social worker.

The application to the court for the adoption order must be made before [specify date]. The interim order will lapse on that date. If you do not apply in time, you may lose the role of providing day-to-day care for the child.

*Delete if inapplicable.

Information sheet

A duly completed information sheet (form G 7) must accompany this application.

Consent to order being made in absence

If you consent to the order being made in your absence (see paragraph 1), you must file an affidavit in form FP 12 with your application. Your application is then entered on the Registrar's list of section 37 applications. This allows the Registrar to make an order dissolving the marriage or civil union, if the requirements of the Family Proceedings Act 1980 and these rules are satisfied, without your having to appear before the Family Court.

Documents to be lodged

If you do not consent to the order being made in your absence (see paragraph 1), you must, at the time of filing this application, lodge in the office of the court, unless the Registrar otherwise directs,—

- (a) the original or a certified copy of your marriage or civil union certificate; and
- (b) a copy of any separation order or separation agreement to be used as evidence of living apart.

When order takes effect as final order

If an order dissolving a marriage or civil union is made by the Family Court in undefended proceedings, it takes effect as a final order on being made.

If an order dissolving a marriage or civil union is made by the Family Court in defended proceedings, it takes effect as a final order at the expiration of 1 month from the date on which it is made.

However, one party may appeal to the High Court against the making of the order. If that happens, the order does not take effect while the appeal is pending. If, before the expiration of 1 month from the date on which the order is made, the appeal is withdrawn, abandoned, or dismissed, or the order is confirmed by the High Court, the order takes effect as a final order at the expiration of 1 month from the date on which it is made. If, after the expiration of 1 month from the date on which the order is made, the appeal is withdrawn, abandoned, or dismissed, or the order is confirmed by the High Court, the order takes effect as a final order on the withdrawal, abandonment, or dismissal of the appeal, or on the confirmation of the order of the High Court. If the order is set aside or quashed by the High Court, the order does not take effect as a final order.

If an order dissolving a marriage or civil union is made by the Family Court in defended proceedings and one party dies within 1 month of the order being made, the order does not take effect as a final order.

If an order dissolving a marriage or civil union is made by the Registrar, it takes effect as a final order at the expiration of 1 month from the date on which it is made.

However, if there is a change of circumstances between the time of the filing of the application and the date on which the order takes effect, either party may seek a hearing at any time before the order takes effect as a final order. If that happens, the order does not take effect as a final order.

You may file a request for an appearance instead of, or in addition to, a notice of defence.

If you file a request for an appearance, you must serve a copy on the applicant. That copy may be delivered to the address for service given by the applicant.

If there is a change of circumstances after the application is filed and before the order takes effect as a final order, so that you want to appear before the Family Court, you may seek a hearing by filing, in this office of the court, a request for a hearing in form FP 20.

If you do not file and serve a notice of defence or a request for an appearance or a request for a hearing, an order dissolving the marriage or civil union may be made by the Registrar in your absence.

Address for service

If you do not wish to defend the application (*or appear before the Family Court at the hearing of the application) but you do wish to know what is happening, you must—

- (a) file in this office of the court a notice giving the address of a place in New Zealand at which documents may be left for you; and
- (b) serve a copy of the notice on the other party to the proceedings. That copy may be delivered to the address for service given by the applicant.

*Include only if an order dissolving a marriage or civil union is applied for.

Copies of orders

You will get a copy of any orders made against you. However, any order will probably be in force from the time it is made. The fact that you have not got a copy of the order will not be an excuse for not obeying it.

*Warning

If you are not domiciled in New Zealand, you are warned that a dissolution of marriage or civil union granted on the application of your marriage or civil union partner may not be recognised as valid outside New Zealand. The dissolution will be valid for all purposes within New Zealand.

If you wish to marry or enter into a civil union in a country outside New Zealand, you should take legal advice on whether you are legally free to do so.

*Include if an order dissolving a marriage or civil union is applied for.

Advice

If you need help, consult a lawyer in the place where you are immediately. If you intend to employ a lawyer in New Zealand, you should ask about your eligibility for legal aid in this country.

Respondents served in Australia under Trans-Tasman Proceedings Act 2010

If you are served in Australia and under section 13 of the Trans-Tasman Proceedings Act 2010 of New Zealand, this notice is affected by that Act and the information that section 15 of that Act requires to be served on you. By virtue of that Act you may, for example,—

- respond to the application by taking steps yourself or by using an Australian lawyer (rather than by instructing a New Zealand lawyer to act for you); and
- respond within a period that is at least 30 working days after the day on which you were served; and
- give an address for service that is an address of a place in Australia or New Zealand.

Note: An initiating document for a civil proceeding that relates wholly or partly to a matter that, under sections 4(1) and 12(2)(a) of the Trans-Tasman Proceedings Act 2010, is an excluded matter (for example, the dissolution of a marriage) cannot be served in Australia and under section 13 of that Act.

The court is satisfied that [full name] is the employer of the respondent.

The court orders that money due and payable, or at any time becoming due and payable, under the maintenance order (or agreement) must, by way of weekly payments of $[specify] per week, be a charge on any salary or wages that from time to time while this attachment order remains in force, become due and payable by the employer to the respondent.

The protected earnings rate, below which the net earnings paid to the respondent shall not be reduced by reason of compliance with the order, is $[specify] per week.

The charge created attaches to all wages or salary that become due and payable by the employer to the respondent at any time while this attachment order remains in force, whether or not the contract of employment in respect of which the salary became due existed at the date of this order, and provides over and priority to any assignment made or charge created by the respondent, whether before or after the making of this order.

While this order remains in force, the employer must from time to time, whenever any money becomes due and payable by the employer to the respondent by way of wages or salary, deduct from it the sum of $[specify] per week. In any week, the employer must not deduct an amount that reduces the net earnings paid to the respondent below the protected earnings rate.

The first deduction must be made on the pay day following the date on which a copy of this order is served on the employer. A deduction must be made on every subsequent pay day. The money deducted must be paid to a maintenance officer at any office of the Ministry of Social Development [or as the court may direct] within 14 days.

Parenting order(s)

r 416E

Sections 40(3), 48, 55, and 70, Care of Children Act 2004

(General heading—Form G 2)

On application made to it, the court orders that—

- (a) the following person has/people have* the role of providing day-to-day care of the child(ren) listed below, during the times stated:

*Select one.

| Full name of child and date of birth | Full name of person | Times when person has role of providing day-to-day care |
|---|----------------------------|--|
| [state]                                     | [state]                    | [specify]  |

- (b) the following person has/people have* contact with the child(ren) listed below, during the times and in the ways stated:

*Select one.

| Full name of child and date of birth | Full name of person | Times, location, and nature of contact  |
|---|----------------------------|--|
| [state]                                     | [state]                    | [specify, eg, face-to-face contact, letters, telephone, email, supervised by a person other than an approved provider] |

Effect of parenting order

The role of providing day-to-day care for a child continues until the child turns 16.

While exercising the role of providing day-to-day care for a child, you have exclusive responsibility for the child's day-to-day living arrangements, subject to any court order and the following conditions (if any). [State any conditions imposed under section 48(5) of the Care of Children Act 2004, including which party and child(ren) the conditions affect.]

If you are a guardian, unless your role or another guardian's role is modified by a court order, you must act jointly (eg, consulting whenever practicable with the aim of reaching agreement) when making guardianship decisions for a child.

*Monitoring and review

This order is subject to the following monitoring and review requirements: [specify details of any monitoring or review requirements relating to this order, including any dates or processes by which the order is to be reviewed or monitored, and any requirements for parties to report back to the court on progress.].

See also the information sheet accompanying this order.

*Omit this paragraph if it does not apply.

Variation or discharge of this order

Any person affected by this order, or a person acting for a child who is the subject of this order, may apply to the court to vary or discharge this order. Leave (permission) of the court is required if the application is substantially similar to previous proceedings and the order was made less than two years ago.

Consequences of non-compliance

You must comply with the conditions of this parenting order. If you do not, another party may apply to the court to enforce the order. The Family Court may choose from a variety of tools to remedy the non-compliance. For example, you may be required to pay a bond to ensure you do not contravene the parenting order again, or to meet the reasonable costs incurred by the other party because of your contravention. The court may admonish you, or vary the order, for example, by reducing the amount of time you have with the child. The court takes non-compliance very seriously.

It is also an offence, without reasonable excuse and with the intention of preventing compliance with a parenting order, to contravene a parenting order. The penalty for this offence is imprisonment for a term not exceeding 3 months or a fine not exceeding $2,500.

*Because of the history of your case, the following actions are likely to be taken in the event of one or other of the parties to the order not complying: [specify any particular actions (eg, summonses, variation of order, bond, warrant) that are more likely to be considered because of the parties' previous behaviour in relation to the order].

*Omit this paragraph if it does not apply.

*Bond

This order requires [full name of person required to enter into the bond] to enter into a bond for the purpose of [state purpose of the bond].

[Full name of person required to enter into the bond] is required to deposit the sum of $[specify] with the Family Court at [place] by [date for payment of bond].

The bond may be forfeited to the Crown if [full name of person required to enter into the bond] does not meet the purpose of the bond or if the following circumstances apply: [specify circumstances that may result in forfeiture of the bond].

*Omit this section if it does not apply.

- (c) the upbringing of the child.

See section 40 of the Care of Children Act 2004 for the circumstances in which agreement terms may be included.

Effect of interim parenting order

The role of providing day-to-day care for a child continues until the child turns 16.

While exercising the role of providing day-to-day care for a child, you have exclusive responsibility for the child's day-to-day living arrangements, subject to any court order and the following conditions (if any). [State any conditions imposed under section 48(5) of the Care of Children Act 2004, including which party and child(ren) the conditions affect.]

If you are a guardian, unless your role or another guardian's role is modified by a court order, you must act jointly (eg, consulting whenever practicable with the aim of reaching agreement) when making guardianship decisions for a child.

Duration of interim parenting order

Select the statement that applies

This order continues in effect until [state specific date or specific event] or until it is replaced by another interim order or final order, as the case may be.

or

The court has directed that this order is to become a final parenting order on [date] unless, before that date,—

- you notify the court that you wish to be heard; or

- if a lawyer has been appointed to represent the child/children*, that lawyer has notified the court that he or she wishes to be heard.

*Select one.

If a parent has neither the role of providing day-to-day care nor contact

If, under this order, a parent of a child has neither the role of providing day-to-day care for, nor contact with, the child, there must be a hearing within 3 months on whether a further interim order or a final order should replace this order.

Select the statement that applies

I appoint [date within 3 months] at [time] at the Family Court at [place] for this hearing.

or

I will advise you of that date, time, and place of the hearing as soon as practicable.

Application to vary or discharge

If the order was made on an application without notice to you, you may make an application to the court to vary or discharge this order.

*Monitoring and review

This order is subject to the following monitoring and review requirements: [specify details of any monitoring or review requirements relating to this order, including any dates or processes by which the order is to be reviewed or monitored, and any requirements for parties to report back to the court on progress].

See also the information sheet accompanying this order.

*Omit this paragraph if it does not apply.

Variation or discharge of this order

Any person affected by this order, or a person acting for a child who is the subject of this order, may apply to the court to vary or discharge this order.

Consequences of non-compliance

You must comply with the conditions of this parenting order. If you do not, another party may apply to the court to enforce the order. The Family Court may choose from a variety of tools to remedy the non-compliance. For example, you may be required to pay a bond to ensure you do not contravene the parenting order again, or to meet the reasonable costs incurred by the other party because of your contravention. The court may admonish you, or vary the order, for example, by reducing the amount of time you have with the child. The court takes non-compliance very seriously.

It is also an offence, without reasonable excuse and with the intention of preventing compliance with a parenting order, to contravene a parenting order. The penalty for this offence is imprisonment for a term not exceeding 3 months or a fine not exceeding $2,500.

*Because of the history of your case, the following actions are likely to be taken in the event of one or other of the parties to the order not complying: [specify any particular actions (eg, summonses, variation of order, bond, warrant) that are more likely to be considered because of the parties' previous behaviour in relation to the order].

*Omit this paragraph if it does not apply.

*Bond

This order requires [full name of person required to enter into the bond] to enter into a bond for the purpose of [state purpose of the bond].

[Full name of person required to enter into the bond] is required to deposit the sum of $[specify] with the Family Court at [place] by [date for payment of bond].

The bond may be forfeited to the Crown if [full name of person required to enter into the bond] does not meet the purpose of the bond or in the following circumstances: [specify circumstances that may result in forfeiture of the bond].

*Omit this section if it does not apply.
