

CLERKS OF WORKS BILL

EXPLANATORY MEMORANDUM

THE purpose of this Bill is to give to qualified clerks of works the right to be registered. It is similar in form to the Surveyors Act, 1938. It establishes a Registration Board, which is also given certain disciplinary powers over registered clerks of works. The Bill also establishes a New Zealand Institute of Clerks of Works, whose main functions are to promote the competent supervision of building operations, and to assist in the training of clerks of works and generally to promote their interests.

Registration is not to be compulsory, but it will carry with it membership of the Institute. Unregistered clerks of works who have had certain experience may become associates of the Institute without enjoying full membership.

NOTES ON CLAUSES

Clause 1: Short Title and commencement.

Clause 2: Interpretation.

Clerks of Works Registration Board

Clause 3: This clause establishes a Registration Board consisting of the Engineer-in-Chief of the Public Works Department, and five others appointed by the Minister, of whom one is to represent the New Zealand Institute of Architects and three are to represent the New Zealand Institute of Clerks of Works.

Clauses 4 to 8: These clauses deal with the procedure at meetings of the Board, the appointment of officers, and incidental matters.

New Zealand Institute of Clerks of Works

Clause 9: This clause establishes a New Zealand Institute of Clerks of Works as a body corporate, taking the place of the existing Clerk of Works Association of New Zealand, Incorporated.

Clause 10: This clause sets out the general functions of the Institute.

Clause 11: The effect of this clause is that every registered clerk of works is also a member of the Institute. Conversely, on ceasing to be registered, he ceases to be a member.

Clause 12: Under this clause, any person not less than thirty years of age and possessing sufficient practical experience may become an associate of the Institute. Associates of the existing Association remain as associates of the Institute.

Clause 13: This clause provides for membership fees to be paid to the Institute.

Clauses 14 to 18: These clauses provide for the management of the Institute's affairs by a Council, whose members (except for one to be appointed in each year by the Minister from among the members of the Institute) are to be elected; the appointment of officers; the making of rules for the management of the Institute's affairs; and the temporary management of those affairs until the Council is elected.

Registration of Clerks of Works

Clause 19: This clause sets out the qualifications and experience required for registration. Special provision is made, in certain cases, as to the registration of servicemen whose service with the Forces might otherwise prevent them from qualifying.

In subclause (1) provision is made for the registration of—

- (i) Members of the existing Association;
- (ii) Persons attaining the age of thirty years and possessing certain qualifications; and
- (iii) Persons who are now not less than thirty-five years of age, and persons who are now not less than forty-five years of age, with certain past experience as clerks of works.

Under subclauses (2) to (5) architects, registered engineers, architectural draughtsmen, and builders' foremen may become registered under certain conditions.

Clauses 20 to 34: These clauses set out the procedure for registration and for the keeping and correction of the register. The provisions are those common to Acts of this nature. The Board may consider objections by the Institute to any person's registration (clause 22).

Disciplinary Powers of Board

Clauses 35 to 37: These clauses contain the usual provisions for inquiries by the Board into misconduct, with consequent cancellation or suspension of registration, or the imposition of a penalty. The Board's decisions are subject to appeals under clause 41.

Financial Provisions

Clauses 38 and 39: These clauses provide for the receipt of registration and other fees by the Board, and of membership fees by the Institute. Clause 38 (3) authorizes certain expenditure by the Board.

Miscellaneous

Clause 41: This clause gives a right of appeal to a Magistrate and two assessors against any decision of the Board relating to registration or to the imposition on any person of a penalty.

Clause 42: This clause provides for the conduct of examinations for certificates of competency required by persons desiring to register.

Clauses 43 and 44: These clauses provide for a certificate of the Board's Secretary as to an entry in the register or other matters being evidence of its contents, and for notification being given to the Institute of entries in the register.

Clause 45: This clause protects registered clerks of works and associates of the Institute by making it an offence for unauthorized persons to use words or initials, &c., implying registration or membership of the Institute. Subclause (4) protects the right of a clerk of works to describe himself as a "clerk of works" although he is neither registered nor an associate of the Institute.

Clause 46: This clause provides for offences to be dealt with summarily.

Clause 47: This clause provides for the making of regulations necessary for the administration of the Act.
