

GAMING AMENDMENT BILL

EXPLANATORY NOTE

PART I

NATIONAL LOTTERIES

THE purpose of this Part is to make express statutory provision for the holding of the lotteries which are at present being held under the name of "Golden Kiwi Lotteries", to provide for the distribution of the profits of those lotteries, and to provide for other incidental matters. The general scheme is that a Board of Control will be established for the purpose of allocating the amount to be distributed from lottery profits and that applications for assistance will be considered by Grants Committees who, having regard to the amount of funds allocated to them, will consider applications for assistance and determine as to whether or not assistance should be granted.

Clause 2 is an interpretation clause.

Clause 3 authorises the Minister of Internal Affairs to promote lotteries.

Clause 4 provides that every such lottery is to be conducted in such manner as the Minister thinks fit. The Minister may determine—

- (a) The total number of tickets in the lottery.
- (b) The price to be charged for tickets.
- (c) The number and amounts of the prizes.
- (d) The form of the tickets.
- (e) The rate of commission or other remuneration payable to the organiser or to district agents or selling agents.
- (f) The bonuses that may be paid to sellers of winning tickets.
- (g) The expenses that may be recovered by the organiser from the proceeds of the sale of tickets.
- (h) The security (if any) to be provided by the organiser to secure the payment of prizes and the payment to the Secretary of the profits of the lottery.

Clause 5 requires the Minister to appoint an organiser for each lottery or for lotteries generally.

Clause 6 provides that district agents and selling agents are to be appointed by the organiser. The commission or other remuneration to which district agents and selling agents will be entitled is to be payable by the organiser from the proceeds of the sale of tickets.

Clause 7 provides that the organiser may enter into contracts for the printing of tickets and for advertising a lottery and the results thereof. The Minister may fix the maximum amount that may be paid under any such contract or any class of such contracts.

Clause 8 provides that the Minister is to direct the manner in which the lotteries are to be drawn.

Clause 9 provides that no lottery is to be drawn until all the tickets have been sold. The Minister may authorise a lottery to be drawn where tickets have been lost in transit to a district agent or selling agent, and in that case the lost tickets will be excluded from the draw.

Clause 10 provides that every lottery must be drawn under the supervision of an officer of the Department of Internal Affairs and a member of the Police.

Clause 11 requires drawings to be open to the public and the time and place of drawing to be advertised.

Clause 12 provides that the officer of the Department of Internal Affairs supervising the drawing of any lottery is to supply to the organiser a certified statement setting out the result of the drawing of the lottery. This is to be the official result of the drawing and prizes are to be paid by the organiser in accordance with that statement. The result of the drawing is to be advertised.

Clause 13 provides that the organiser must furnish to the Minister statements, returns, and accounts with respect to every lottery drawn, and as soon as possible after the drawing of any lottery is to pay the profits of the lottery into a bank account opened by the Minister under clause 32.

Clause 14 provides that prizes which are unclaimed within 6 months after the result of a lottery is advertised are to be paid into a bank account opened under clause 32 and dealt with as profits of the lottery, but the Minister may at any time after the expiration of that period of six months pay the amount of any such prize to any person who proves his title thereto.

Clause 15 constitutes a Board of Control consisting of the Minister, the Prime Minister, the Leader of the Opposition, and three persons appointed by the Governor-General in Council. The Minister will be Chairman of the Board. The clause provides that deputies may be appointed in the absence of the Prime Minister or the Leader of the Opposition from any meeting.

Clause 16 provides that the terms of office of appointed members shall be three years.

Clause 17 provides for the filling of extraordinary vacancies in the membership of the Board.

Clause 18 provides for meetings of the Board.

Clause 19 prescribes the general functions of the Board, which will be to determine the proportions in which the lottery profits shall be allocated for distribution.

Clause 20 provides that the Board, after consideration of the amount of funds available, shall from time to time allocate amounts available for distribution by Grants Committees.

Clause 21 specifies the purposes for which lottery profits may be distributed.

Clause 22 authorises the Board from time to time to make available to the Minister funds for distribution for the purposes referred to in clause 21 but in respect of which no appropriate Grants Committee has been established.

Clause 23 provides that the undistributed profits of lotteries may be invested at interest in the National Provident Fund or in Government securities or on deposit in a bank or in the Post Office Savings Bank. Interest derived from investments is to be treated in the same manner as profits of lotteries.

Clause 24 provides for the establishment of Grants Committees. Each Grants Committee will be set up in respect of the expenditure of lottery profits for a specified purpose. The members will be appointed by the Governor-General in Council.

Clause 25 provides that the term of office of each member of a Grants Committee will be three years.

Clauses 26 and 27 provide for the filling of extraordinary vacancies and for meetings of Grants Committees.

Clause 28 proscribes the functions of Grants Committees which are to distribute such of the undistributed profits of lotteries as are available for distribution. Each Grants Committee is required to have regard to the general policy of the Board with respect to the distribution of lottery profits and to comply with any general direction of the Board in respect of that policy.

Clause 29 provides that applications for assistance from lottery profits shall be forwarded to the secretary of the Board who shall refer each application to the appropriate Grants Committee or where there is no appropriate Grants Committee to the Minister. Each Grants Committee will then consider the applications sent to it and make a decision as to whether or not a grant should be made and if a grant is to be made the amount of the grant.

Clause 30 requires the Secretary for Internal Affairs to make payments in accordance with the determinations of Grants Committees.

Clause 31 authorises Grants Committees to approve of the payment of subsidies and the making of loans subject to special conditions.

Clause 32 provides that the Secretary is to open one or more bank accounts for the banking of profits of lotteries. Those accounts may be operated on only by cheques drawn by any two officers of the Department of Internal Affairs authorised by the Minister to sign cheques.

Clause 33 provides for the appointment of a secretary to the Board and such other officers as may be required for the administration of the Act.

Clause 34 provides for the payment of fees and travelling allowances to members of the Board and members of Grants Committees.

Clause 35 authorises expenditure out of profits of lotteries on the acquisition of equipment for drawing lotteries and on the maintenance, testing, and checking of any such equipment, and for other purposes in connection with lotteries and the management, investment, and distribution of the profits.

Clause 36 provides that the accounts of the organiser are to be subject to the audit of an auditor appointed by the Minister. The auditor must be a public accountant.

Clause 37 requires proper accounts to be kept of the profits of lotteries by the Department of Internal Affairs. Those accounts are to be audited by the Audit Office.

Clause 38 applies the provisions of the Bill to undistributed profits of "Golden Kiwi" lotteries drawn before the passing of the Bill or promoted before the passing of the Bill and drawn afterwards and to any undistributed profits of former lotteries or art unions.

Clause 39 requires the Minister to report annually to Parliament showing the manner in which profits of lotteries have been distributed or otherwise dealt with. The report must be accompanied by a copy of the audited accounts of lottery profits.

Clause 40 provides that members of the Board or of Grants Committees shall not be liable for acts done in good faith and in pursuance of their powers.

Clause 41 prescribes certain offences in relation to lotteries. They include the offence of selling or offering for sale lottery tickets by persons who are not duly appointed selling agents, and giving or disposing of lottery tickets to persons in consideration of their buying goods or services or tickets to places of entertainment.

Clause 42 authorises the making of regulations.

Clause 43 is a consequential amendment to section 172 of the Stamp Duties Act 1954 relating to lottery duty. The effect of the amendment is that lottery duty will continue to be paid in respect of lotteries conducted under the Bill in the same manner as that duty is at present payable in respect of "Golden Kiwi" lotteries.

Clause 44 declares that the Gaming Act 1908 is not to apply to lotteries to which the Bill applies.

PART II

INVESTMENTS ON TOTALISATOR

Clause 45: Section 4 of the Gaming Amendment Act 1924 enables refunds to be made of money invested on the totalisator in respect of a horse that is withdrawn from any race before the totalisator is closed for that race. The effect of this amendment is to enable refunds to be made in cases where a horse is withdrawn after the totalisator has closed but before the race has actually started.
