

MASTER AND APPRENTICE AMENDMENT.

EXPLANATORY MEMORANDUM.

THE first part of this Bill relates only to farm apprentices whose passages from England to New Zealand are assisted by the Government. The Master and Apprentice Act, 1908, requires that the indenture of apprenticeship should be executed by the parent or guardian of the boy, and by the employer. Compliance with this provision is impossible in cases where arrangement is made for immigration of boys to be subsequently employed. The boys being under age, their own contract does not bind them. The Government undertakes the control and care of such boys, and therefore enters into a more or less definite arrangement with the parents, guardians, and relatives of such boys in the United Kingdom for due provision being made in New Zealand for the employment of the boy and for the provision of proper food, clothing, and comfort. Unless the boy is bound to remain in his employment, and be subject to such control by his employer as is provided in the Master and Apprentice Act, it is impossible for the Government to perform its engagements. Further, it is necessary that the boys should be under some control from the time of their departure until their engagement in New Zealand. For these objects provision is made for an indenture signed by the High Commissioner and the boy becoming binding in England, and afterwards to the extent defined in section 3.

Special provision is made in subsection (6) of section 2 enabling the Minister to alter the indenture signed in England in a manner advantageous to the boy, but not otherwise. Provision is made by which the apprenticeship extends to the age of twenty years. This is necessary because it is not intended to engage boys of an age of less than sixteen, and it is desired to engage them up to an age of somewhat over eighteen years, but under nineteen.

It is provided that after the first year the apprentice shall receive a full wage according to his age and capacity; such wages to be not less than the wages ruling in the district for lads of a like age and capacity.

The second part relates to farm apprenticeship of boys already resident in New Zealand. The benefits of Part I are extended to such apprentices also.

(2.) The indenture shall be in a form prescribed by regulations, and shall be executed by the boy and by the High Commissioner or by an officer appointed by the High Commissioner for the purpose.

(3.) The indenture may provide for the payment out of the wages of the apprentice of the whole or of any part of the passage-money and other expenses incurred for the apprentice, and may also provide for the payment of any part of the balance of such wages during the term of the apprenticeship, or any part of such term, into an account to accumulate for the benefit of the apprentice.

(4.) The indenture shall contain a provision that the wages to be paid by the employer to the apprentice after the expiration of twelve months from the commencement of the employment in New Zealand shall from time to time be such as are usually paid on farms to boys of the age and capacity of the apprentice, and a provision that, if any difference arises as to the rate of such wages, such rate shall be determined in each case by arbitration in the manner prescribed by regulations to be made by the Governor by Order in Council gazetted. 5

(5.) It shall not be necessary to name in the indenture any person to be the employer of the apprentice. 10

(6.) The terms and conditions of the indenture may be varied by the Minister of ~~Immigration~~ (hereinafter referred to as the Minister) at any time before the employer of the apprentice nominated by the Minister signifies acceptance of such nomination, but no such variation shall be made unless it is in the opinion of the Minister directly or indirectly for the advantage of the apprentice. 15

Minister may

(7.) On the arrival of the apprentice in New Zealand the Minister shall nominate a farmer or person or company engaged in farming pursuits in New Zealand to be the employer of the apprentice. 20

(10.) Every apprenticeship so made shall continue until the apprentice attains the age of twenty years.

(11.) An indenture of apprenticeship made under this section shall not be assigned to any person except with the consent in writing of the Minister. 30

(b.) From the time of the endorsement thereon of acceptance by an employer nominated by the Minister and until the boy attains the age of twenty years, or until the indenture is sooner cancelled with the consent in writing of the Minister, it shall have full effect either in its original 50
