

MINIMUM WAGE AMENDMENT BILL

EXPLANATORY NOTE

THIS Bill increases the minimum rates of wages prescribed by the Minimum Wage Act, 1945, so as to give effect to the recent interim general wage order of the Court of Arbitration.

The increases in the hourly rates represent 5 per cent., brought up to the nearest penny or halfpenny. This provides an increase of 2d. an hour for male workers and 1½d. an hour for female workers. To obtain the increases in the daily and weekly rates the hourly increases have been multiplied by eight and forty respectively.

The following table shows the present rates, 5 per cent. increase, the amounts of the adjusted increases, and the new rates provided in the Bill:—
