5 “(6) Any body or person shall have the right to object to any application made under this section.

“(7) Every such objection shall be in writing and be lodged with the Maritime Planning Authority within the time prescribed by regulations in force under this Act.

10 “(8) The applicant and every body or person who has objected to the application shall have the right to be heard by the Authority, either personally or by its or his counsel or duly authorised representative, and to call evidence in support of its or his contentions, before the Authority makes a decision on the application.

15 “(9) The applicant and every body or person which or who objected to the application may, within 1 month after notification of the decision, appeal to the Tribunal against the Authority’s decision.

20 “(10) In determining any appeal under this section, the Tribunal shall have regard to the matters set out in subsection (4) of this section.

25 “(11) A refusal to grant consent or a prohibition under this section shall not have any effect after the maritime planning scheme has become operative for the area to which the refusal or prohibition relates.”

29. Preparation of maritime planning scheme—(1) Section 104 of the principal Act is hereby amended by inserting, after subsection (2), the following subsection:

30 “(2A) Subject to sections 3 and 4 of this Act, the scheme shall, in respect of any area above mean high-water mark included in the maritime planning area, make provision for such of the matters referred to in the Second Schedule to this Act as the Authority considers necessary or desirable.”

35 (2) Section 104 (5) of the principal Act is hereby amended by omitting the words “prepared or”, and substituting the words “prepared and”.

30. Maritime Planning Authority not disqualified by negotiations, etc.—The principal Act is hereby further amended by inserting, after section 111, the following 40 section:

“111A. (1) Any existing public authority appointed a Maritime Planning Authority pursuant to section 98 of this Act which owns or occupies, or has statutory control over, any land (including the bed of the harbour or sea) within a maritime planning area shall not thereby be prevented from entering into negotiations or completing an agreement with any other public authority, purchaser, lessee, licensee, developer, or any other body or person relating to the use and development of that land. 5

“(2) The Maritime Planning Authority is hereby authorised to carry out all the functions, powers, and duties conferred or imposed on it by this or any other Act, including the hearing, consideration, and determination of submissions, objections, and applications, notwithstanding that the public authority which is appointed the Maritime Planning Authority may have entered into negotiations or completed an agreement with any other public authority, purchaser, lessee, licensee, developer, or any other body or person, whether before or after being appointed the Maritime Planning Authority. 10 15 20

“(3) The fact that any such negotiations may have been entered into or any such agreement may have been completed as referred to in subsection (2) of this section before the Maritime Planning Authority has prepared its maritime planning scheme or proceeded to change or vary any provision of its maritime planning scheme, as the case may be, shall not of itself be a ground for challenging or questioning in any Court the validity of the Authority’s actions or decisions in that regard.” 25

31. Requirements for public works—(1) Section 118 (1) of the principal Act is hereby amended by repealing paragraph (b), and substituting the following paragraph: 30

“(b) In respect of any other land, or any water, subsoil, or airspace, in respect of which a restriction is necessary to ensure the safe or efficient functioning or operation of such public work.” 35 further amended by repealing section 132, and substituting the following section:

- 15 “132. The Minister of Justice may from time to time appoint one or more fit persons to be deputy members of the Tribunal, and any person so appointed may act in the place of any member (other than the Chairman) of any Division of the Tribunal while that member is prevented by illness, 20 absence, or other sufficient cause, from performing the functions, powers, and duties of his office. While the deputy is so acting he shall be deemed to be a member of the Tribunal. The fact that any deputy so acts shall be conclusive evidence of his authority to do so, and no person shall be 25 concerned to inquire whether the occasion requiring or authorising him to do so has arisen or has ceased.”

34. Power of Chairman sitting alone—Section 135 of the principal Act is hereby amended by inserting, after paragraph (c), the following paragraph:

- 30 “(ca) An order giving directions as to the service of any document.”.
