30 and 31 Vict., c. 45.

“The Vice-Admiralty Courts Act Amendment Act, 1867.”

AN ACT to extend and amend the Vice-Admiralty Courts Act, 1863. [15th July, 1867.]

* * * * *

26 & 27 Vict.,
c. 24, applied.

2. This Act shall be read as one Act with “The Vice-Admiralty Courts Act, 1863.”

Interpretation of terms.

3. In the interpretation and for the purposes of this Act (if not inconsistent with the context or subject-matter) the following terms shall have the respective meanings hereinafter assigned to them, that is to say,—

“Judge” shall mean the person lawfully appointed by the Admiralty to be Judge of any Vice-Admiralty Court, or, in default of such appointment, the Chief Justice or Principal Judicial Officer, or the person for the time being lawfully authorized to act as the Chief Justice or Principal Judicial Officer in the British possession in which such Court is established :

“Judicial powers” shall mean all powers and authorities 30 & 31 Vict., c. 45. which may be lawfully exercised by, and all duties by law imposed upon, any such Judge in the trial, hearing, or progress of any cause :

“Ministerial powers” shall mean all powers and authorities which may be lawfully exercised by, and all duties by law imposed upon, any such Judge, not included under the term “judicial powers :”

“Sit” or “sitting” shall mean sit or sitting for the exercise of judicial powers, whether in Court or in Chambers.

4. On the Governor of any British possession, who is also Vice-Admiral thereof, vacating the office of Governor of such possession, the office of Vice-Admiral of the same possession shall thereupon be deemed to be also vacant within the meaning of the third section of “The Vice-Admiralty Courts Act, 1863.” Tenure of office of Vice-Admiral.

5. The Judge of any Vice-Admiralty Court may from time to time, with the approval in writing of the Governor of the British possession in which the Court is established, appoint one or more Deputy Judge or Judges to assist or represent him in the execution of his judicial powers. Judge may appoint Deputy Judges.

6. It shall be lawful for any such Deputy Judge to exercise all the judicial powers of the Judge; and all acts done by such Deputy Judge shall be as valid and effectual, to all intents and purposes, as if they had been done by the Judge; and all orders or decrees made by such Deputy Judge shall be subject to the same right of appeal in all respects as if they had been made by the Judge. Judicial powers of Deputy Judges.

7. Any Deputy Judge may sit at the principal seat of Government or elsewhere in the possession at the same time that the Judge or any other Deputy Judge is sitting, and either at the same or at any other place in such possession, and whether the Judge is or is not at that time within the session. Deputy Judges may sit separately.

8. The Judge may, if he thinks fit, require any such Deputy Judge or Judges to sit with him in the same Court, and in such case the decision of the majority, or, if they are equally divided in opinion, the decision of the Judge, shall be the decision of the Court; and such decision shall be subject to the same right of appeal in all respects as if it had been made by the Judge alone. Judge may sit with Deputy Judges.

9. The Judge may direct at what place and time any such Deputy Judge shall sit, and what causes shall be heard before him, and generally make such arrangements as to him shall seem proper as to the division and despatch of the business of the Court. Judge to regulate the proceedings.
