REGULATIONS

1. Title and commencement—(1) These regulations may be cited as the Accident Rehabilitation and Compensation Insurance (Employment Premiums) Regulations 1994.

(2) These regulations shall come into force on the 1st day of April 1995.

2. Interpretation—(1) In these regulations, unless the context otherwise requires,—

“The Act” means the Accident Rehabilitation and Compensation Insurance Act 1992;

“Classification unit” means the industry, trade, business, profession, or undertaking of an employer or a person who has earnings other than as an employee as determined by the nature of the goods or services produced or rendered by that employer or person who has earnings other than as an employee; or if no goods or services are produced or rendered, as determined by the nature of the employment:

“Full-time employment” means, in relation to any earner, employment for an average of not less than 30 hours per week for the income year, or a lesser number of hours per week for the income year if such lesser hours are defined as full-time employment in an employment contract due to the particular nature of that employment.

(2) Subject to subclause (1) of this regulation, expressions used in these regulations have the meanings assigned to them by the Act or by regulations made under the Act.

3. Classification of earners for premium purposes—For the purposes of calculation and payment of premiums under the Act—

(a) Earners shall be classified into their respective categories of—

- (i) Persons who have earnings other than as an employee; and
- (ii) Employees; and

(b) Except as provided in regulations 4 and 6 of these regulations, employees shall be also classified according to the description of classification unit, as set out in the Schedule to these regulations, which most accurately describes their employer’s classification unit, or where, because of the nature of the employee’s work within a particular description of a classification unit of an employer, more than one division is prescribed in relation to that particular description, shall be classified in the division within that description which is appropriate to the nature of their work; and

(c) Except as provided in regulations 5 and 7 of these regulations, persons who have earnings other than as an employee shall be also classified according to the description or division of classification unit, as set out in the Schedule to these regulations, which most accurately describes their classification unit.

4. Classification where employer engaged in 2 or more classification units—(1) Subject to regulation 6 of these regulations, where an employer is engaged in 2 or more classification units and—

(a) Maintains separate accounting records for the purposes of managing and operating each classification unit; and

- (b) Maintains records which clearly separate to each classification unit the earnings of employees engaged solely in that classification unit—then, for the purpose of calculation and payment of premiums, the employees so employed shall be classified in the employer's classification unit in which they are so recorded.

(2) Where an employer is engaged in 2 or more classification units and does not maintain records as specified in paragraphs (a) and (b) of subclause (1) of this regulation, all employees shall be classified in the classification unit for which the highest rate of premium is prescribed by these regulations.

5. Classification where person who has earnings other than as an employee engaged in 2 or more classification units—Where a person who has earnings other than as an employee is engaged in 2 or more classification units, that person shall, for the purpose of calculation and payment of premiums, be classified in the description or division of those classification units for which the highest rate of premium is prescribed.

6. Classification where employee does not undertake work normally performed—Where an employee does not actually undertake work normally performed by employees engaged in the employer's classification unit, or any division of that classification unit, but the employee's work contributes to or services that classification unit or division then, for the purposes of calculation and payment of premiums, that employee shall be classified in that description or division of the employer's classification unit:

Provided that, if such an employee is engaged in work which contributes to or services 2 or more of the employer's classification units, that employee shall be classified, for the purpose of calculation and payment of premiums, in the description or division of those classification units to which the employee's work contributes or services and for which the highest rate of premium is prescribed by these regulations.

7. Power of Corporation to determine description—Where there is no description set out in these regulations describing the classification unit of an employer or of a person who has earnings other than as an employee, or where there is doubt as to the appropriate description, the Corporation, on application by the employer or person who has earnings other than as an employee, shall determine a description for the purpose of calculation and payment of premiums.

8. Rates—(1) Pursuant to sections 101 and 102 of the Act, the rates of premiums payable in respect of earnings as an employee or as a person who has earnings other than as an employee shall be—

- (a) In respect of earnings as an employee or as a person who has earnings other than as an employee, at the rate set out in the Schedule to these regulations in relation to the particular description or division of classification unit in which the employee or person who has earnings other than as an employee has been classified as aforesaid, which rate is expressed as dollars per 100 dollars of those earnings; and
- (b) In respect of earnings as an employee or as a person who has earnings other than as an employee where the Corporation, under regulation 7 of these regulations, determines a description for the purpose of calculation and payment of premiums, at a rate per $100 of earnings fixed by the Corporation at the time of making the determination.

(2) All rates of premiums prescribed by subclause (1) of this regulation are exclusive of any goods and services tax that may be payable under the Goods and Services Tax Act 1985.

9. Minimum premium payable by persons who have earnings other than as an employee—(1) Except as provided in subclause (2) of this regulation, there shall be payable by every person in full-time employment who has earnings other than as an employee, and whose total earnings are less than $12,740 per annum, a minimum premium which shall be the appropriate premium based on earnings other than as an employee of $12,740 per annum, reduced by the person's earnings as an employee.

(2) There shall be payable by every person in full-time employment who—

(a) Has earnings other than as an employee; and

(b) Has total earnings of less than $10,190 per annum; and

(c) Satisfies the Corporation that he or she has not attained the age of 20 years at any time during the year—a minimum premium which shall be the appropriate premium based on earnings other than as an employee of $10,190 per annum, reduced by the person's earnings as an employee.

10. Maximum earnings on which premium payable—The maximum amount of earnings on which a premium is payable by or in respect of any earner shall be $76,648 per annum.

11. Revocation and saving—(1) The Accident Rehabilitation and Compensation Insurance (Employment Premiums) Regulations 1993* are hereby revoked.

(2) Notwithstanding subclause (1) of this regulation, the Accident Rehabilitation and Compensation Insurance (Employment Premiums) Regulations 1993* shall continue to apply in respect of the period commencing on the 1st day of April 1994 and ending with the 31st day of March 1995, as if those regulations had not been revoked.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

This note is not part of the regulations, but is intended to indicate their general effect.

These regulations, which come into force on 1 April 1995, amend the rates of premiums payable by employers and by persons who have earnings other than as an employee.

The minimum premium payable by persons who have earnings other than as an employee and the maximum earnings on which premiums are payable are unchanged.

Under previous regulations, employees were classified according to their employers "industrial activity". This term has been changed to "classification unit".

Issued under the authority of the Acts and Regulations Publication Act 1989.

Date of notification in Gazette: 15 December 1994.

These regulations are administered in the Accident Rehabilitation and Compensation Insurance Corporation.
