MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

60. General penalty
 61. Keeping of records
 62. Revocations
 Schedules

REGULATIONS

1. Title and commencement—(1) These regulations may be cited as the Distillation Regulations 1977.

(2) Except where otherwise provided, these regulations shall come into force on the day after the date of their notification in the Gazette.

2. Interpretation—In these regulations, unless the context otherwise requires—

“The Act” means the Distillation Act 1971:

“Cask” includes a drum or other container approved by an Inspector:

“Notice” means a notice in writing.

PART I—FORMS

3. Compliance with directions in forms—(1) Where a prescribed form contains, whether by way of note or otherwise, a clear direction or indication of any requirement as to—

- (a) The number of copies of the document to be tendered; or
- (b) The nature or form of the information to be furnished; or
- (c) The nature or number of copies of any document required to accompany the form; or
- (d) Any action, either by way of signing a form of declaration or otherwise, to be taken by the person concerned in the transaction in which the document is used or by his authorised agent,— the requirement so directed or indicated shall be deemed to be prescribed, and shall be complied with by the person concerned in the transaction or by his authorised agent.

4. Additional copies of forms or additional particulars—An Inspector or Collector may require copies of any prescribed form in addition to the number indicated on the form, and he may require to be shown on any form or on any document required to accompany any form information additional to that prescribed if he considers the furnishing of the additional information to be necessary for the administration of the Act.

5. Documents substantially in prescribed form—An Inspector or Collector may accept, instead of any prescribed form (other than a prescribed form of declaration or licence or warrant), any document that is substantially in accordance with the prescribed form.

6. Forms to be completed in typewriting or in ink—(1) Except where an Inspector or Collector otherwise permits, all original documents presented shall have the necessary particulars typewritten or inserted in ink, but copies may be prepared by carbon or other copying process.

(2) The Inspector or Collector may refuse to accept any document that is not readily legible or is prepared otherwise than in accordance with subclause (1) of this regulation.

PART II—LICENCES

7. Applications for licences—Every application for a licence under the Act shall be made in form 1 in the First Schedule to these regulations.

8. Annual licence fees—(1) Annual licence fees shall be payable according to the appropriate scale set forth in the Second Schedule to these regulations.

(2) This regulation shall come into force on the 1st day of January 1978.

9. Form of licences—Every licence granted under the Act shall be in form 2 in the First Schedule to these regulations.

10. Application for renewal of licence—Every application for the renewal of any licence shall be in form 3 in the First Schedule to these regulations.

PART III—DISTILLERS

11. Record of notices—(1) Before giving or delivering any notice or declaration required by these regulations, every distiller shall record in his distillery particulars of the notice or declaration, and the record shall at all times be available at the distillery for inspection by an authorised officer.

(2) The record shall be in such form as the Chief Inspector requires.

(3) If the particulars of such notices or declarations are not inserted in any such record, or if any false entry is made therein, or if such record or any entry therein is defaced, obliterated, or altered by the distiller, or by any person employed in the distillery, or if the record is not at any time produced to an Inspector on his demanding the same, the distiller commits an offence against these regulations.

12. Entries in record of notices to bind distiller—Every notice or declaration entered by a distiller in the record of notices in his distillery shall, although not in the form or not containing the several particulars or not given or delivered within the prescribed time, be taken as good and effectual as against such distiller.

13. Wash header tank—Every wash header tank kept in any distillery shall be a close covered vessel for receipt of wash conveyed from the wash fermenting vessel or wash back for the purpose of charging the wash still.

14. Low wines and feints receivers—Every low wines receiver and every feints receiver kept in any distillery shall be a close covered vessel for receipt of low wines or, as the case may be, feints conveyed from the spirit still, or such other vessel or utensil as may be approved by the Chief Inspector:

Provided that—

- (a) A low wines receiver and a feints receiver may be one and the same vessel:
- (b) A low wines receiver or a feints receiver may be one and the same vessel as a low wines charger or a feints charger.

15. Low wines and feints chargers—Every low wines charger and every feints charger kept in any distillery shall be a close covered vessel for the receipt of low wines or, as the case may be, feints conveyed from the low wines receiver or the feints receiver, or such other vessel or utensil as may be approved by the Chief Inspector, for the purpose of charging the low wines, feints, or spirit still:

Provided that—

- (a) A low wines charger and a feints charger may be one and the same vessel:
- (b) A low wines charger or a feints charger may be one and the same vessel as a low wines receiver or a feints receiver.

16. Spirit receiver—Every spirit receiver kept in any distillery shall be a close covered vessel for receipt of spirit from the spirit still, or such other vessel, utensil, or apparatus as may be approved by the Chief Inspector.

17. How vessels to be kept—Every header tank, receiver, charger, and other vessel required to be kept or approved by the Chief Inspector—

- (a) Shall be erected and maintained in such position as the Chief Inspector may approve:
- (b) Shall be provided with such means of sealing or locking as the Chief Inspector may require:
- (c) Shall have provision for gauging of the contents of such charger, receiver, or other vessel as the Chief Inspector may require:
- (d) Shall have such cocks, pipes, pumps, equipment, or other apparatus attached thereto as the Chief Inspector may require or approve.

18. Pipes to be capable of examination—Except as otherwise authorised by the Chief Inspector, every pipe or tube used in a distillery, including those below ground level, shall be so fixed and placed as to be capable of being readily examined for the whole of its length.

19. Colour of pipes—All pipes shall be marked and kept marked in colours to the satisfaction of the Chief Inspector in accordance with the substance conveyed by the pipes as follows:

- (a) Wort or wash, red:
- (b) Yeast, yellow:
- (c) Low wines and feints, blue:
- (d) Spirit, black:
- (e) Water, white:
- (f) Steam, aluminium:
- (g) Air, brown:

Provided that the Chief Inspector may, in any particular case, dispense with any of these requirements.

20. End of tail pipes to be secured—(1) Every distiller shall, at his own expense, provide a safe within which the end of every tail pipe belonging to any still on his premises shall be secured.

(2) All spirit, low wines, and feints running from such tail pipes shall enter the safe and shall be thence conveyed by a close pipe capable of being readily examined for the whole of its length into such receivers or containers as the Chief Inspector approves.

21. Construction of cocks—Every cock kept or used in any distillery shall be constructed in such manner as is from time to time directed or approved by the Chief Inspector.

22. Notice of distillation from wine, ale, etc.—(1) No distiller, except a vigneron, shall have, receive, or begin distilling from any wines, ale, beer, or any fermented liquor not brewed or made in his distillery unless he has at least 48 hours beforehand given to an Inspector, or to the authorised officer on duty, notice of his intention to do so.

(2) Such notice shall specify the description and total quantity of the liquor as aforesaid and shall also specify the individual quantities which he intends to use and the dates and times of such use.

23. Production of spirit liable to different rates of duty—Except with the permission of an Inspector, no distiller shall begin to use any material for the production of spirit liable to one rate of duty until all spirit liable to a different rate of duty has been conveyed into the spirit or feints receiver.

24. Use of different materials from previous production—If the distiller intends to use for making spirit a different material from that which he is or last has been using, he shall give an Inspector not less than 24 hours' notice of the time when he intends to commence to mash the new material.

25. Mixing of low wines, feints, etc.—All low wines and feints produced and held in the distillery may be mixed together and the process of redistilling such low wines, feints, or mixtures thereof may be repeated as often as the distiller thinks fit:

Provided that, unless an Inspector otherwise allows, such mixtures shall be the produce of the same kind of material.

26. Removal of spirit—(1) Before the removal of any spirit, other than low wines or feints, from a receiver, the distiller shall give reasonable notice to an Inspector or an authorised officer of the time when the removal is to be commenced.

(2) At the time notified by the distiller an authorised officer shall attend, and, after he has taken an account of the contents of the receiver and removed the fastenings of the pumps or discharge cocks, the contents of the receiver may be removed therefrom and conveyed into a vat in the spirit store or other vessel approved by the Chief Inspector:

Provided that the spirit may, with the approval of an Inspector, be placed in casks.

(3) After the fastenings have been removed by the authorised officer no spirit may be conveyed into the receiver until the fastenings have been secured again.

27. Vats in the spirit store—Unless the Chief Inspector permits otherwise, the vats or vessels in the spirit store shall be raised at least 0.60 metres from the ground, and so placed that the whole exterior surface of each is open to inspection.

28. Spirit store stock account—Every distiller, except a vigneron, shall maintain, in a form and manner satisfactory to the Chief Inspector, an account of all spirit received from time to time into the spirit store of his distillery, and of the removal of all spirit from the store.

29. Dealing with spirit in spirit store—(1) With the permission of an Inspector, and subject to any conditions he may impose, any spirit maker or rectifier may reduce in strength, blend, flavour, sort, separate, bottle, pack, or repack any spirit permitted to be kept in the spirit store in his distillery.

(2) Every spirit maker, rectifier, and compounder shall maintain an account of these operations in a form and manner satisfactory to an Inspector.

30. Marking of casks—(1) Every distiller, other than a vigneron, shall cause to be marked on the outside of both of the heads or ends of every cask used in his distillery or premises for keeping or delivering out spirit, his name or the name of his firm, the name of the place where his stock is kept, the capacity of the cask, and such other particulars as an Inspector may require.

(2) Every distiller shall ensure that every such cask shall remain so marked as aforesaid at all times.

31. Measuring quantity of spirit—(1) For the purposes of ascertaining by weight the quantity of spirit contained in any cask, the table in the Third Schedule to these regulations shall be used in conjunction with Sikes's hydrometer, and the weight in kilograms for 1 litre of the spirit so ascertained shall be deemed to be the actual weight of 1 litre of the spirit.

(2) The net weight in kilograms of such spirit, divided by the weight contained in 1 litre of the spirit so weighed, shall be the number of liquid litres and fractional parts of a liquid litre contained in such cask.

32. Spirit of faulty manufacture—Application to the Chief Inspector for permission to redistil spirit found to be of faulty manufacture shall be made within 3 months after delivery of the spirit from the control of the Customs or within such extended period as the Chief Inspector may allow in any special case.

Spirit Makers

33. Material store—(1) Every spirit maker shall erect and keep in his distillery a material store as may be approved by the Chief Inspector for the reception of all materials for distillation except coal and other fuel.

(2) All material on a spirit maker's premises which is capable of use for distillation or in connection therewith (except coal and other fuel), shall, when not being so used, be kept in the material store or such other place as may be approved by the Chief Inspector.

34. Materials for making wort—In the brewing or making of wort or wash for the distillation of spirit, a spirit maker may use any material where the specific gravity of the wort or wash so produced can be ascertained in accordance with section 42 of the Act.

35. Account of materials—Every spirit maker shall maintain, in a form and manner satisfactory to the Chief Inspector, an account of all the materials received from time to time into the material store of his distillery and of all the materials removed from the material store.

36. Vessels to be kept—Subject to the provisos to regulations 14 and 15 of these regulations, every spirit maker shall erect and keep in his distillery at least 1 wash back, low wines receiver, feints receiver, low wines charger, feints charger, and spirit receiver.

37. Notice of mashing—On every occasion on which he intends to begin mashing, every spirit maker shall give to the Collector not less than 16 hours' notice of his intentions, specifying the vessels and the kind and quantity of materials he intends to use, and the period during which the mashing is to continue:

Provided that with the permission of the Collector he may give such notice in respect of more than one mashing.

38. Addition of certain substances—No spirit maker shall add to the wort contained in any fermenting back any substance for exciting fermentation unless he has given an authorised officer 1 hour's notice of his intention:

Provided that at any time before the declaration of the specific gravity pursuant to regulation 40 of these regulations it shall be lawful for the spirit maker to make use of spent wash in the preparation of wort.

39. Notice of setting up backs—Before any wort is conveyed or collected from the cooler into any fermenting back or backs, the spirit maker shall give notice to an authorised officer, specifying the back or backs to be filled or set up.

40. Declaration of gravity and quantity of wort—(1) Immediately on the conveyance and collection into any fermenting back or backs of the whole of the wort intended to be fermented in the back or backs, the spirit maker shall deliver to an authorised officer a declaration specifying the number of that back or those backs into which the wort has been conveyed, and the specific gravity of the wort in that back or those backs, and the quantity thereof.

(2) The quantity of wort shall be calculated in such manner as the Chief Inspector may direct.

(3) If any wort is conveyed or collected into any fermenting back or backs except as specified in the aforesaid declaration or in any other manner than is herein directed, or if the declaration is untrue in any particular, or if the declaration is not delivered as herein required, the spirit maker commits an offence against these regulations.

41. Notice of charging—(1) At least 1 hour before any wash is conveyed from any fermenting wash back into the wash header tank or any other vessel or still which the Inspector may approve, the spirit maker shall give notice to the authorised officer stating the number of the back in which the wash is contained, the specific gravity of the wash, and the day and hour when the wash is to be so conveyed.

(2) If any wash is removed or conveyed from any other back or at any other time or manner than is mentioned in the notice, or notice is not given, the spirit maker commits an offence against these regulations.

42. Declaration of low wines, feints, and spirit produced—(1) If the Chief Inspector so requires, the spirit maker shall deliver to an authorised officer immediately after every distillation a declaration in such form as the Chief Inspector may require specifying the quantities and strengths of all low wines, feints, and spirit produced.

(2) If any low wines, feints, or spirit are produced except as specified in the declaration, or if the declaration is untrue in any particular, or if the declaration is not delivered as herein required, the spirit maker commits an offence against these regulations.

43. Notice of charging stills with low wines or feints—(1) At least 12 hours before any low wines or feints are conveyed from any holding tank into the low wines or feints charger or any other vessel or still which an Inspector may approve, the spirit maker shall, unless the Chief Inspector so requires, give notice in writing to the authorised officer stating the number of the holding tank in which such low wines or feints are contained, and the day and the hour when the low wines or feints are to be so conveyed.

(2) If any low wines or feints are conveyed from any other holding tank or at any other time or manner than is mentioned in the notice or notice is not given, the spirit maker commits an offence against these regulations.

Rectifiers

44. Receiver to be kept—Every rectifier shall erect and keep in the distillery at least 1 spirit receiver.

45. Receipt of spirit—Where under section 58 of the Act any spirit is removed to a distillery for the purpose of rectification, it shall forthwith be lodged in the spirit store of the distillery.

46. Notice of intention to rectify—(1) It shall not be lawful for any rectifier to charge his still or to commence the recifying of spirit without first giving to the Collector at least 24 hours' notice of his intention to do so.

(2) The notice shall contain full particulars of the description of spirit, intended to be rectified, including the quantity and strength thereof.

Vignerons

47. Special storerooms—Every storeroom provided by a vigneron under section 48 of the Act shall be secured by a Crown lock.

48. Receivers—(1) Subject to the proviso to regulation 14 of these regulations, every vigneron shall have in his storeroom a low wines receiver, a feints receiver, and a spirit receiver of capacities approved by an Inspector:

Provided that with the approval of the Chief Inspector the low wines receiver and the feints receiver may be kept outside the storeroom.

(2) These receivers shall be properly calibrated so that the contents can be ascertained either by sight glass or dipstick.

49. Storage of low wines, feints, spirit, and spirituous residues—(1) All low wines, feints, spirit, and spirituous residues produced shall, if not stored in a receiver or vat, be kept in casks approved by an Inspector in the storeroom or such other place approved by the Chief Inspector.

(2) All such casks shall be numbered consecutively and shall have legibly painted thereon the name of the vigneron and the description of the contents, with figures representing the number of litres contained therein.

(3) The special storeroom of a vigneron shall not be used for the storage of any materials other than low wines, feints, spirit, and the spirituous residues of distillation.

50. Authorised officer may take account—Before any distillation is commenced by a vigneron, an authorised officer may take account of all wines, lees of wine, or other liquor to be distilled, and after distillation has taken place he shall take account of the quantity and strength of the spirit produced.

51. Residue of distillation—After any distillation has been completed, any residue of low wines or feints containing spirit may, at the option of the vigneron, be destroyed under the supervision of an authorised officer or retained for the next operation.

52. Removal of spirit—(1) No spirit shall be removed from the storeroom or other approved place of any vigneron except with the consent of an authorised officer.

(2) Where, in accordance with the Act, any spirit is to be used for fortifying wines or grape-must, the spirit shall not be mixed with wine or must except in the presence of an authorised officer, who may take samples of the wine or must both before and after the mixing.

53. Vigneron to keep records—Every vigneron shall keep in a form and manner satisfactory to the Collector an account of the materials used in the distillation of spirit, the spirit so produced, and the use of that spirit in the fortification of wine or grape-must. A record shall also be kept of any spirituous residues produced in the course of distillation and their disposal.

PART IV—STORAGE AND REMOVAL

54. Arrangement of goods in warehouse or storeroom—Every distiller shall cause all casks in his warehouse or storeroom to be arranged in such manner as may be approved by an Inspector.

55. Account of goods in warehouse—Every distiller, other than a vigneron, shall keep, in a form and manner satisfactory to the Chief Inspector, accounts of—

- (a) All spirit and wines received into the warehouse; and
- (b) The manufacture of, and other dealings with, all spirit and wines in the warehouse in accordance with section 53 and section 55 of the Act; and
- (c) The removal of all spirit and wines from the warehouse:

Provided that, with the approval of the Chief Inspector, the accounts may be dispensed with in any particular case.

56. Entry for removal—Entry for removal from a warehouse licensed under the Customs Act 1966 to a warehouse appointed under the Act shall be in the form prescribed in the Customs Regulations 1968 for the removal of goods from warehouse to warehouse.

57. Permit to remove spirit to another distillery—The permit to remove spirit from any distillery or from any warehouse appointed under the Act to any other distillery shall be in form 4 in the First Schedule to these regulations.

58. Minimum quantity—The minimum quantity of spirit which may be removed from a warehouse appointed under the Act shall be 45 litres or such lesser amount as the Chief Inspector may allow in any particular case.

59. Conveyance of spirit—(1) No person except a Customs carrier licensed under the Customs Act 1966 shall convey to or from any distillery any spirit subject to the Act.

(2) Every Customs carrier shall, before first using any tank carrying vehicle for the conveyance of spirit subject to the Act,—

- (a) Cause to be marked on the vehicle, in a place and manner approved by an Inspector, a number allotted by the Inspector; and

- (b) Furnish to the Inspector a return in writing setting out the capacity of every tank carried on or proposed to be carried on the vehicle and sufficient details of the dimensions of such tank to enable an authorised officer at any time to ascertain the quantity of spirit contained therein.

PART V—MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

60. General penalty—Every person who commits an offence against these regulations shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding $200.

61. Keeping of records—(1) Subject to subclause (2) of this regulation, every distiller shall keep sufficient records to the satisfaction of the Chief Inspector to enable his liability for excise duty to be readily ascertained and shall retain all such records so kept after the commencement of these regulations and all records relating to his business as a distiller in existence at that date for a period of at least 7 years after the completion of the transactions, acts, or operations to which they relate.

- (2) This regulation shall not require the retention of any records—
 - (a) In respect of which the Chief Inspector has given notice that retention is not required;
 - (b) Of a distillery company that has been wound up and finally dissolved.

62. Revocations—The following regulations are hereby revoked:

- (a) The Distillation Regulations 1961;
 - (b) The Distillation Regulations 1961, Amendment No. 1.

P. G. MILLEN,
 Clerk of the Executive Council.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

This note is not part of the regulations, but is intended to indicate their general effect.

These regulations relate to the distillation of spirit.

They apply primarily to licences to—

(a) Distil spirit:

(b) Rectify and compound spirit:

(c) Distil spirit for fortifying New Zealand wines.

The regulations prescribe rules to be observed in distilleries with respect to the distillation of spirit and the handling of spirit after distillation.

In addition special rules are prescribed with respect to vigneronns who are those persons licensed to distil spirit for fortifying New Zealand wine.

Issued under the authority of the Regulations Act 1936.

Date of notification in Gazette: 3 November 1977.

These regulations are administered in the Customs Department.
