Explanatory note

This note is not part of the regulations, but is intended to indicate their general effect.

These regulations amend Part 1 of Schedule 3 of the Immigration Regulations 1999, which sets out the fees payable for applications and other matters specified in that Part.

The amendments, which come into force on 26 November 2007,—

- reduce from $1,400 to $700 the fee payable for an application for recognised seasonal employer status:
- increase from $120 to $180 the fee payable for an application for agreement to recruit under the recognised seasonal employer policy and make a minor consequential change to the name of that policy:
- change the description of the item relating to a request by an employer for approval in principle for the granting of a permit for the purpose of recruitment of staff in order to clarify that the request may be made for staff who are already in New Zealand:
- provide for a fee to be payable for an application for a working holidaymaker extension permit:
- provide for fees to be payable for a limited purpose permit or visa in relation to work for a recognised seasonal employer:
- replace the fees payable for an application for a residence permit or visa under the business investor category with fees that are payable for an application for a residence permit or visa under the general (active) investor category, the professional investor category, and the global investor category.

Issued under the authority of the Acts and Regulations Publication Act 1989.

Date of notification in Gazette: 18 October 2007.

These regulations are administered by the Department of Labour.
