EXPLANATORY NOTE

This note is not part of the regulations, but is intended to indicate their general effect.

These regulations, which come into force on 25 October 1999, amend Schedule 1 of the Land Transport (Offences and Penalties) Regulations 1999. These amendments are a consequence of the making of the Land Transport Rule: Glazing, Windscreen Wipe and Wash, and Mirrors 1999, which comes into force on 25 October 1999.

The new rule expands the list of persons with responsibilities under the rule. In addition to operators, repairers, and certifiers, which were listed in the previous version of the rule, the list now includes modifiers, manufacturers, and retailers. These regulations specify the maximum penalties for each class of offences involving a breach of a provision under the new rule.

Issued under the authority of the Acts and Regulations Publication Act 1989.
Date of notification in Gazette: 23 September 1999.
These regulations are administered in the Ministry of Transport.
