EXPLANATORY NOTE

This note is not part of the regulations, but is intended to indicate their general effect.

These regulations, which come into force on 1 February 1995, amend the Shipping (Manning and Watchkeeping) Regulations 1986 by removing coastal ships from the scope of those regulations. The amendment aligns those regulations with the Maritime Transport Act 1994 and recognises that foreign ships may operate in the coastal trade with certificates accepted or recognised by the Director of Maritime Safety and need not hold New Zealand certificates.

Issued under the authority of the Acts and Regulations Publication Act 1989.
Date of notification in Gazette: 1 December 1994.
These regulations are administered in the Ministry of Transport.
