EXPLANATORY NOTE

This note is not part of the regulations, but is intended to indicate their general effect.

These regulations have 2 main effects. First, they provide that commerce, art, homecraft, and animal husbandry are no longer to be subjects for which secondary school technical bursaries may be awarded, and that such bursaries may now be awarded for workshop technology. Secondly, they make clear that where a pupil applies for a junior bursary in respect of a subject from the group of agriculture subjects or workshop subjects, he or she will not be eligible unless none of the subjects in that group is available locally.
