EXPLANATORY NOTE

This note is not part of the regulations, but is intended to indicate their general effect.

Under the Trustee Banks (Interest) Regulations 1984 the rate of interest payable on deposit accounts in trustee banks was limited to 3 percent in the case where the deposit was available at call or after a specified period of less than 30 days. The effect of these regulations is to remove that limitation (except in the case of home lay-by accounts).

Issued under the authority of the Regulations Act 1936.

Date of notification in Gazette: 30 August 1984.

These regulations are administered in the Reserve Bank of New Zealand.
