EXPLANATORY NOTE

This note is not part of the regulations, but is intended to indicate their general effect.

These regulations amend the Technical Institutes Regulations 1968. The main effect is that the appointment by the Board of Governors of a technical institute of a Head of Department in the institute to the position of Deputy Principal will no longer require the prior approval of the Director-General of Education. Appointments to the position of Head of Department will likewise no longer require the prior approval of the Director-General. Prior approval of the Director-General will no longer be required for the refund of reasonable expenses incurred by a tutor or other officer of a technical institute who at the request of the Board of Governors of the institute attends an educational conference or meeting. If the conference or meeting is overseas, however, the prior approval of the Minister of Education will still be required.
