Provided that the maximum rate of interest payable in respect of any 36-monthly period of deposit which commenced before the commencement of this order shall be that prescribed by the corresponding provision of such previous interest order as was in force on the date of commencement of the period of deposit.

7. Maximum amount on which interest payable—In respect of depositors in special-purpose accounts, no interest shall be paid on any amount standing to the credit of any depositor in excess of $1,000 in respect of any 1 account.

8. Revocation—The Trustee Savings Banks Interest Order 1975* is hereby revoked.

P. G. MILLEN,
Clerk of the Executive Council.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

This note is not part of the order, but is intended to indicate its general effect.

Clause 2 repeats the provision that the maximum rate of interest payable on accounts other than investment accounts and current accounts shall be 3 percent per annum.

Clauses 3 to 5 raise the maximum rates of interest payable on 6-month, 1-year, and 2-year investment accounts by 1 percent per annum.

Clause 6 raises the maximum rate of interest payable on 3-year investment accounts by $1\frac{1}{2}$ percent per annum.

The higher rates specified in clauses 3 to 6 will be payable only in respect of periods of deposits which commence on or after 3 March 1976.

Clause 7 repeats the provision fixing the maximum amount in a special-purpose account on which interest is payable at $1,000.

NOTE—The maximum amounts in other types of accounts on which interest is payable, with the exception of home ownership accounts and farm ownership accounts, are fixed by the Trustee Savings Banks Act 1948, namely $12,000 in respect of depositors other than institutions, and $40,000 in respect of institutions.

Issued under the authority of the Regulations Act 1936.

Date of notification in Gazette: 2 March 1976.

This order is administered by the Reserve Bank.
