Order

1 Title

This order is the Canterbury Earthquake (Cadastral Survey Act) Order 2010.

2 Commencement

This order comes into force on 16 December 2010.

3 Expiry

This order expires, and is revoked, on the close of 31 December 2012.

Clause 3: amended, on 19 April 2011, by section 90 of the Canterbury Earthquake Recovery Act 2011 (2011 No 12).

4 Meaning of Canterbury earthquake land

In this order, Canterbury earthquake land means land affected by the Canterbury earthquake.

5 Surveyor-General may make rule for Canterbury earthquake land

- (1) The Surveyor-General may, by notice in the Gazette, make a rule—
- (a) specifying how the spatial extent (particularly boundaries) of Canterbury earthquake land must be defined and described; and
  - (b) specifying standards for the conduct of cadastral surveys for the purposes of paragraph (a).

- (2) The Surveyor-General is not required to, but may, consult the persons described in section 49(2)(a) to (c) of the Cadastral Survey Act 2002 before making the rule.
- (3) The Surveyor-General must have regard to the matters specified in section 49(3)(a) to (e) of the Cadastral Survey Act 2002 before making the rule.
- (4) Rules made under this clause have effect while this order is in force.

Clause 5(4): added, on 19 April 2011, by section 90 of the Canterbury Earthquake Recovery Act 2011 (2011 No 12).

6 Cadastral Survey Act 2002 applies to rule

The Cadastral Survey Act 2002 applies to a rule made under clause 5 as if the rule had been made under that Act.

Rebecca Kitteridge,
Clerk of the Executive Council.

Notes*1 General

This is a reprint of the Canterbury Earthquake (Cadastral Survey Act) Order 2010. The reprint incorporates all the amendments to the order as at 1 January 2013, as specified in the list of amendments at the end of these notes.

Relevant provisions of any amending enactments that contain transitional, savings, or application provisions that cannot be compiled in the reprint are also included, after the principal enactment, in chronological order. For more information, see <http://www.pco.parliament.govt.nz/reprints/>.

2 Status of reprints

Under section 16D of the Acts and Regulations Publication Act 1989, reprints are presumed to correctly state, as at the date of the reprint, the law enacted by the principal enactment and by the amendments to that enactment. This presumption applies even though editorial changes authorised by section 17C of the Acts and Regulations Publication Act 1989 have been made in the reprint.

This presumption may be rebutted by producing the official volumes of statutes or statutory regulations in which the principal enactment and its amendments are contained.

3 How reprints are prepared

A number of editorial conventions are followed in the preparation of reprints. For example, the enacting words are not included in Acts, and provisions that are repealed or revoked are omitted. For a detailed list of the editorial conventions, see <http://www.pco.parliament.govt.nz/editorial-conventions/> or Part 8 of the Tables of New Zealand Acts and Ordinances and Statutory Regulations and Deemed Regulations in Force.

4 Changes made under section 17C of the Acts and Regulations Publication Act 1989

Section 17C of the Acts and Regulations Publication Act 1989 authorises the making of editorial changes in a reprint as set out in sections 17D and 17E of that Act so that, to the extent permitted, the format and style of the reprinted enactment is consistent with current legislative drafting practice. Changes that would alter the effect of the legislation are not permitted. A new format of legislation was introduced on 1 January 2000. Changes to legislative drafting style have also been made since 1997, and are ongoing. To the extent permitted by section 17C of the Acts and Regulations Publication Act 1989, all legislation reprinted after 1 January 2000 is in the new format for legislation and reflects current drafting practice at the time of the reprint.

In outline, the editorial changes made in reprints under the authority of section 17C of the Acts and Regulations Publication Act 1989 are set out below, and they have been applied, where relevant, in the preparation of this reprint:

- omission of unnecessary referential words (such as “of this section” and “of this Act”)
- typeface and type size (Times Roman, generally in 11.5 point)
- layout of provisions, including:
  - indentation
  - position of section headings (eg, the number and heading now appear above the section)
- format of definitions (eg, the defined term now appears in bold type, without quotation marks)
- format of dates (eg, a date formerly expressed as “the 1st day of January 1999” is now expressed as “1 January 1999”)

- position of the date of assent (it now appears on the front page of each Act)
- punctuation (eg, colons are not used after definitions)
- Parts numbered with roman numerals are replaced with arabic numerals, and all cross-references are changed accordingly
- case and appearance of letters and words, including:
  - format of headings (eg, headings where each word formerly appeared with an initial capital letter followed by small capital letters are amended so that the heading appears in bold, with only the first word (and any proper nouns) appearing with an initial capital letter)
  - small capital letters in section and subsection references are now capital letters
- schedules are renumbered (eg, Schedule 1 replaces First Schedule), and all cross-references are changed accordingly
- running heads (the information that appears at the top of each page)
- format of two-column schedules of consequential amendments, and schedules of repeals (eg, they are rearranged into alphabetical order, rather than chronological).
