- 2 Any motor vehicle imported without an odometer.
- 3 Any goods bearing, or to which there is attached in any manner whatsoever, any statement or indication (for example, a statement or indication by words, numbers, marks, pictures or symbols, or a combination of those things) that is incorrect or misleading as to—

- (a) the particular kind or standard, quality, grade, quantity, composition, style, model, particular history, or particular previous use of the goods; or
- (b) the goods being new, or reconditioned, or manufactured, produced, processed, or reconditioned in a particular place or at a particular time; or
- (c) the country or place of origin of the goods.

4 Any goods in respect of which there is applied to any covering, packaging, label, wrapper, ticket, reel, or thing in or with which the goods are supplied any statement or indication (for example, a statement or indication by words, numbers, marks, pictures or symbols, or a combination of those things) that is incorrect or misleading as to—

- (a) the particular kind or standard, quality, grade, quantity, composition, style, model, particular history, or particular previous use of the goods; or
- (b) the goods being new, or reconditioned, or manufactured, produced, processed, or reconditioned in a particular place or at particular time; or
- (c) the country or place of origin of the goods.

Diane Morcom,
Clerk of the Executive Council.

Explanatory note

This note is not part of the order, but is intended to indicate its general effect.

This order, which comes into force on 1 October 2005, prohibits the importation of various goods under the Customs and Excise Act 1996 except with the relevant Ministerial or official consent.

The prohibited imports are

- certain asbestos:
- certain offensive weapons:
- certain trade descriptions goods.

Customs Import Prohibition Order 2005

This order continues prohibitions that were formerly in place under the Customs Import Prohibition Order 2002 (SR 2002/255). That order expired on the close of 30 September 2005.

The only change from that order is that a reference to the Minister for the Environment replaces a reference to the Minister of Commerce, to reflect current Ministerial responsibilities.

Issued under the authority of the Acts and Regulations Publication Act 1989.
