Explanatory note

This note is not part of the regulations, but is intended to indicate their general effect.

These regulations, which come into force on 11 July 2002, amend the Fisheries (Transitional Provisions) Regulations (No 2) 2001 in relation to controlled fisheries.

The last controlled fishery in existence, the Coromandel scallop fishery, has been brought under the quota management system by the Fisheries (Declaration of New Stock Subject to Quota Management System) Notice 2001, and the Fisheries Act Commencement Order 2002 accordingly brings into force the provision of the Fisheries Act 1996 (section 314(1)(e)) that repeals the controlled fishery provisions of the Fisheries Act 1983.

These regulations amend the controlled fishery transitional provision in the principal regulations to reflect that fact, and provide that the Coromandel scallop fishery is to cease to be treated as a controlled fishery.

Issued under the authority of the Acts and Regulations Publication Act 1989.
Date of notification in Gazette: 13 June 2002.
