NOTES

These notes do not form part of the notice. Every notice must contain the information specified in the form and the information required by regulations 6 to 14.

1. Registered Exchange—A copy of this notice must be sent to the registered exchange by which the securities of the public issuer are listed at the same time as it is sent to the public issuer.
2. Overall totals—Give—
 - (a) The total number of the public issuer's voting securities in which a relevant interest is held:
 - (b) The total number of voting securities issued by the public issuer. The most recent statement given by the public issuer to security holders of the total number of voting securities issued by the public issuer should be used unless the person giving the notice knows that that number is not correct and knows the correct number:
 - (c) The total percentage in which a relevant interest is held.
3. Beneficial/Non-beneficial relevant interests—A person has a beneficial relevant interest in a voting security if that person is a beneficial owner of the security. A person has a non-beneficial relevant interest in a voting security if the person has a relevant interest in the security other than by reason of being a beneficial owner of the security.

Where a relevant interest has changed in nature from being a non-beneficial to a beneficial relevant interest (or vice versa), complete both columns to show the effect of the change in nature of the relevant interest.

Class—If a relevant interest is held in the voting securities of more than one class, fill out a separate table for each class, and annex it to the notice.

- (a) In the case of a notice that a person has become a substantial security holder, every relevant interest:
 - (b) In the case of a notice of a change in total number of voting securities in which relevant interest is held, the relevant interest(s) affected by the transaction or transactions from which the change results:
 - (c) In the case of a notice that a person has ceased to be a substantial security holder, the relevant interest(s) affected by the transaction or transactions as a result of which the person ceased to be a substantial security holder:
 - (d) In the case of a notice of a change in the nature of a relevant interest, the relevant interest(s) in respect of which there has been a change in nature.
5. Registered holders—Give the name of the registered holder(s) of the voting securities, or the name of the person(s) who are intended to be the registered holders once any transfers involved in the transactions giving rise to the notice have been registered.
- If the substantial security holder has relevant interests in more than one registered holding, give details of each of those registered holdings, and annex it to the notice.
6. Details of non-beneficial relevant interests—In respect of each non-beneficial relevant interest required to be disclosed, give the provision(s) of section 5 of the Securities Amendment Act 1988 under which the relevant interest arises.
7. Details of transactions—In respect of each transaction pursuant to which the relevant interest was acquired or disposed of, or from which the change results, give—

 - (b) The number of voting securities affected by that transaction:
 - (c) The consideration (if any), for that transaction, expressed in New Zealand dollars (including the value of benefits received or to be received (if any)):

If a relevant interest was acquired or disposed of, or otherwise arose or ceased, from more than one transaction, or if the change in number or nature of the relevant interest results from more than one transaction, give the details for each transaction separately, and annex it to the notice.

However, give the details in aggregate for stock exchange transactions as follows:

- (a) The date of the transaction may be expressed as the date of the beginning and the date of the end of the period over which the transactions on registered exchanges occurred:
- (b) Information as to the number of voting securities and the consideration may be expressed as an aggregate number or amount for that period.

If the substantial security holder has 2 or more relevant interests in the same voting security, or in different voting securities, of the public issuer, the information prescribed by regulation 10 must be disclosed for each relevant interest, and annexed to form 1.

8. Documents required to accompany notice in case of non-beneficial relevant interests or change in nature of relevant interest—The notice must be accompanied by, or have annexed, relevant documentation if the notice discloses—

- (a) A relevant interest that arises, or a change in the total number of voting securities in which a relevant interest is held, other than by reason of the substantial security holder having, or ceasing to have, a beneficial relevant interest in any voting securities; or

Explanatory note

This note is not part of the regulations, but is intended to indicate their general effect.

These regulations, which come into force on 1 August 1997, relate to the disclosure of interests of substantial security holders in public issuers.

The regulations prescribe—

- (a) The form of notices that are required under sections 20, 21, 22, 28, and 29 of the Securities Amendment Act 1988:
- (b) The information required to be contained in those notices:
- (c) The documents, certificates, and statements that are required to accompany or be annexed to those notices:
- (d) The manner in which those notices are to be given and acknowledged:
- (e) The fees payable under section 25 of the Securities Amendment Act 1988.

The regulations replace the Securities (Substantial Security Holders) Regulations 1989. The principal differences from the old regulations are that—

- (a) The new regulations prescribe just one multi-purpose form to be used by persons becoming substantial security holders, ceasing to be substantial security holders, and also where there is a change in number or nature of relevant interests. The previous regulations prescribed different forms for each event:
- (b) The new regulations are more flexible in terms of the electronic filing of notices.
