Statement of reasons

This notice applies to acts or omissions occurring on or after 19 May 2009 and expires on 30 April 2012.

The Takeovers Panel (the Panel) has granted exemptions for—

- New Zealand Oil & Gas Limited and its wholly owned subsidiaries listed in the Schedule (together, NZOG) from rule 7(d) of the Takeovers Code (the Code), to the extent that rule 7(d) requires the notice of the meeting of shareholders of Pike River Coal Limited (Pike River) in 2009 that approved the allotment of voting securities to NZOG to be in accordance with rule 16(b) of the Code and the notice of the meeting of shareholders in 2010 that approved a further allotment of voting securities to NZOG to be in accordance with rule 16(b) and (d) of the Code; and
- Pike River from rule 16(b) of the Code in respect of the notice of the 2009 meeting and from rule 16(b) and (d) of the Code in respect of the notice of the 2010 meeting.

The exemptions apply in respect of any increase in NZOG's voting rights in Pike River as a result of the allotment of voting securities on the exercise of options or pursuant to the terms of convertible bonds. The Panel considers that the granting of the exemptions from rules 7(d) and 16(b) and (d) of the Code is appropriate and consistent with the objectives of the Code for the following reasons:

- the details required by rule 16(b) and (d) could not be specified in the notices because it was uncertain what number of options would ultimately be exercised by NZOG, or what rights NZOG would exercise pursuant to the terms of the convertible bonds, or what number of shares would be issued on any exercise of rights under the convertible bonds, or whether there would be any change to Pike River's capital structure before the expiry date of the options and the maturity of the convertible bonds, or what the price payable for the shares to issue on conversion of the convertible bonds would be:

- all non-associated shareholders had an opportunity to vote on the potential allotment of voting securities to NZOG in respect of the exercise of rights under the options and pursuant to the terms of the convertible bonds:
- if the non-associated shareholders approved the potential maximum allotment of voting securities to NZOG in respect of the options and the exercise of rights under the convertible bonds, then, by implication, the shareholders also approved any lesser percentage of voting rights that may be allotted to NZOG:
- the ability for shareholders to subscribe for securities and thus provide adequate funding to ensure a company's growth is an acknowledged method of raising capital in New Zealand, and the Panel should facilitate these arrangements by granting appropriate exemptions where necessary.

Notes1 General

This is a reprint of the Takeovers Code (Pike River Coal Limited) Exemption Notice 2010. The reprint incorporates all the amendments to the notice as at 1 May 2012, as specified in the list of amendments at the end of these notes.

Relevant provisions of any amending enactments that contain transitional, savings, or application provisions that cannot be compiled in the reprint are also included, after the principal enactment, in chronological order. For more information, see <http://www.pco.parliament.govt.nz/reprints/>.

2 Status of reprints

Under section 16D of the Acts and Regulations Publication Act 1989, reprints are presumed to correctly state, as at the date of the reprint, the law enacted by the principal enactment and by the amendments to that enactment. This presumption applies even though editorial changes authorised by section 17C of the Acts and Regulations Publication Act 1989 have been made in the reprint.

This presumption may be rebutted by producing the official volumes of statutes or statutory regulations in which the principal enactment and its amendments are contained.

3 How reprints are prepared

A number of editorial conventions are followed in the preparation of reprints. For example, the enacting words are not included in Acts, and provisions that are repealed or revoked are omitted. For a detailed list of the editorial conventions, see <http://www.pco.parliament.govt.nz/editorial-conventions/> or Part 8 of the Tables of New Zealand Acts and Ordinances and Statutory Regulations and Deemed Regulations in Force.

4 Changes made under section 17C of the Acts and Regulations Publication Act 1989

Section 17C of the Acts and Regulations Publication Act 1989 authorises the making of editorial changes in a reprint as set out in sections 17D and 17E of that Act so that, to the extent permitted, the format and style of the reprinted enactment is consistent with current legislative drafting practice. Changes that would alter the effect of the legislation are not permitted. A new format of legislation was introduced on 1 January 2000. Changes to legislative drafting style have also been made since 1997, and are ongoing. To the extent permitted by section 17C of the Acts and Regulations Publication Act 1989, all legislation reprinted after 1 January 2000 is in the new format for legislation and reflects current drafting practice at the time of the reprint.

In outline, the editorial changes made in reprints under the authority of section 17C of the Acts and Regulations Publication Act 1989 are set out below, and they have been applied, where relevant, in the preparation of this reprint:

- omission of unnecessary referential words (such as “of this section” and “of this Act”)
- typeface and type size (Times Roman, generally in 11.5 point)
- layout of provisions, including:
 - indentation
 - position of section headings (eg, the number and heading now appear above the section)
- format of definitions (eg, the defined term now appears in bold type, without quotation marks)
- format of dates (eg, a date formerly expressed as “the 1st day of January 1999” is now expressed as “1 January 1999”)

- position of the date of assent (it now appears on the front page of each Act)
- punctuation (eg, colons are not used after definitions)
- Parts numbered with roman numerals are replaced with arabic numerals, and all cross-references are changed accordingly
- case and appearance of letters and words, including:
 - format of headings (eg, headings where each word formerly appeared with an initial capital letter followed by small capital letters are amended so that the heading appears in bold, with only the first word (and any proper nouns) appearing with an initial capital letter)
 - small capital letters in section and subsection references are now capital letters
- schedules are renumbered (eg, Schedule 1 replaces First Schedule), and all cross-references are changed accordingly
- running heads (the information that appears at the top of each page)
- format of two-column schedules of consequential amendments, and schedules of repeals (eg, they are rearranged into alphabetical order, rather than chronological).
