PAY AND ALLOWANCES, PETTY OFFICERS AND MEN
(SEA-GOING).

2. (i.) The following rates of "active pay," "deferred pay," and allowances shall apply to petty officers, men, and boys entered for sea-going Naval service under the New Zealand Government on and after the 15th July, 1914.

With the exception of Officers' Stewards, Officers' Cooks, and Ships' Musicians all ratings will be required to execute engagements to serve for a first period of seven years from date of entry, or from the date of attaining eighteen years, if such date is subsequent to date of entry.

Ratings may be allowed to re-engage for further periods of seven years if recommended by the Commanding Officer of the ship or establishment in which they are serving and approved by the New Zealand Naval Authority.

Ratings lent from the Active List of the Royal Navy will be required to engage for three years' service, which period may in special circumstances be extended. Officers' Stewards, Officers' Cooks, and Ships' Musicians will be required to engage or re-engage for three years' service.

All previous service in Royal Navy or Royal Marines will be allowed to count for rates of pay, good-conduct badges, and other allowances as if served under the New Zealand Government.
