Regulations under the Fisheries Act, 1908.

LIVERPOOL, Governor.
ORDER IN COUNCIL.

At the Government Buildings, at Wellington, this twentieth day of January, 1914.

Present :

THE RIGHT HONOURABLE W. F. MASSEY PRESIDING IN COUNCIL.

WHEREAS it is enacted by the fifth section of the Fisheries Act, 1908 (hereinafter called "the said Act"), that the Governor in Council may make regulations for, amongst other things, generally regulating the sea-fishing of the Dominion, and imposing conditions and restrictions on the taking of fish:

And whereas it is desirable to make the regulations hereinafter set forth:

Now, therefore, His Excellency the Governor of the Dominion of New Zealand, in pursuance and exercise of the power and authority conferred upon him by the said Act, and of all other powers and authorities enabling him in that behalf, and acting by and with the advice and consent of the Executive Council of the said Dominion, doth hereby make the following regulations for the purposes of the said Act; and doth declare that such regulation shall have force and effect throughout the Dominion.

REGULATIONS.

1. In these regulations the term "long-line" shall mean and include lines set, moored, or placed for the purpose of taking fish, but shall not mean or include deep "hand-lines."

2. No long line set, moored, or placed for the purpose of taking fish shall be left for a longer period than two hours without being attended to and the fish taken off.

3. The registered owner or master of any fishing-boat who engages in long-line fishing shall distinctly mark the letters and registered number of such boat on each mark-buoy or object to which he has a long line attached.

4. Any person committing a breach of the above regulations is liable to a fine of not less than £1 and not exceeding £20.
