Commonwealth of Australia proclaimed an infected Place.

[L.s.] LIVERPOOL, Governor-General.
A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS by section one hundred and fifteen of the Public Health Act, 1908 (hereinafter termed the said Act), it is provided that the Governor-General may by Proclamation notify that any place in or beyond New Zealand is infected with a dangerous infectious disease, and thereupon, and so long as such Proclamation remains in force, such place shall be deemed to be an infected place for the purposes of Part III of the said Act:

And whereas influenza, which has been declared to be a dangerous infectious disease within the meaning of the said Act, is prevalent in the Commonwealth of Australia:

Now, therefore, in pursuance and exercise of the power and authority so conferred upon me by section one hundred and fifteen of the said Act, I, Arthur William de Brito Savile, Earl of Liverpool, the Governor-General of the Dominion of New Zealand, do hereby proclaim and notify that every port and place in the Commonwealth of Australia is infected with the dangerous infectious disease of influenza, and that every such port and place is accordingly to be deemed to be an infected place for the purposes of Part III of the said Act.

Given under the hand of His Excellency the Right Honourable Arthur William de Brito Savile, Earl of Liverpool, Member of His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, Knight Grand Cross of the Most Distinguished Order of Saint Michael and Saint George, Knight Grand Cross of the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire, Member of the Royal Victorian Order, Knight of Grace of the Order of Saint John of Jerusalem, Governor-General and Commander-in-Chief in and over His Majesty's Dominion of New Zealand and its Dependencies; and issued under the Seal of the said Dominion, at the Government Buildings at Wellington, this seventeenth day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and nineteen.

G. W. RUSSELL,
Minister of Public Health.
