

hundred and seventy-four of the Native Land Act, 1909: And whereas it is expedient to revoke the said regulations, and to make fresh regulations in lieu thereof:

Now, therefore, in pursuance and exercise of the power and authority conferred by the said section two hundred and seventy-four of the Native Land Act, 1909, His Excellency the Administrator of the Government of the Dominion of New Zealand, acting by and with the advice and consent of the Executive Council of the said Dominion, doth hereby revoke the said regulations made on the sixteenth day of July, one thousand nine hundred and twelve, and published in the Gazette of the twenty-fifth day of July, one thousand nine hundred and twelve, and in lieu thereof doth hereby make the following additional regulations for the purpose of the said section; and doth hereby declare that these regulations shall be read with the regulation made under the said section on the thirteenth day of March, one thousand nine hundred and eleven.

REGULATIONS.

1. In addition to the terms prescribed by the said regulations of the 13th March, 1911, the term of any advance may be ten years, and every instalment in respect thereof shall be calculated and payable in accordance with the table in the Schedule hereto.

2. The Board may, on any half-yearly date on which an instalment is payable in respect of an advance made under the said section 274, pay any sum of not less than £100, or a multiple of £100, in reduction of that advance.

3. All moneys so paid shall be applied in or towards satisfaction of the future instalments in the order of their due dates in the following manner:—

- (a.) In the case of each instalment of principal which is wholly satisfied, and on which no interest has actually begun to accrue, the corresponding instalment of interest shall not be payable.
- (b.) The instalments unsatisfied in whole or in part shall, as to both principal and interest, be deemed to be due and payable at half-yearly intervals computed from the due date of the instalment next preceding the instalment that is first satisfied in whole or in part, and there shall consequently be no break in the periodical continuity of the payments to be made by the Board.
