

(3) The master of the vessel shall make suitable arrangements to the satisfaction of the officer of Customs and the officer of Police to enable them to inspect and examine each passenger and each member of the crew, and shall also provide such writing-materials and accommodation as may be required by those officers for the purposes of the said Order.

(4) The Medical Officer of Health shall inform the officer of Customs and the officer of Police as to any person on board the vessel who comes within the restrictions of paragraph (b) or paragraph (c) of subclause (1) of clause 4 of this Order.

(5) The officers of Customs and of Police may put such questions as they deem necessary for the purposes of this Order to any passenger or member of the crew.

(6) If the master or any passenger or any member of the crew shall fail or refuse to answer any question put by an officer of Customs or of Police under the provisions of this clause, or answers any such question in a manner which is false or misleading in any material particular, he shall be guilty of an offence, and shall be liable to a fine of £50.

(7) If any passenger or member of the crew of a vessel arriving in Samoa from places beyond Samoa shall leave the vessel before the Collector of Customs has notified the master that all examinations, inspections, and inquiries required to be made under this Order have been completed, such person and the master shall each be liable to a fine of £50.

(8) If any person other than the Pilot or Medical Officer of Health at Apia shall board any ship arriving from beyond Samoa without the permission of the Collector of Customs before the officers of Customs and Police have completed their duties under this clause he shall be guilty of an offence, and shall be liable to a fine of £50.

15. The master of a ship or any officer or member of the crew of a ship if so directed by the master shall have full power and authority to prevent any person on board that ship from landing in Samoa in breach of the provisions of this Order, and for that purpose to use such force and means of restraint as may be reasonably necessary.

EXEMPTION OF OVERSEAS LABOURERS.

16. (1) The provisions of clauses 4 and 15 hereof shall not apply to any person brought to Samoa as a labourer in accordance with any scheme approved by the Minister of External Affairs for the importation of such labourers or their service in Samoa for terms of years.

(2) The word "labourer" when used in this or the next succeeding clause shall include a domestic labourer and a skilled or unskilled labourer or workman of every description.

DEPORTATION OF LABOURERS.

17. (1) When any person has arrived in Samoa (whether before or after the commencement of this Order) as a labourer in pursuance of any scheme established or consented to by the Administrator for the importation of such labourers and their service in Samoa for terms of years, or in pursuance of any contract to serve as a labourer for any period, it shall be lawful for the Administrator to do such acts, matters, and things as he thinks requisite to secure the compulsory repatriation from Samoa of any such labourer to the country from which he came, and for this purpose to terminate any contract of service to which such labourer may be a party.

(2) The powers given to the Administrator in the last preceding subclause shall be deemed to include the power to arrest a labourer at any time after the expiration or determination of his contract of service, and thereafter to detain him in custody pending his departure from Samoa.
