

189. Every radio-dealer's license of any class shall be deemed to be subject to the respective limitations and restrictions contained in these regulations for a license of that class, as if such limitations and restrictions were set out expressly in the license, and shall be subject generally to these regulations and any amendments thereof, and may be issued subject to such additional conditions and restrictions not inconsistent with the said Act or these regulations or any amendment thereof as may be set out therein.

190. Radio-dealers' licenses shall be divided into four classes, to be distinguished as Class I, Class II, Class III, and Class IV.

191. (1) Every license of Class I, Class II, and Class III shall be issued to some person in respect of a fixed place of business.

(2) Every license issued to a person in respect of a fixed place of business situate within ten miles by the nearest practicable route of the Chief Post-office at Auckland, Christchurch, or Dunedin, or the General Post Office at Wellington, shall be a license of Class I.

(3) Every license issued to a person in respect of a fixed place of business situate elsewhere than as described above shall be a license of Class II.

192. (1) A license of Class I or Class II shall be issued and be available in respect only of one fixed place of business.

(2) Any person seeking to carry on the business of a radio-dealer at more than one fixed place of business shall obtain an additional license of Class I or Class II, as the case may require, in respect of every additional fixed place of business besides the first.

193. A license of Class I or Class II—

- (i) Shall authorize the licensee named therein to deal in radio-telegraphic apparatus at the fixed place of business named in the license either in person or by agent, but at no other place :
- (ii) Shall authorize the licensee, if an individual, to deal in radio-telegraphic apparatus in person, but not by a travelling representative, at any other place not being a fixed place of business :
- (iii) Shall not authorize any person to deal in radio-telegraphic apparatus otherwise than as aforesaid.

194. (1) A license of Class III shall be issued only to the holder of a license of Class I or Class II.

(2) The travelling representative named in a license of Class III shall be an individual.

195. A license of Class III—

- (i) Shall authorize the licensee named therein (whether an individual or not, and in addition to the rights conferred by the license of Class I or Class II which such licensee holds) to deal in radio-telegraphic apparatus by the travelling representative named in the license at any place not being a fixed place of business :
- (ii) Shall authorize such travelling representative so to deal in person only, and not by any sub-representative ;
- (iii) Shall not authorize any person to deal in radio-telegraphic apparatus otherwise than as aforesaid.

196. (1) A license of Class III shall be issued in respect of one travelling representative only.

(2) Any person carrying on the business of a radio-dealer at one or more fixed places of business and seeking to carry on the business of a radio-dealer by means of more than one travelling representative otherwise than at a fixed place of business shall obtain in respect of every such travelling representative a separate license of Class III.

197. (1) A license of Class IV shall be issued not in respect of a fixed place of business, and shall be issued only to a person who does not hold and who is not the travelling representative of any person who holds a license of Class I, Class II, or Class III.

(2) A license of Class IV shall be issued to an individual only, and shall authorize the licensee named therein to deal in radio-telegraphic apparatus in person only, and not by a travelling representative throughout New Zealand, but not at any fixed place of business.

198. No person carrying on the business of a radio-dealer at any fixed place of business shall be entitled to be named as a travelling representative in a license of Class III or to hold a license of Class IV.

199. (1) Any license which is issued to a person who is in fact disqualified to hold the same by virtue of any of the foregoing provisions of this Part of these regulations or (being a license of Class III) which names as travelling representative a person disqualified to be so named shall be void.
