Determining the Rate of Interest on Unpaid Death Duties.

BLEDISLOE, Governor-General.

ORDER IN COUNCIL.

At the Government House at Wellington, this 7th day of September, 1932.

Present :

HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL IN COUNCIL.

WHEREAS section sixty-one of the Finance Act, 1932, enacted that section twenty-six of the Death Duties Act, 1921, was thereby amended by inserting, after the words "six per centum per annum" in subsection two, the words "or at such less rate as the Governor-General by Order in Council may from time to time determine," and further enacted that in the case of unpaid death duties on which interest had begun to be payable on the issue of an Order in Council under the said section the reduced rate thereby fixed should begin to be payable on such date as was specified in that behalf in the Order in Council, being not earlier than one month before the issue of the Order in Council:

Now, therefore, His Excellency the Governor-General of the Dominion of New Zealand, acting by and with the advice and consent of the Executive Council of the said Dominion, and in pursuance and exercise of the powers and authorities conferred upon him as aforesaid, and of all other powers and authorities him thereunto enabling, doth hereby order and declare that interest at the following rates shall be payable under subsection two of section twenty-six of the Death Duties Act, 1921, on all death duties unpaid within three months after the death of a deceased person:—

For the period commencing at the expiration of three months after the death of a deceased person until the expiration of twelve months after the death of such deceased person—5 per centum per annum.

From the expiration of twelve months after the death of such deceased person—5½ per centum per annum.

And I further order and declare that in the case of unpaid death duties on which interest under subsection two of section twenty-six of the Death Duties Act, 1921, has begun to be payable before the date of this Order in Council the said rates shall begin to be payable on the eighth day of August, 1932.
