SUMMER TIME.

Period: From 2 a.m. New Zealand standard time on 9th October, 1932, to 2 a.m. New Zealand standard time on 19th March, 1933.

During the above period the time for general purposes in New Zealand shall be thirty minutes in advance of New Zealand standard time.

The use of summer time does not affect the use of New Zealand standard time for purposes of astronomy, meteorology, or navigation, or affect the construction of any document mentioning or referring to a point of time in connection with any of those purposes.

The attention of mariners is drawn to the several elements contained in the New Zealand Nautical Almanac and Tide-tables, which are given in terms of New Zealand standard time, and to the necessity for adding thirty minutes to all such times if desiring to obtain them in terms of summer time.

Admiralty and other publications for navigational purposes will be similarly affected.
