WELLINGTON, TUESDAY, JULY 10, 1934.

Meat-export Restriction Order, 1934.

BLEDISLOE, Governor-General.

ORDER IN COUNCIL.

At the Government House at Wellington, this 10th day of July, 1934.

Present:

HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL IN COUNCIL.

IN pursuance and exercise of the powers and authorities conferred on him by section forty-seven of the Customs Act, 1913, and of all other powers and authorities enabling him in this behalf, His Excellency the Governor-General of the Dominion of New Zealand, being of opinion that the prohibition of the exportation of the goods hereinafter referred to is necessary in the public interest, and acting by and with the advice and consent of the Executive Council of the said Dominion, doth hereby make the following Order.

REGULATIONS.

I. PRELIMINARY.

- (1) THIS Order may be cited as the Meat-export Restriction Order, 1934.
- (2) This Order shall come into force on the 12th day of July, 1934.
- (3) The prohibition contained in this Order shall apply to goods placed on board an exporting ship on or after the date of the coming into force hereof.

II. PROHIBITION OF EXPORTING WITHOUT LICENSE.

The exportation is hereby prohibited from New Zealand to the United Kingdom of all goods in the Schedule hereto without the consent in writing of the Minister of Agriculture acting upon the advice of the New Zealand Meat-producers' Board.

SCHEDULE.

THE goods above referred to are—

- Frozen beef.
- Frozen veal.

F. D. THOMSON,
Clerk of the Executive Council.

The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that every entry should be supported by a valid receipt or invoice. This ensures transparency and allows for easy auditing of the accounts.

In the second section, the author details the various methods used to collect and analyze data. This includes both primary and secondary research techniques. The primary research involves direct observation and interviews, while secondary research involves reviewing existing literature and reports.

The third section focuses on the statistical analysis of the collected data. It describes the use of various statistical tests to determine the significance of the findings. The results indicate a strong correlation between the variables being studied, which supports the initial hypothesis.

Finally, the document concludes with a summary of the key findings and their implications. It suggests that the results have important implications for the field of study and provides recommendations for further research.
