New Zealand Coinage Act, 1933.—Trial of the Pyx of Silver Coins made for the Government of New Zealand by the Royal Mint in London.

VERDICT.

WE whose names are hereunder written, having been sworn on the thirteenth day of March, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four, before the King's Remembrancer, at Goldsmiths' Hall, in the City of London, have made the assays and trials of New Zealand coins of silver which, according to accounts produced by the officers of the Royal Mint in London were coined in the said Mint in accordance with the New Zealand Coinage Act, 1933, from the 3rd day of October, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three, to the 15th day of February, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four, both days inclusive, and were set aside and placed in the Pyx of the said Mint as prescribed by Order in Council made under the said Act. We ascertained the number of coins in each packet produced to us, and that such number corresponded with the number which the officers of the Mint represented it to contain, and we took two coins from each of such packets of silver coins, making altogether twenty-two half-crowns, sixteen florins, eighteen shillings, sixteen sixpences, and thirty-four threepences. We then weighed each one pound troy weight (at its standard weight) of the coins so taken out and ascertained that the said coins so bulked were within the remedy as to weight prescribed by the New Zealand Coinage Act, 1933. We then took for assay one pound troy (at its standard weight) of the coins so weighed comprising thirteen half-crowns, eight florins, nine shillings, eight sixpences, and eighteen threepences, and we ascertained that the amount of variation from the standard weight allowed under the New Zealand Coinage Act, 1933, was, for such pound so taken for assay, nil on the whole, and that, therefore, such pound troy of silver coins weighed and assayed as aforesaid was on the whole within the variation from standard weight so allowed. We then assayed separately the coins in the pound troy so taken for assay, comparing them with the standard Trial Plate made of pure silver (as prescribed by the Imperial Coinage Act, 1920) produced by the Board of Trade, so as to ascertain whether the metal of the said coins was on the whole within the remedy as to fineness prescribed by the New Zealand Coinage Act, 1933, and we found that the amount of variation from the standard fineness so prescribed was minus eight ten-thousandths (—0008) on the whole of the coins in such pound, and that, therefore, the said pound troy of silver coins weighed and assayed as aforesaid was, on the whole, within the variation from fineness allowed under the New Zealand Coinage Act, 1933. We weighed in bulk the residue of the coins remaining in the said packets of silver coins and we ascertained that they were on the whole within the remedy as to weight allowed under the New Zealand Coinage Act, 1933, being sixty thousandths of an ounce (—060) below the standard weight prescribed by the said Act.

Dated the 2nd day of May, 1934.
