Indecent Publications Act 1963

Decision No. 83/89

Reference No.: IND 62/89

Before the Indecent Publications Tribunal

In the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the following publications: Inspiration 27; Licking Lesbians, Vol. 4, No. 3; Party Girls, No. 1:

Chairman: Judge R. R. Kearney.

Members: R. E. Barrington, A. J. Graham and S. C. Middleton.

Hearing at Wellington on the 28th day of November 1989.

Appearances: M. J. Wotherspoon for Comptroller of Customs. No appearance by or on behalf of the importer.

Decision

These publications were imported through parcel post, Christchurch on 28 October 1989 and were seized by the Collector of Customs. The importer having subsequently disputed forfeiture the publications were referred to the Tribunal for classification prior to the commencement of condemnation proceedings pursuant to the Customs Act 1966.

Inspiration 27

This is a heterosexual magazine consisting of amongst other material both single and multiple model scenes showing the persons illustrated engaging in explicit sexual intimacy. The nature of the publication is clearly injurious to the public good and the Tribunal classifies it as unconditionally indecent.

Licking Lesbians, Vol. 4, No. 3

This publication as its name suggests is almost entirely comprised of multiple model scenes of women engaging in oral sexual acts. The Tribunal is satisfied that this publication is injurious to the public good and the Tribunal classifies it as unconditionally indecent.

Party Girls, No. 1

This magazine contains photographs of single female models with very little accompanying text. The photographic emphasis on the female genitalia is of a kind which the Tribunal is satisfied would be injurious to younger readers and accordingly classifies it as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years.

Before the Indecent Publications Tribunal

In the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the following publications: Female Mimics International, Vol. 17, No. 2 and 4; Love Thy TV Neighbor, Vol. 2; Teased, Tormented and Transformed, Vol. 1, No. 2:

Chairman: Judge R. R. Kearney.

Members: R. E. Barrington, A. J. Graham and S. C. Middleton.

Hearing at Wellington on the 28th day of November 1990.

Appearances: M. J. Wotherspoon for Comptroller of Customs. Written submissions from G. A. Ireland, counsel for importer. Written submissions from private importer.

Decision

These publications were privately imported through parcel post, Auckland on 19 September 1989 and were seized by the Collector of Customs. The importer having subsequently disputed forfeiture the publications have been referred to the Tribunal for classification prior to the commencement of condemnation proceedings pursuant to the Customs Act 1966.

Female Mimics International, Vol. 17, No. 2 and 4.

The Tribunal agrees with Mr Wotherspoon that these are well produced publications which deal with female mimics and that there is no nudity or sexual activity in the pictorial matter and the text is relatively restrained. A previous issue of this magazine was classified as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years (decision No. 43/89), Mr Wotherspoon suggests that a similar classification may be appropriate in this case. In his submissions on behalf of the importer Mr Ireland likewise suggests an R18 classification.

The Tribunal after giving further consideration to the publication is satisfied that the R18 classification is too strict and accordingly classes this issue as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 16 years as there is some material in the publication which would be injurious to younger readers.

Love Thy TV Neighbor, Vol. 2

This is a pictorial story involving transsexual encounters and it includes some references to spanking, female dominance and homosexuality. The Comptroller of Customs through Mr Wotherspoon suggests that an age restriction would be warranted and Mr Ireland on behalf of the importer supports such a classification. The Tribunal classifies this publication as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years.

Teased, Tormented and Transformed, Vol. 1, No. 2.

This publication is primarily concerned with transvestism and contains photographic scenes of bondage, female domination and various multiple models scenes which involve sexual intimacy.

The text is entirely of a sexual nature.

Mr Ireland submits on behalf of the importer that an R18 classification is justified whilst the Comptroller of Customs submits that an unconditionally indecent classification would be warranted. The Tribunal wishes to make it clear as it has in respect of other decisions relating to transvestite publications that in classifying this publication as unconditionally indecent it does so solely because of the sexual intimacy depicted in the photographs in the magazine although some of the aspects of bondage also give cause for concern. Whether the models displayed in the magazine be male, female, male or female transsexual, transvestite or what is commonly called straight, the same rules apply and no distinction is made by the Tribunal in respect of any particular sexual orientation.

Before the Indecent Publications Tribunal

In the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the following publication:
Genesis, December 1989, Vol. 17, No. 5:

Chairman: Judge R. R. Kearney.

Members: R. E. Barrington, A. J. Graham and S. C. Middleton.

Hearing at Wellington on the 28th day of November 1989.

Appearances: M. J. Wotherspoon for Comptroller of Customs. G. F. Ellis, counsel for publisher and importer and intended distributors.

Decision

This publication was commercially imported through parcel post, Auckland on 15 September 1989 and was seized by the Collector of Customs. The importer having subsequently disputed forfeiture the publication was referred to the Tribunal for classification prior to the commencement of condemnation proceedings pursuant to the Customs Act 1966.

In decision 6/89 of 3 May 1989 the Tribunal issued a serial restriction order in terms of section 15A of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, classifying the publication Genesis as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years. That decision had been reached after a number of similar applications over the past 2 years had been either deferred or declined. The Tribunal, in finally deciding to issue a serial restriction order, took into account that the publishers were prepared to overprint the video review segment of the magazine a section which contains pictures of heterosexual and female sexual activity. As the Comptroller of Customs advised the Tribunal in his submissions presented by Mr Wotherspoon this particular issue has not had the video section overprinted and in addition features a segment entitled "Harley and Sally", which includes a significant number of pictures of a male and female model engaged in sexual activity. Mr Ellis advised the Tribunal that the video section on the copies of Genesis sought to be imported commercially did in fact have the overprinting of the video review section and he provided the Tribunal with sample copies of that overprinting.

The overprinting was not as complete as the Tribunal had originally anticipated but was of such a nature that the Tribunal may well have allowed this particular issue to have an R18 classification. In the end result it was not necessary to make a finding in respect of that because the Tribunal is satisfied that the "Harley and Sally" sequence is of such a nature as to make the whole publication in respect of this issue injurious to the public good.

Mr Ellis on behalf of his clients stressed 2 matters. Firstly, (as he has raised on a number of similar applications) that there is only a breach of one of the legs of the tripartite test and that factor should not result in a finding that the publication as a whole is thus unconditionally indecent. Secondly, that the serial order was made on the consideration over several years of this particular title and that the publisher has gone to some lengths to comply with the requirements of the Tribunal and that in the event that the Tribunal finds that this particular issue should be classified as unconditionally indecent it should not result in the Tribunal revoking the serial restriction order.

Contemporaneous with this decision there will be issued another decision in respect of Indecent Publication file 65/89 in respect of Genesis Holiday Issue 1989 in respect of which similar submissions have been advanced by Mr Ellis.

The Tribunal is satisfied as indicated that the December 1989 issue is unconditionally indecent and so classifies it but it is prepared at this stage to reserve the question of whether the serial restriction order should be revoked knowing that the Customs Department will bring to the attention of the Tribunal any further publications which in the Comptroller's view should not be distributed throughout New Zealand in respect of the restriction order.

Before the Indecent Publications Tribunal

In the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the following publication:
Modern Primitives:

Chairman: Judge R. R. Kearney.

Members: R. E. Barrington, A. J. Graham and S. C. Middleton.

Hearing at Wellington on the 28th day of November 1989.

Appearances: M. J. Wotherspoon for Comptroller of Customs. Written submissions received from private importer.

Decision

This publication was privately imported through parcel post, Auckland on or about 12 October 1989 and was seized by the Collector of Customs. The importer having subsequently disputed forfeiture the publication was referred to the Tribunal for classification prior to the commencement of condemnation proceedings pursuant to the Customs Act 1966.

The publication is an extremely well presented one and is an extensive publication dealing with the historical and social aspects of tattooing, piercing and scarification. A significant proportion of the publication is devoted to genital and body piercing with a number of explicit photographs illustrating the text. In previous decisions including 57/89 the Tribunal has expressed its concern that naive persons in possession of such material might place themselves at considerable physical risk in the event that they sought to carry out some of processes which are illustrated and the Tribunal has classified such publications as unconditionally indecent because of that risk or indecent except in the hands of persons who have a genuine professional or academic interest in those publications.

The Tribunal was impressed by the submission submitted by the private importer who informed the Tribunal that he has previously worked in a professional capacity with ear piercing and tattooing and that he at the age of 60 has approximately 40 years experience in that work. The price of the publication is such that it puts it outside the range of publications which might casually be purchased. The Tribunal is satisfied with the submission made by the importer that he is indeed a person with a genuine professional interest in the subject and accordingly the book may be returned to him in the terms of the decision we make.

This publication is classified as unconditionally indecent except in the hands of persons who have a genuine professional or academic interest in the subject matter of the publication and such will need to satisfy the Comptroller of Customs of that genuine interest before they may be permitted to have possession of a copy of this publication.

Before the Indecent Publications Tribunal

In the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the following publications: Stallion, January 1989, Vol. 1, No. 11; Manshots, January 1989, Vol. 1, No. 3; Uncut, May 1988, Vol. 2, No. 5; Jock, August/September 1988, Vol. 4, No. 8:

Chairman: Judge R. R. Kearney.

Members: R. E. Barrington, A. J. Graham and S. C. Middleton.

Hearing at Wellington on the 4th day of October 1989.

Appearances: M. J. Wotherspoon for Comptroller of Customs. Written submissions from private importer.

Decision

These publications were privately imported through parcel post, Auckland on the 14th day of August 1989 and were seized by the Collector of Customs. The importer subsequently disputed forfeiture and the publications have been referred to the Tribunal for classification prior to the commencement of condemnation proceedings pursuant to the Customs Act 1966.

Stallion, January 1989, Uncut, May 1988, Jock, August/September 1988.

These 3 publications are clearly aimed at the male homosexual market, and principally contain photographs of single nude male models in a variety of poses together with a number of articles of a sexual nature. The Tribunal agrees with Mr Wotherspoon's submission and because of the effect that publications would have on younger readers, classifies these publications as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years.

Manshots, January 1989.

This publication is also directed at the male homosexual market and has a strong emphasis on nude or near nude males, some of whom are engaging in genital manipulation. Included in the publication are photographs of models engaging in sexual intimacies, including anal and oral sex. The Tribunal has had similar magazines before it for classification and because of the excess of sexual activity displayed in this magazine in terms of its previous decisions, it has classified it as unconditionally indecent as it is satisfied that the publication would be injurious to the public good.

Before the Indecent Publications Tribunal

In the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the following publications: Club International, Volume 18, No. 8, 9 and 10:

Chairman: Judge R. R. Kearney.

Members: R. E. Barrington, A. J. Graham and S. C. Middleton.

Hearing at Wellington on the 28th day of November 1989.

Appearances: M. J. Wotherspoon for Comptroller of Customs. G. F. Ellis, counsel on behalf of publisher and importer.

Decision

These publications were commercially imported on a limited basis in order that Gordon & Gotch (NZ) Ltd., the intended distributors could have them placed before the Tribunal for classification and for the consideration of a serial restriction order in terms of section 15A of the Indecent Publications Act 1963. This publication has previously been freely available in New Zealand to persons over the age of 18 years and a serial restriction order has previously applied.

The Tribunal is satisfied that there is material in the publication which would be injurious to younger readers and classifies each of these editions as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years and is further satisfied that there is a consistency of format in respect of the publication Club International of such a kind that it is appropriate that a serial restriction order be granted classifying the publication Club International as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years.

Dated at Wellington this 21st day of December 1989.

Chairman: Judge R. R. Kearney.

Members: R. E. Barrington, A. J. Graham and S. C. Middleton.

Hearing at Wellington on the 13th day of October 1988.

Appearances: M. J. Wotherspoon for Comptroller of Customs. Mr Highley, importer, trading as Exchange Traders.

Supplementary Decision

This decision is supplementary to that delivered on 6 December 1988 (decision No. 57/88) in respect of these publications and a number of other publications. In that decision 2 volumes of Tip Top were referred to in the body of the decision and each of those was classified as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years. Those volumes did not however appear in the supplementary heading in respect of that particular decision and to avoid any possible misunderstanding in relation to the Tribunal's decision we now confirm the R18 classification in respect of those 2 volumes.

In that same decision Tip Top International were said by the Tribunal to contain, in some of its issues, written material of a kind which causes considerable concern to the Tribunal.

"Because of that concern the Tribunal has deferred its decision in respect of that particular series of publications until after its next meeting in December 1988." The fact that final decision was not given was overlooked and it now falls for the Tribunal to make a decision in respect of the classification of those particular publications. The Tribunal has concluded that Tip Top International contains material of the kind which would be injurious to younger readers and classifies each as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years.

Before the Indecent Publications Tribunal

In the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the following publications: Model Celebrities, Issues No. 7 and No. 8:

Chairman: Judge R. R. Kearney.

Members: H. B. Dick, R. E. Barrington, A. J. Graham and K. A. R. Hulme.

Hearing at Wellington on the 11th day of October 1987.

Appearances: M. J. Wotherspoon for Comptroller of Customs. No appearance by or on behalf of either importer.

Decision

These 2 publications came before the Tribunal at its hearing in Wellington on 11 December 1987 (decision No. 57/89) and they were on the same file as publications P.F.I.Q. The P.F.I.Q. issues became the subject of a number of applications before the Tribunal and subsequent hearings in respect of them took place on the 14th day of April 1988 and the 26th day of April 1989. In the process of those supplementary hearings the fact that the 2 issues of Model Celebrities were originally before the Tribunal was overlooked and no final decision was issued in respect of those publications. The Tribunal at its meeting on 11 December 1987 following the hearing at Wellington had reached a conclusion that both of these publications required an age classification. We now give effect to that finding in this decision and because the publications contain material which in the Tribunal's view would be injurious to younger readers each of these publications is classified as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years.

Before the Indecent Publications Tribunal

In the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the following publication: Techniques of Making Love:

Chairman: Judge R. R. Kearney.

Members: R. E. Barrington, A. J. Graham and S. C. Middleton.

Hearing at Wellington on the 26th day of April 1989.

Appearances: M. J. Wotherspoon for Comptroller of Customs. Written submissions by General Manager of Doubleday New Zealand Ltd.

Decision

This publication was commercially imported through Auckland air freight on or about 7 December 1988 and was seized by the Collector of Customs. The importer having subsequently disputed forfeiture the publication was referred to the Tribunal for classification prior to the commencement of condemnation proceedings pursuant to the Customs Act 1966.

In his submission to the Tribunal Mr Wotherspoon on behalf of the Comptroller stated that the book was a high-quality presentation which purports to provide educational counsel on sexual techniques with an emphasis on personal relationships. The publication contains 96 pages of full colour photographs and only 30 pages of text. Mr Wotherspoon pointed out to the Tribunal that there was no index system and there was no page numbering which could create difficulties if the book was in fact to be used as a serious reference work. The Comptroller was also concerned with some of the over-explicit show of sexual intimacy between the models displayed and it was referred to the Tribunal with the suggestion that the Tribunal might wish to classify it as unconditionally indecent.

Subsequently several members of the Tribunal have made inquiries of people who are engaged in the role of sex therapists and similar people to ascertain from them whether this particular publication was in fact of a kind which could be used as a genuine therapist's manual in respect of counselling people with sexual problems.

There are aspects of the publication which cause the Tribunal concern but the information which we have is, although in some cases negative, largely in favour of the book being permitted for some special purposes in respect of sexual counselling. After a review of the previous authorities the Tribunal has reached the conclusion that rather than have a very limited classification an age restriction would suffice. Accordingly, the classification which the Tribunal imposes on this publication is that it is indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years.

Before the Indecent Publications Tribunal

In the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the following publications: Genesis, Holiday Issue 1989; Australian Penthouse Letters, No. 25; Australian Penthouse Sex Scenes, No. 1:

Chairman: Judge R. R. Kearney.

Members: R. E. Barrington, A. J. Graham and S. C. Middleton.

Hearing at Wellington on the 28th day of November 1989.

Appearances: M. J. Wotherspoon for Comptroller of Customs. G. F. Ellis, counsel on behalf of the publisher and importer.

Decision

These publications were commercially imported through parcel post, Auckland in October 1989 and were seized by the Collector of Customs. The importer having subsequently disputed forfeiture, the publications were referred to the Tribunal for classification prior to the commencement of condemnation proceedings pursuant to the Customs Act 1966.

Genesis, Holiday Issue 1989.

In decision 6/89 of 3 May 1989 the Tribunal issued a serial restriction order in terms of section 15A of the Indecent Publications Act 1963 classifying the publication Genesis as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years. Contemporaneous with this decision in respect of Genesis,

Holiday Issue 1989, the Tribunal has given a decision in respect of the publication Genesis, 1989, Vol. 17, No. 5, classifying that particular issue as unconditionally indecent, but for the reasons expressed in that decision not on that occasion cancelling the serial restriction orders.

In his submission Mr Wotherspoon for the Comptroller of Customs, mentioned that the issue presented to the Tribunal does not comply with the undertaking for the overprinting of the video review segment of the magazine, a section which contains pictures of heterosexual and female sexual activity and which undertaking to overprint resulted in the Tribunal granting a serial restriction order, classifying the publication Genesis as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years. Mr Wotherspoon also drew to the Tribunal's attention a segment entitled "Maybelline and Lucille" on pages 40-45 of the publication which includes multiple model scenes of sexual activity between 2 females. In his submission to the Tribunal Mr Ellis firstly invited the Tribunal (as he has on a number of occasions) not to classify the publication as indecent simply because one of the legs of the tripartite test had been breached. He also invited the Tribunal to consider whether in fact the activity displayed in the "Maybelline and Lucille" feature is of such a nature that it should come within the prescription of multiple sexual activity of models in that leg of the tripartite test. Mr Ellis also advised the Tribunal that the publication of this particular volume intended for sale did have the video review section overprinted and he provided a copy of that overprinting for the consideration of the Tribunal. For the same reasons expressed in the contemporaneous decision earlier referred to, the Tribunal finds this publication unconditionally indecent and so classifies it because of the "Maybelline and Lucille" feature.

Australian Penthouse Letters, No. 25.

The Tribunal agrees with the argument of the Comptroller of Customs supported by Mr Ellis and because there is content which would be injurious to younger readers classifies this publication indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years.

Australian Penthouse Sex Scenes, No. 1.

The Comptroller of Customs invites the Tribunal to classify this publication indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years, because of some of the scenes presented and that is supported by Mr Ellis. The Tribunal accordingly classifies this publication as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years.

Before the Indecent Publications Tribunal

In the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the following publication: True Blue, No. 8 (Soft Edition):

Chairman: Judge R. R. Kearney.

Members: R. E. Barrington, A. J. Graham and S. C. Middleton.

Hearing at Wellington on the 28th day of November 1989.

Appearances: M. J. Wotherspoon for Comptroller of Customs. G. Marr and G. Pene, representatives of publishers and distributors.

Decision

This publication was privately imported through parcel post, Auckland on 12 October 1989 and was seized by the Collector of Customs. The importer having subsequently disputed forfeiture the publication was referred to the Tribunal for classification prior to the commencement of condemnation proceedings pursuant to the Customs Act 1966.

True Blue is an Australian magazine of heterosexual orientation and consists principally of photographs of nude or partly clothed female models, short articles, cartoons and video reviews. The magazine is produced in 2 versions which are commonly called the "Soft Edition" and the "Hard Edition". Issues No. 3 and 4 of the soft version were referred to the Tribunal in October and November 1988 and were classified as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years in Tribunal decisions 36 and 49/88, and the Comptroller of Customs supports the classification on the same basis in respect of this edition.

Prior to the sitting of the publication Mr Marr and Mr Pene made available to the Tribunal copies of the following publications:

Beach Babies, No. 2.

Bra Busters, No. 3.

Big 'n' Bouncy, No. 3.

The Best of Boobs and Bums.

Naked Nymphs.

True Blue, No. 9 (Soft Edition).

Copies of those publications were also made available for consideration by the Comptroller of Customs.

At the hearing Mr Marr requested that the Tribunal give consideration to the issue of a serial restriction order classifying this line of publications, all of which contain different titles as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years. Mr Wotherspoon on behalf of the Comptroller of Customs supported that application.

The Tribunal has previously expressed in its decisions, in respect of the earlier editions of True Blue, its finding that the portrayal of the female nude figure in these publications is restrained, with no undue emphasis on the female genitalia. The Tribunal finds that same restrained display in all of the publications presently before it for consideration, and in respect of all of these publications, including those in the schedule, classifies them as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years and it is not required that those publications in the schedule should be the subject of separate application. The Tribunal is also satisfied that there is a consistency of presentation and that the serial restriction order should be and is issued with respect of these publications, classifying them as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years.

Because the publications are published under different titles the serial restriction order is to be confined to the Soft Edition publications which have at the top of the front cover the statement "ANOTHER HIGH CLASS AUSTRALIAN EROTIC MAGAZINE FROM THE TRUE BLUE STABLE".

General

Southland Regional Council

Public Works Act 1981

Notice of Intention to Take Land at Invercargill for River Control Purposes

Notice is hereby given that the Southland Regional Council, under the provisions of the Public Works Act 1981, requires to take the land (the land) described in the Schedule hereto for river control purposes to be used for construction on the land of the Otepuni Creek Flood Alleviation Detention Dam and for accumulation of water from time to time on the land in respect of such dam.

The reasons why the taking of the land is considered reasonably necessary are that the Otepuni Creek (which is subject to flooding) flows through and adjacent to the land and then continues to flow through Invercargill City. The detention dam is required to be built on the land to detain the peak flood discharge of the Otepuni Creek while allowing a controlled maximum flow to pass through Invercargill City in a designed flood channel. There is no other land in the Otepuni Creek catchment, except this land, which has the requirements of land contour and capacity for storage of water away from residential and commercial development for a detention dam.

Any person having an estate or interest in the land may within 20 working days after the date of this notice send an objection to the Registrar, Planning Tribunal, Tribunals Division, Justice Department, Private Bag, Wellington. If any objection is made in accordance with this notice, a public hearing will be held, unless the objector otherwise requires, and each objector will be informed of the time and place of the meeting.
